Hoover Pleads For Peace Preparedness In Address

SAYS NAVAL CUT CANNOT BE TOO LOW

President Would Place All Food Ships in Time of War Free From Attack

STRESSES GOOD WILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(UP)—America's traditional demand for freedom of the seas found new emphasis today in the capital's reverberations to President Hoover's bold proposal that food ships be free from all interference by blockade in time of war.

Linked with this far reaching proposal in his Armistice day address to the American Legion last night in Washington auditorium, the chief executive outlined the administration's positive policy of "preparedness for peace." Such a policy, he declared, is as important to every nation as preparedness for defense.

As to naval reduction, President Hoover declared it cannot go too low to please the United States.

The address, delivered under the auspices of the American Legion, was broadcast over a nation-wide radio chain.

"I would place all vessels laden solely with food supplies on the same footing as hospital ships," President Hoover declared. "The time has come when we should remove starvation of women and children from the weapons of warfare."

The suggestion strikes to the core of the age old problem of the freedom of the seas, for it would abrogate the right of any power to enforce a sea blockade against the civilian population of an enemy nation.

The blockade has been traditionally sustained by British foreign and naval policy since Drake carried the Union Jack to domination of the seas by his victory over the Spanish armada in 1588.

The president especially disavowed any intention of injecting the question into the forthcoming London naval conference. This followed a like statement by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in London Saturday. However, diplomatic observers inclined to the view today that the president's proposal must lead soon to at least informal exchanges between the principal powers on the whole subject of the war time law of the sea.

"I know that any wide departure from accepted ideas requires long and searching examination," President Hoover said. "No idea can be perfected except on the anvil of debate. This is not a proposition for the forthcoming naval conference, as that session is for a definite purpose, and this proposal will not be injected into it."

The suggestion was born, he said, of "poignant personal experence."

Its adoption "would constitute a most important contribution to the rights of all parties, whether neutrals or belligerents and would greatly tend toward lessening the pressure for naval strength."

For those who doubt the prac-

Nevada May Seek Dam Injunction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(UP) — Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, indicated today his state may seek cancellation by injunction of any contracts signed between the interior department and California interests for Boulder dam power unless Nevada demands are met.

Representatives of Nevada are insisting upon a provision in the contract that the state may withdraw smaller amounts of power than the 18 originally specified by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur and also that she be permitted to sell power outside the state.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO INSURE PEACEUL VOTE

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—(UP) —Stirred by further bloodshed in political riots at Vera Cruz, Leon, Guanajuato and Merida, Yucatan, the federal government prepared today to enforce by military precautions peaceful voting at the polls in Mexico's presidential election next Sunday.

Within 24 hours after Sunday's violent riot in Mexico City, reports were received of the wounding of 13 persons in clashes outside the capital.

Three followers of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, administration candidate for the presidency, were reported wounded in a pistol fight with supporters of the anti-reelectionist candidate, Jose Vasconcelos, in a cafe at Vera Cruz.

Official advices to the department of the interior said clashes had occurred between the Vasconcelistas and Oriz Rubio followers in Leon, Guanajuato and Merida, Yucatan. Five were wounded in each clash, the advices said.

The government instructions to the military included an order to troops of the federal district, comprising the capital and suburbs, to remain in their garrisons from now until after the election.

General Eulogio Ortiz, commanding the valley of Mexico, divided the district into military sectors and established patrols for each adjacent town. Companies will be held in readiness for transport in trucks to scenes of any disorders Sunday. General Ortiz warned the soldiers that they must remain impartial in the election, under pain of severe punishment.

While these preparations were under way, Dr. Manuel Puig Casauranc, chief of the federal district civil government, said that in accordance with the law, no troops or police could be dispatched to any polling place before the voting began. The law, he said, permits the sending of troops only after disturbances have started.

Acting Secretary of the Interior Felipe Canales announced after a conference with President Emilio Portes Gil that governors of all states would be asked to attempt the disarmament of every person except police and military.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN GETS UNDERWAY EARLY TODAY

ELEVEN KILLED IN STORM OFF ENGLISH COAST

Ships and Barges In Distress and Crew of 29 Reported Rescued

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(UP) — Gales and swift rain swept the south and west coasts of England early today after an all night storm of great intensity had battered vessels on the channel and caused many thousands of dollars of damage in coastal and inland cities.

There were 11 dead in the storm and the toll of casualties mounted steadily.

Many ships and barges were in distress or ashore along the south coast, including the Italian steamship Nimbo. The crew of 29 men was rescued from the Nimbo only after a rocket apparatus had been used to get lines aboard. A lifeboat that put out from Newhaven was unable to approach the 3870 ton ship because of the high seas.

Hundreds were marooned in their homes by floods, particularly in Wales where the Rhondda valley suffered heavy damage. The storm was severe throughout the British isles.

The towns of Porth, with 30,000 population, and Trehafod reported the flood waters from the Rhondda valley was 10 feet deep and damaging ships and houses. The storm continued early today, increasing the danger to the towns and marooned residents.

The Dee, Severn and Wye rivers, as well as the Rhondda, flooded large areas of farm land, drowning many head of livestock. All Cumberland service was disrupted in many sections, all airplane service was halted last night and communication lines were damaged.

The wind, which reached a velocity of 85 miles in other sections, tossed and battered ships on the channel throughout the night. The Belgian government steamship Jan Breydel, with 72 passengers aboard, was forced to anchor near Dunkirk because of rudder trouble. It was lashed by waves 30 feet high all night. Thirty ships were in shelter off Ramsgate, unable to ride the hurricane seas of the channel.

COMMUNITY CHEST APPEAL

In addition to that body of public-spirited and unselfish men and women who have volunteered for service and now are soliciting subscriptions to the Community Chest fund, one other enlistment is essential to the success of the campaign, viz. the CONSCIENCE OF SANTA ANA.

The youth of our community constitutes our most precious asset; the relief of our unfortunate is our duty and obligation; the welfare and relief agencies concerned are worthily and economically administered, and the budget fixed is less per capita than that contributed in past years by the average Pacific Coast community.

The ABILITY of this community to contribute the sum asked is universally conceded. Success is merely a matter of CONSCIENTIOUS as contrasted with "get-by" subscriptions. It is most earnestly urged that the silent monitor be a partner in the Community Chest subscription this week.

W. A. TAYLOR,
President, Santa Ana Community Chest.

HUGE REWARDS OFFERED FOR TRAIN ROBBERS

Search for Bandits Extended Into Three States By Postal Authorities

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—(UP) —Search for the men who wrecked the West Coast Limited of the Southern Pacific and then robbed its passengers near Saugus Sunday night had spread to three states today.

The hunt centered here although Arizona and Nevada authorities were called upon to keep a close lookout for the road agent who endangered 100 lives to gain $300 in loot.

The search was quickened today when the post office department added $5,000 reward to that already announced by the Southern Pacific. The Southern Pacific announced it would pay $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of each participant in the train holdup.

The post office department indicated in posting its reward that one man carried out the wrecking and robbing plot. Other authorities have said that from one to four men took part in it.

The local sheriff's office claimed an excellent description of the bandit who went through the coaches taking valuables from passengers at the point of a gun.

Through a coat he evidently discarded in his flight toward Saugus they said they had discovered his name and they promised an early arrest.

His description was broadcast through the three states but officers were of the opinion he would be found in Los Angeles.

Near the topcoat which trailers located was a pair of gloves, commonly worn by trainmen. The finding of the gloves strengthened the belief that a disgruntled employee was associated with the act of vandalism.

The opinion was based originally on the expert manner in which he weakened the rails so that they gave way when the West Coast limited attempted to pass over.

Engineer Richard C. Ball, scalded by steam from the engine boiler as he was pinned in the wreckage when the engine, baggage car and smoker plunged off the rails and into a ditch, was reported recovering today. He was the only person injured.

EXPLOSIVES FOUND UNDER MOVIE STAGE

Further search of studio sets nearby revealed 50 pounds of powder, some fuses and other electric detonators.

Police were called by the watchman and were of the opinion the bomb was placed about two months ago. It was believed that the bombers had been frightened away before completing their work.

Officials of the studio were to be questioned today in an effort to learn if there had been any trouble at the studio.

First Report Will Be Made On Wednesday

Meeting Tomorrow Will Be With Kiwanis Club at Inn at 12 o'Clock

THE annual Community Chest drive swung off on the wings of the wind today and leaders are looking forward to a fine report at the first official meeting with the Kiwanis club tomorrow noon at St. Ann's Inn. The reports will be made by divisions, with the totals listed on a large blackboard, to show the progress that has been made during the first day and a half of the four-day campaign.

"Be a good neighbor" is the slogan of the drive for funds with which the work of the nine member agencies will be conducted during the ensuing year, and Chest leaders are asking that the citizens of Santa Ana observe that in two ways—first by contributing as generously as possible for the assistance of those less fortunate than the donors, and second, by making the task of the solicitors as easy as possible by treating them like good neighbors when they call.

E. B. DeGroot, executive secretary of the Los Angeles council of the Boy Scouts of America, is to be the speaker tomorrow at the joint meeting with the Kiwanis club, and the Chest workers are expecting a worth while message from this leader who is an active member of the Chest in Los Angeles. The noon meeting will be brief, it was announced today by R. R. Miller, secretary-manager of the Santa Ana Chest, with the workers to be dismissed at 1:20. The meeting is to commence at 12 o'clock.

The industrial division of the Chest workers was organized in a meeting at Chest headquarters, 510 North Broadway, at 11 o'clock today, when the various team members met and were given their prospect cards and instructions. Harry D. Riley, chairman of the industrial division, presided at the take off meeting of his group.

MAN HELD IN EUREKA ON KIDNAPING COUNT

Wilbur Mason, 21, formerly of Garden Grove, today was being held in Eureka Calif., on a charge of kidnaping a 14-year-old Garden Grove girl, for whom the sheriff's office here has been searching throughout Southern California for several weeks, Herman Zabel, of the sheriff's force announced this morning.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan was to leave here this afternoon for Eureka to return the man and the girl to Orange county.

Following the first announcement that the girl was missing from her home, a trip was made by relatives of the girl to Imperial county on a tip that the couple might be found there. Since that time, according to Zabel, a quiet investigation has been going on, which resulted in the man's arrest by Eureka authorities last night.

Lloyd Pantages, a son, said that his mother was much cheered by the visit. Mrs. Pantages has been ill since her manslaughter conviction in the automobile crash death of Juro Rokumoto. She was paroled recently.

BOOTLEG RING UNCOVERED BY FEDERAL MEN

Information Alleged to Involve Names of Nationally Known People

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1929, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Information alleged to involve a number of nationally prominent men and women in large liquor transactions was before the justice department today, the United Press learned authoritatively.

The case closely interlocks with the government's New York indictment against Count Polignac, head of the Go-Bart company and representative of a foreign champagne company, on a charge of conspiracy to violate the dry law and of alleged smuggling of liquor.

It was also understood details in the case had been sent to the White House.

The case involves the operations of an alleged bootleg ring, its customers, and the activities of federal officers.

The justice department has received from the prohibition bureau data that a prominent New York business man had a bootleg ring smuggle 245 cases of liquor from abroad to his suburban estate. Later the man, after dry agents learned of his cache, surrendered the liquor and it is now stored at the army base in New York.

This information, together with

MRS. FALL TO FIGHT VERDICT OF JURORS

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 12.—(UP) —Mrs. Albert B. Fall, wife of the former secretary of interior, said today she is determined to make a relentless fight to upset the conviction of her husband of bribery charges, which she stoutly maintains were brought against him "by his enemies."

She pointed to the story told her by Daniel Weisbach, a member of the jury that convicted Fall, that he was "bullied" into his vote through the efforts of Thomas E. Norris, jury foreman, as a substantiating factor that her husband is innocent.

Mrs. Fall said Weisbach told her he finally decided to vote for conviction because he was worried about his wife, who was an expectant mother. She said Wiesbach came to her and asked "forgiveness for the terrible mistake I have made."

Heavy Wind From Desert Scatters Sand Over Roads

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 12.—(UP)—A heavy wind blew in from the desert today, causing minor damage in this vicinity and scattering sand over the country side.

Radio aerials and hanging signs were blown down here while trees were damaged in some instances. The highway commission reported that all roads were open although sand was spreading on some.

Redlands and Ontario were other cities to report the windstorm.

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE CLIPPED OFF

BIG ISSUE DROPS

United States Steel After Upward Swing Is Hit by Traders and Falls Off

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(UP)— All efforts to stay continuation of the reaction on the stock exchange proved unavailing today. Prices crashed to new low levels for the year and several billion dollars were clipped from values.

United States Steel fluctuated over a broad range, came near its low for the year and was bid up sensationally; but the rally failed to hold and the issue came down faster than it had advanced.

Steel was carried to 163½ from a low of 157¼. It only stayed at that point momentarily and then sank point after point until it broke through its old low of the year of 167⅛. From there the descent was precipitous, and the whole market was thrown into confusion.

Tickers were running three-quarters of an hour late.

At 11:30 steel was at 153½, according to quotations carried on the bond tickers. At that price it was off 6 points or about $48,000,000 in market valuation.

Other prices at 11:30 included General Electric 185½ off 7½ and a new low for the year; Union Pacific 201 off 14; Westinghouse Electric 110 off 8⅜; American and Foreign Power 55 off 6.

Dealings were again very active. In the first half hour sales totaled 1,556,900 shares, more than double the same period of yesterday. At noon the total reached 4,234,000 shares, compared with 1,644,100 shares for the same period yesterday.

Shortly after noon stock tickers were trailing 52 minutes behind actualy quotations and curb tickers were more than a half hour late.

Bond trading was heavy, sales to noon totaling $11,324,000 against $7,603,000 in the first two hours yesterday.

STAR TROJAN BACK IN L. A. HOSPITAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—Harry Edelson, great defensive halfback of Southern California, will not be with his teammates when they take off tonight for Chicago where they meet Notre Dame Saturday.

calls throughout the night, the Dungeness lifeboat crew being caught in great danger while aiding another boat. It was aided by other lifeboats.

The Southern Railway steamship Canterbury crashed into a harbor embankment entering Dover and the passengers were thrown into a panic when the lights went out.

A troops train was derailed at Headcorn, Kent, and several other trains were derailed, one north of Porth. Passengers from Cardiff and Swansea were marooned when floods surrounded the station. Several air liners were forced to make emergency landings.

The giant dirigible R-101, moored at Cardington, faced a gale of 83 miles an hour. The entire crew was summoned aboard the ship and the it rode the storm splendidly, the air ministry announced. Officials said the dirigible performance was outstanding in airship history.

The dangerous situation at Porth was caused by collapse of a wall along the Rhondda river, permitting the water to rush into the low sections of the town. The main street was flooded and houses, shops and the post office were partly under water. Hundreds of persons were marooned in the upper stories of their homes, most of them in their bedrooms where they were asleep when the storm started.

Scores of houses at Trehafod, a mile distant, were partly under water and the rain continued.

The gale increased in force in London between 2 a. m. and 3 a. m. and was severe at dawn. Despite the storm crowds continued to visit the cenotaph and leave flowers in memory of the war dead until late in the night.

HOOVER PLEADS FOR HUGE CUT IN ALL NAVIES

ticability of the ideas he recalled that the Belgian relief commission, which he headed himself for more than three years, delivered more than 2000 shiploads of food through two rings of blockade continuously through the full duration of the war.

Reviewing the events which led to the calling of the London conference, the chief executive declared that the United States was ready to reduce her navy in proportion to any other power.

"Having said that," he continued, "it remains for the others to say how low they will go. It cannot be too low for us."

Recalling the "high purpose for which we entered the war," Mr. Hoover outlined "the new vision of diplomacy which is dawning upon the world."

"We desire to see all humanity relieved of the hideous blight of war and of the cruelties and injustices that lead to war," he said, adding the outlook for peace is brighter today than for half a century, but the world still lives in a state of "armed peace."

"The men under arms, including active reserves, in the world are almost 30,000,000 in number, or nearly 10,000,000 more than before the war.

"Aircraft and other instruments of destruction are far more potent war."

The great task of statesmanship today, the president asserted, is to achieve peace through organized effort, without sacrifice of national independence or those broad principles of international justice which are the foundation stones of civilization itself.

"This road requires preparedness for defense; it, equally requires preparedness for peace."

Mr. Hoover said the state department should be strengthened and supported as a great arm of government "dedicated to the organization of peace."

Excerpts from his address follow:

"We have need to define the rules of conduct of nations and to formulate an authoritative system of international law."

"We have need, under proper reservations, to support the world court."

"We are interested in all methods that can be devised to assure the settlement of all controversies between nations."

"It has been my cherished hope to organize positively the foreign relations of the United States on this high foundation and to do it in reality, not simply in diplomatic phrases."

Mr. Hoover said that important as are * * * the Kellogg pact and other recent treaties as steps toward world organization for peace the persistent development of good will and confidence between peoples still must be the transcendant aim of diplomacy.

data that a prominent moving picture star, a former diplomat, and several nationally prominent women, were the "best customers" of the bootleg ring had been turned over to United States District Attorney Tuttle at New York.

Tuttle is expected to decide, after court action on the Count Polignac case, whether conspiracy indictments will be sought against the customers of the ring.

Federal agents are working also to determine whether the steamship company which transported liquor—1100 gallons smuggled in as dinner ware and 85 cases as earthenware—should be prosecuted.

Meantime an investigation has started to learn whether prohibition or custom agents connived with the bootleg ring. It was learned federal officers believe they were acting as under cover sleuths in tracing the shipments.

At least one of the customers of the ring, it was learned, furnished trucks to the liquor smugglers so the whiskey and rare cordials could be transported from his estate to a federal store depot when his purchases were detected.

Carbon copies of orders taken from prominent customers of the rum ring have been seized by the government and held pending determination of the case.

Names of persons known to millions of newspaper readers were on the order sheets.

MAN NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH AS HOME BURNS

A. B. McDonald, 60, of Seventh and Acacia streets, Huntington Beach, narrowly escaped burning to death at 1 o'clock this morning, when he awoke to discover his house a mass of flames.

McDonald leaped out a second story window and broke his right leg. When firemen and officers arrived and pushed McDonald's car from the garage they discovered the man in his machine.

In the kitchen of the home officers said they discovered six five-gollon kegs of wine, which were removed to the police station. McDonald was brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Despite a stiff wind, firemen were able to prevent adjoining property from burning.

The McDonald home was reduced to ashes. It was a large frame structure and McDonald was the sole occupant. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Court Notes

W. T. Dollar, restaurant proprietor, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to commit murder, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning. Bail was left at $200. Dollar is charged with assaulting G. H. Farrington, a dishwasher, with a pistol on the night of October 18.

Charged with being drunk in the Delhi dance hall, Sunday night, Joe Hernandez, of Delhi, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail and his "dancing-license" suspended for one year, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning. The suspension of the "dancing license" means that Hernandez cannot go to the dance hall for a year.

George Johnson and Roy Mieler, of Los Angeles, arrested by Vernon Barnhill, state traffic officer, Sunday night, were fined $150 each and their drivers' license suspended for one year by Justice Kenneth Morrison this morning. Tells Dyspeptics What to Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce excessive stomach acidity and consequent indigestion. By omitting from daily meals those foods that experience proves do not agree and limiting the diet to certain tasteless unappetizing foods, stomach troubles may in many instances, be slowly overcome. Nine times in ten, however, indigestion, gas, etc., are due to excessive acidity and the premature souring of food in the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by freeing it of this extra acid and then sufferers can eat the foods they like best and as much as they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after every meal a little Bisurated Magnesia, which can be had at any good drug store in either powder or tablet form. Bisurated Magnesia instantly neutralizes stomach acids, stops food fermentation and meals digest as naturally and painlessly as in the stomach of a healthy child. Stomach comfort means a lot and most folks like good things to eat. Enjoy them both by making Bisurated Magnesia your daily after-eating protection.—Adv.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

When you cease giving undue attention to the impression you hope you are making upon other people, affectation will disappear from your speech and manners and the charm of your real self will re-assert itself. The glorious thing about it is that you will be so much happier.

There is a subconscious sense of slavery resultant upon the all-too-prevalent habit of dwelling upon other people's opinion of you and upon their appreciation of what you are going through.

Forget it. Face your problems simply and naturally, and quietly do your best without wearing your heart on your sleeve. There is so much for you to do that you must not pause to pose.

AMBULANCE ON WAY TO WRECK SCENE CRASHES

Nine persons were reported injured in five traffic accidents in Orange county over Armistice day With one exception, none of those injured is believed to be in a serious condition.

A Mexican, Tom Barone, 25, of 2425 South Avenue 18, Los Angeles, almost bled to death from a severe cut in his neck before he could be rushed to the Orange County hospital from near La Habra, where the car in which he was riding collided with another machine.

The man with whom he was riding, Cruz Garcia, 29, of 449 Salvana street, Los Angeles, was arrested by State Traffic Officers Barnhill and Sawyer and is being held in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. A county hospital ambulance, rushing to remove Barone to the hospital, was involved in a crash en route to La Habra.

Two Girls Hurt

The Garcia machine was reported to have collided with a machine driven by D. F. Haines, of La Habra. In Haines' car were Marjorie and Dorothy Widick, both of whom were reported hurt. They were not brought to the hospital, however.

The ambulance drived by Frank Merrill, of the Orange County hospital, crashed into a car driven by F. A. Martin, of 220 Otis building here, on the way to the scene of the accident, on Placentia boulevard near the county fair grounds. No one was reported hurt in the accident.

Merrill reported at the sheriff's office that one car which he said was to blame for the accident, failed to heed the siren or the red light on the ambulance. After the crash, Merrill reported, he gave chase to the car which he believed responsible for the wreck and, overtaking the machine, obtained the driver's name and address.

Hospital authorities said today that Barone's condition was serious but that he would live. Loss of blood caused the serious condition, it was reported, the man suffering from a severed artery in his neck.

Frank Parker, of 944 1-2 Oxford street, Los Angeles, was treated in the Santa Ana Valley hospital last night for cuts and bruises received when he was run down by an automobile driven by A. B. Rankin, of 3544 Thirty-second street, San Diego, at a point on the state highway three miles south of Tustin.

Was Changing Tire

A report of the accident was on file at the state traffic office today, having been made by D. D. Adams, state officer. Parker was changing a tire at the side of the road when the Rankin machine struck him while attempting to go around another machine, Adams reported.

E. E. Campbell, 43, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, driving his car on Chapman avenue, Sunday, collided with a machine driven by E. W. Briggs, of route No. 2, Anaheim, according to a report made at the office of the state traffic department today. Briggs was slightly injured in the accident.

Mrs. Lois Dubb, 29, of 3441 Hunter street, Los Angeles, and her 4-year-old son, Ronald, were treated in the Orange County hospital, yesterday, for injuries received in an automobile accident near Orange.

The boy was cut on the left cheek and Mrs. Dubb suffered injuries to her arms, it was reported.

Elizabeth Staes, 21, of 1520 East Eighty-seventh place, Los Angeles, was cut about the face in an automobile accident in Orange yesterday. She was taken to the Orange County hospital.

Carl Sewell, of 3447 Forty-fourth place, San Diego, was given medical treatment in the Orange County hospital yesterday for an injured knee, received when he fell off his motorcycle on the highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

AUTOIST VICTIM OF DARING HOLDUP MEN

Two men, who appeared to be foreigners, robbed Leo C. Hughs, 20, of 904 North Olive street, Anaheim, of $4.50 last night, and then forced their victim to drive them to Fullerton, according to a story Hughs told officers.

Hughs claimed that as he was driving his car in an alley, two men appeared and ordered him to give them his money.

After the robbery, Hughs said, they made him drive to Fullerton, where the bandits alighted and boarded another car.

BICYCLE CRAZE BACK IN FAVOR OF PARISIENNE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Bicycling has come back into favor with a bang among fashionable women and the Bois de Boulogne these days recalls the Victorian scene when the world in general and women in particular went cycling crazy.

The bicycle, according to those who ought to know; turned the first wheel as it were on the road towards feminine emancipation and therefore it is appropriate that the women should turn again and resurrect the machine which everyone thought had passed for ever from popularity.

A certain American film star—Mary Pickford—is responsible for the bicycle's revival. Mary has been spending a few months' vacation in Paris recently and one day she was caught by a photographer in the early hours of the morning bicycling around the Bois de Boulogne. The few passers-by stared in curiosity but did not recognize the film idol. That was for the knowing photographer.

The picture of the smiling star awheel in the fashionable Bois appeared in all the Paris newspapers and gave an odd thrill to feminine France, evoking memories of the times when the road to Auteuil and Longchamp was a happy highway where bicycles and barouches—with the inevitable plum-pudding dog plodding alongside—mingled in leisured speed. Then the smell of petrol, the roar of auto motors were unknown and undreamed of.

Health Crusade

Largely, too, the new health crusade in France has given an impetus to the bicycle mode for women. This crusade has seen the creation of innumerable health and naturist centers. But many women, not interested in these centers, yet wanted to follow the new cuilt in a milder form. Tired of automobiles and the clash and din of the streets and roads, they have taken to the bicycle as a means of health and pleasure which everyone had forgoten.

Apparently the craze will not be a passing fancy. The big cycle manufacturers in France are working at full pressure turning out women's bicycles and it is predicted that the time may come when France will rival the northern, particularly the Scandinavian countries, for the number of bicycles per head of population.

Which explains why the manufacturers here feel intensely grateful to the cinema star who decided to go awheel in the early mornings amongst the leafy glades of the quiet Bois.

A Sheep, a Frog a Duck, a Skunk, to market went one day, and not one of that Fair Crowd had the means wherewith to pay. The Sheep he had four quarters, the Frog a green back had; the Duck a bill, but the only scent the poor Skunk had was bad.

HESEMAN MAY HEAD NEWPORT YACHTING CLUB

In anticipation of the annual election of officers of the Newport Harbor Yacht club to be held in the clubhouse in East Newport on Saturday night, December 7, the nominating committee met late last week and made a selection of names to present formally on that occasion.

Of special interest to all who have appreciated the services of Leon Heseman, of Riverside, as secretary over a period of several years, will come the news that he has been selected as the official nominee for the position of commodore to succeed D. F. Axelson, incumbent. Alfred E. Rogers was named as vice commodore, while Axelson will automatically take the position of rear commodore. W. C. Evans was the chosen nominee for the treasureship, while a list of eight directors was proposed, from which the members will choose four, those receiving the most votes to be placed in office.

The eight names submitted were C. E. Huffman, Frank S. Hutton, W. H. Rohl, George B. Shattuck, E. B. Shideler, G. L. Stimson, James M. Webster and L. R. Wilson. These men represent various cities and communities in the Southland, for the Newport club draws its membership from Los Angeles and Riverside counties as well as from Orange county. George B. Shattuck is the single Santa Ana man represented on the proposed list of officers.

MOOSE LODGE WILL CONDUCT MEMBER DRIVE

Santa Ana lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose tomorrow night will open a membership campaign in which it is expected to add several hundred new members to the local lodge. Members have secured the services of J. F. McCracken, supervisor, to conduct their campaign. He has had 14 years' experience in membership campaigns and instituting new lodges for the order and is considered one of the most successful men in the organization department of the Moose. He is also active in a number of other fraternal organizations.

Wednesday evening, November 27 the lodge will initiate a large class of candidates, with special entertainment and a banquet after the meeting. The degree staff and drill team from San Pedro will have charge of the initiation, and there will be delegations present from Long Beach, Anaheim, San Bernardino, Pomona, Whittier and Los Angeles.

James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the president's cabinet, was founder of the Moose and is director general of the order. The order maintains the world's largest vocational school for widows and orphans of members. Since it was established in 1913 over twelve millions of dollars have been spent in building "Mooseheart," where 1700 children and 300 mothers are accommodated at present with several hundred having already been graduated from the school. "Moosehaven," located near Jacksonville, Fla., is the home for aged and infirm members of the order.

The local lodge pays sick and death benefits and has other special benefits for its members. During the approaching campaign a special dispensation has been granted to the lodge from the supreme lodge to reduce the regular initiation fee. Campaign headquarters will be maintained at 310 Bush street and at the Moose hall.

TICKETS FOR 'LA TRAVITA,' TO BE PRESENTED HERE ON NOVEMBER 26, GO ON SALE

Sale of tickets for Santa Ana's premiere presentation of Verdi's famous grand opera, "La Traviata," scheduled for presentation Tuesday night, November 26, in the Fox Spurgeon theater by the Orange County Grand Opera company, opened this morning in the Santa Ana Book store.

A popular scale of prices, ranging from $1 to $2.50, has been set for this event, thus making enjoyment of real grand opera here possible for all at rates hitherto unavailable even in the large cities, where grand opera is a much-anticipated annual treat.

Noting the eagerness with which reservations have been coming in from all parts of the county the last two weeks, those in charge of tickets for the operatic performance urge that the public not postpone securing tickets for this event as soon as possible, to avoid last-minute disappointment.

Rehearsals of the entire score of "Traviata" are being held at regular and frequent intervals in Los Angeles by the entire cast of the opera company, preparatory to this brilliant entertainment which music lovers here anticipate will be one of the most momentous events in Santa Ana musical progress.

Several Santa Ana, persons who have been so fortunate as to have been allowed to attend recent rehearsals of "Traviata" in Los Angeles, do not hesitate to speak in glowing terms of the noted artists composing the cast, also the capable directors in charge, Guido H. Caselotti, founder and director of the company; D. C. Cianfoni, officiating as musical director, and the large chorus of 50 singers, some of whom have been chosen from Orange county's own talented artists.

It is interesting to note that music for "La Traviata" was entirely composed by Verdi, king of Italian operatic composers, within a months' time, being written at the height of his creative activity. It first was presented in eVnice, on March 6, 1953. Its New York premiere occurred three years later, on Dec. 3, 1856.

Recent years have brought many notable productions of this famous opera, which is one of the most universally favored in all operatic repertoire.

The most famous singers, both of the past generation and the present day, including Patti, Melba, Tetrazzini, Farrar, Gluck, Sembrich, Hempel, Caruso and McCormac, have been proud to fill leading roles in "La Traviata."

The celebrated Adelina Patti's operatic debut was made in "Traviata," as well as Mme. Tetrazzini's first appearance both in New York and London.

Vocally speaking, the leading role of Violetta, to be filled here on November 26 by Mme. Maria Caselotti, is an admirable one for display of marvelous colortura. It is likewise a role demanding the highest degree of emotional warmth and dramatic instinct, qualities for which Mme. Caselotti already has won enviable renown, both in Europe and eastern musical centers.

More and More COLDS treated externally

A GENERATION ago when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, more and more colds are treated this modern way, and the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks, because it checks colds without risk of upsetting delicate little stomachs. Of course it is equally good for adults. Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

To keep pace with the ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds, the famous Vick slogan has again been changed, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Women Have Something to Say!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has ridiculed into oblivion that ancient prejudice which excluded women from a voice in council. Today, in millions of homes, the delicious flavor of LUCKY STRIKE fills the room as the family group respects the opinion of its women folk.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

COLLEGE COSTS WILL BE TOLD BY COMMITTEE

Pointing out that committees are expected to present reports on the probable cost of a junior college for the south half of the county and to suggest a curriculum, H. A. Lake, chairman of the committee on education of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, today urged full attendance at the meeting of the committee to be held in the music room in the Santa Ana high school, at 7:30 p. m., Thursday.

Boards of education of high schools and trustees of grammar schools of the county, the board of supervisors and educators generally have been invited to attend the session. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The committee appointed at a previous meeting to suggest a curriculum, has visited the Chaffey, Riverside and San Bernardino junior colleges and has secured curriculum information upon which to base the report to be submitted Thursday night.

The subcommittee on possible costs of instituting and maintaining a junior college in the south half of the county also has been making investigations and its report is expected to give valuable information on costs.

Representatives of the various school bodies of the county have been called into the meeting so that those directing school operations may get better acquainted with some of the details.

NOTICE TO CITIZENS

Living along or near the new Bus routes

While we have not taken off any territory formerly covered by the Pacific Electric, we have added two miles of new streets by making loop trips out of both the West Second and East Washington lines. On the West Second line, we are now covering Ross street from Fourth to Sixth, Sixth to Bristol, Bristol to Eighth, Eighth to Artesia, and Artesia to Fourth. We then return to the business center via Artesia, Second, Parton and Fourth. On the East Washington line, we are covering Logan street and Fruit street to Minter. Under our permit from the city, a line that is operated for 90 days and proves to be losing money, can be taken off. This is done that operations over unprofitable territory may not cripple or destroy the entire service.

We urge you who live on or near the new lines to use the busses at once so we may know whether the new streets can be covered with profit and become permanent lines. This is to your advantage. Your property is of more value both from a sale or rental standpoint, if you can say that a bus runs near you from 32 to 50 times each day. If you will learn the bus hours and get the bus habit, you will find it a great convenience. From a strictly business viewpoint, it would be a good investment to buy a few bus tokens each month and give them away if you could not use them. Not to help the bus operator but to help keep the busses running near you instead of having them run in some other part of the city.

WIFE BEATER GETS COUNTY JAIL TERM

Beating up his wife failed to prove such a pleasant pastime for Harry Rutherford, of 513 East Chartres street, Anaheim, who today was in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court charged with being drunk and assault and battery.

He was sentenced to serve 90 days on the assault charge and 30 days on the drunk charge after he had entered a plea of guilty to both counts.

Rutherford was arrested by State Traffic Officers Adams and Yoder when the officers passed near Chapman avenue and Haster street, where the beating is said to have occurred.

They arrested Rutherford then and his wife yesterday signed a complaint against him. She was not in court this morning.

SELECTING BRIDAL LINENS

In choosing from the bewildering range of patterns and colors which make the new damask so interesting this season, the autumn bride should visualize the ensemble effect of china, silver, glass and linen, advises the November American Home.

The bride who furnishes her dining room in the pine, maple, or cherry of early pioneer days will delight in the "Good Ship Mayflower" pattern on her tablecloth.

The home with the more ceremonious furnishings of a later era calls for such patterns as the Indian Scroll or the distinctive motifs of Chippendale or the Adam brothers to complement its mahogany.

For the modernistic room, a cloth reflecting this vivid influence from its well-styled and interesting geometric pattern may serve as the background for the radical notes in the twentieth century glass and china.

FIRST AIR BABY

It wasn't an air male, as might be supposed, but a 7 1-2 pound daughter who was born to Mrs. Margaret Evans in an airplane flying 1200 feet above Miami, Fla. The mother and the baby "airess" are picture above after the first aerial birth on record. In the "flying maternity hospital"—a large cabin plane—were nurses, a doctor, relatives of the mother, and two pilots. An airy name is being sought for the child.

Guests in the V. L. Humeston home are H. B. Humeston, of San Bernardino, and mother-in-law, Mrs. S. T. Stanley.

Mr. Deaver, who has been ill in the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Ritner, of South B street, has been removed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where he is reported to be doing very nicely.

Recent guests of Mrs. Alice Albee Sunday were E. S. Rohr and Mr. and Mrs. Huston, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nielson, of First street, are mourning the loss of their nine-year-old son, who died at an Anaheim hospital yesterday morning. The child had been ill since Saturday.

An accident occurred Saturday evening at the corner of Pacific and First streets, when a coupe, driven by Mrs. Beras, of West Main street, collided with a touring car driven by Edwin Eisenhau, of Santa Ana. The Ford was struck just as the driver attempted to make a left hand turn from First street onto Pacific avenue. No one was reported hurt, but both cars were damaged.

REDECORATING POINTERS

Are you redecorating some of your rooms this fall? Choose wall coverings or papers with backgrounds of buff yellow, or salmon pink to warm rooms with northern exposures, and warm gray, yellow-green, or blue for southern.

Paint the woodwork white or the same color as the walls; the latter scheme, by eliminating a network of wood trim lines, helps to give a feeling of spaciousness and restfulness to a small room. If the ceiling is low, it should be the same color as the walls, or just a shade lighter; this is a great help in giving the effect of height.—From the November American Home.

PHYSICAL TEST OF PRE-SCHOOL KIDDIES URGED

By J. F. McLAUGHLIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 11.—Long periods of sickness, when school children fall behind in their grades, will be largely eliminated if a plan being tried by the state department of public health proves successful.

Physical examination of preschool children is the idea which the state department is developing. Nearly 13,000 California children, who entered school for the first time this fall, were given the examination.

Dr. W. M. Dickie, head of the state department, outlined the plan at the recent governor's council meeting.

"The provision of physical examinations for children who are about to enter school for the first time is productive of most beneficial results," he said.

"The state is spending vast sums of money for the education of its children. Those who are unable to attendschool because of poor physical condition constitute an economic waste involving the loss of large sums of money to the state.

"The correction of physical defects before entering school enables children to attend classes without interruption and enables them to carry on their school work successfully. Future losses to the state through possible indigency because of physical disability are thus prevented.

"A more immediate gain is the prevention of wastage of large amounts of school money. It is through the maintenance of high daily attendance and through uninterrupted attendance that school funds are greatly conserved."

Members of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the state department of public health, in co-operation with the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, conducted the examinations this fall.

Most of the children appearing before the bureau lived in rural districts of the state, where organized facilities for child care are not available. A total of 48 counties was covered by the bureau.

Examinations were conducted by competent physicians, many of whom donated their services. These doctors noted the condition of the heart, lungs, eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth and the weight and posture of the children.

Decayed teeth was the most common fault found among the children. The next most common defect encountered was diseased nose and throat. A large number of children were found to be under weight and faulty posture was common.

INQUEST TODAY INTO DEATH OF EFFIE WILSON

Inquest into the death of Effie Wilson, 46, of 1539 Fifth street, Santa Monica, who was killed Sunday morning when the automobile in which she was riding with several other persons plunged over the embankment at the overhead bridge near Galivan, will be held late this afternoon in the Divel Funeral parlors in San Clemente, Coroner Charles D. Brown announced.

The woman was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. Elizabeth Ashley, all of Los Angeles. Smith was driving the machine and was the only one not injured. Mrs. Smith received serious injuries. She was taken to Los Angeles, after receiving medical attention in the San Clemente hospital.

In its plunge of 40 feet, the car missed the end of the bridge only by inches, it was said. Smith reported that the curve leading to the bridge was sharper than he expected and that he couldn't make it.

Officers Seeking San Diego Child

Sheriff's officers and city police today were asked to search for Perry Woods, 14-year-old San Diego girl, who is missing from her home and who is believed to have headed this way in an old car. The girl is described as having red hair, weighs 125 pounds and is five feet, four inches in height. She was wearing a green skirt and cream colored shoes when last seen, it was reported.

Kitty Quill, who used to supply King Edward with flowers and was permitted to use the Royal Arms on her basket, died recently at Eastbourne, England, aged 68.

IF "ALWAYS TIRED," TRY THIS

A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "too tired" continually is a sign of something wrong. Watch your kidneys! If oppressed with backache and rheumatic stiffness, worn out with kidney and bladder weakness, take Foley Pills diuretic. Men and women everywhere use and recommend them. Miss Giddens, Hayneville, Ala., says: "Foley Pills diuretic have been a wonderful help to me, relieving me entirely of weakness, a "too tired" feeling, headaches and nervousness." Satisfaction guaranteed.

Courtesy Causes Laguna Visitor To Erect Residence

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 12.—Two examples of the advertising value of courtesy came to light this week.

A woman who spent five weeks in this community this summer told the state librarian of the courteous treatment and the interest shown in her work by Mrs. Herbert Case, librarian here. The visitor is now at the College of the Pacific at Stockton. The state librarian sent the letter to Miss Margaret Livingston, Orange county library head.

The other example is that of a visiter who wanted to rent a house. He inquired at a real estate office, was informed that that particular office did not handle rentals, but was personally conducted to one which specialized in this work. The visitor was so favorably impressed by this neighborly attitude and helpfulness that he returned to this city, purchased a valuable residential lot and has a large house in course of construction.

CAR ABANDONED ON NEWPORT HIGHWAY

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 12.—The police department is investigating the reason for the abandonment of a Rickenbacker automobile, license No. 1E-71-08, on the highway between Costa Mesa and Newport Beach, some time last evening.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, Nov. 12.—Mrs. G. C. Lyons and her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Fauntz, of San Pedro, were guests of Mrs. J. R. Yancey recently.

Mrs. Oliver Baker and daughter, Beatrice; Mrs. R. Sweezy and Mrs. Andrew Baker were guests of Mrs. Tommy Lyons of Long Beach, Tuesday.

Mrs. D. C. Bates is again able to be about the store. She was injured one day last week when a towel holder fell and cut her forehead. The doctor took five stiches to close the wound.

When I saw how Sargon took my wife off of crutches, drove rheumatic paints completely out of her body and made her almost like a new woman, I knew it was the medicine for me. And it was! Now my food tastes good, I sleep fine and feel as strong, well and full of energy as I did twenty years ago! Sargon Pills ended my biliousness and regulated me perfectly. TWO WELLS IN ATWOOD FIELD FLOWING SOON

ATWOOD, Nov. 12.—Efforts are being made by the Continental Oil company to put two wells on production, Lypps No. 1 and Winann No. 3. The latter was drilled to a depth of 4546 feet and after a week of pumping and bailing, a cement plug was put in the bottom and it is now being swabbed at 3800 feet. Fearing the same trouble with Lypps No. 1, it was plugged at depth of 4570 feet after being drilled to 487[illegible] feet and the 6 5-8 inch casing, with [illegible]00 feet of perforated liner was set, and the well is now being bailed. The Superior's two western test wells, Griffith No. 1 and Bennett No. [illegible] are drilling ahead at 3700 feet and 3100 feet respectively, and showings are said to look good. The Superior wildcat well, Davis No. 1, on Dowling road is up and will soon be ready to spud in.

ORANGE, Nov. 12.—Girl Reserves from three states, California, Arizona and New Mexico, will meet next fall in Orange for the annual convention of the organization city at this year's convention in Phoenix.

Three California cities competed for the event, Orange, Covina and Huntington Park. On the first ballot, Orange and Covina were tied, this city winning on the second ballot.

IRISH HOPE TO TRIM TROJANS. WIN U. S. TITLE

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Those fighting Irish from Notre Dame, inspired by success all during this season, come into Chicago next Saturday determined to continue on their way toward a national title.

They play Southern California, a team which was good enough to beat Stanford but which lost to California, and the Irish are of the belief that the Pacific coast team will fall before them just as other opponents have all season.

Notre Dame will rely chiefly for victory on unlimited reserve power and a backfield which numbers at least eight men who would be counted as regulars on other teams.

Have Great Record

The Irish have beaten Indiana, Navy, Wisconsin, Carnegie Tech, Georgia Tech and Drake and these victories have given them confidence enough to believe they can beat any team.

Southern California has a good team. It was good enough to trample all opponents until it met California and it even numbers among its successes a victory over that Stanford team which in early season was considered one of the best on the Pacific coast.

With one exception, the Southern

Musick, Durkee, Ward On Trojan Traveling Squad

will be able to play against the Irish.

The following players were scheduled to make the trip:

Tackles—Hall, Setiz, Hoff, Ward, Anthony, Bond.

Centers—Dye, Williamson, Neidhard.

Quarterbacks—Saunders, Duffield, Shaver, Chambers.

Fullbacks—Musick, Hill, Moses, Brown.

California squad is in good shape. "Rocky" Kemp came out of the Nevada game with a broken leg last week and that injury deprives the Trojans of one of its best reserve quarterbacks. However, March Duffield, the regular quarterback, already has demonstrated his staying powers and he probably will show endurance enough to stay in for the entire game Saturday.

Rockne Ailing

Notre Dame, with a squad in good shape, may be without the services of Coach Knute Rockne, who is suffering from an infected leg. Rockne still is confined to his home, seeing only his closest friends. His physicians say there is a chance of his coming to Chicago.

The game itself promises to be a battle between a great Notre Dame backfield and a fighting Southern California line. The Westerners will average more than 200 pounds to the man in the line. On the other hand, the Irish backfield has proven itself equal to every occasion and its sheer speed may wreck the Western defensive hopes.

Notre Dame numbers such good men in its backfield as Carideo, Savoldi, Elder and Mullin among others. The Westerners believe they can match this outfit with Duffield, Saunders, Hill and Musick.

CARDINAL STAR AND BRIDE

Manager Dan Cupid of the Matrimonial league signed a long-term contract with Taylor Douthit, star centerfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals and here are the newlyweds. Mrs. Douthit was formerly Miss Anne Jane Shelton of Kansas City, a graduate of the University of Kansas. They spent their honeymoon in Havana, Cuba, returning to California on the maiden voyage of the Panama Pacific liner, Pennsylvania.

PUNTS AND PASSES

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 12.—Members of the Stanford varsity have returned in more or less good condition from their trek to Seattle, although minor injuries may hamper the squad for a few days. The rough sand field up north left plenty of bruises and raw spots on the Stanford men, but no serious injuries were received. Captain Muller, Driscoll and Dawson, who were only able to play part of the game in Seattle, are expected to be in first class shape for the "Big Game" with California November 23.

OAKLAND, Nov. 12. — Jubilant over their victory over Santa Clara, Sunday, the St. Mary's varsity settled down to a few days' practice prior to leaving for Los Angeles to play U. C. L. A., next Saturday at the Coliseum. St. Mary's, which has not had its goal line crossed this season, and which has a tie with California—the conference leader, is likely to roll up a huge score against the Southerners.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12. — Coach "Nibs" Price is not allowing the California varsity to get the swelled head this week, with a tough game in sight when Washington sends her Huskies down here Saturday. Price has repeatedly warned his charges that Washington is coming with but one idea in mind—to beat California—and that school's showing against Stanford last week stopped all talk of the Northerners being a "set-up." Although California is undefeated, and a favorite to win, Price is taking care that over-confidence shall not be the cause of a defeat.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 12.—Regular practice for the University of Oregon grid machine until Friday has been distracted by Coach John McEwan. A light session Friday will wind up the Webfoot's training for the Oregon State classic Saturday. Stadelman, veteran center, will be the only regular out of the game. He suffered a broken ankle in the Idaho game.

DEAL BETWEEN GARDEN, RIVAL PROMOTER NEAR

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—One of those consolidations of interests, by which economy is served while combining the best features of both, is said to be under way today between the Madison Square Garden corporation and Humbert J. Fugazy.

The best features of Mr. Fugazy are few and inclined to be a little funny, but one of them is a duly recognized contract on Max Schmeling and another a four-way option on Victorio Campolo and, with the aid of these, Mr. Fugazy has been able to prostrate the heavyweight situation while doing himself no personal good all day long.

If he sells out to the Garden—and some say the deal already has been closed for $75,000—the former will take monopolistic charge of New York boxing for the first time since Rickard's death, and from the Garden's standpoint, the gesture can't come too soon, what with the way Chicago and other points have been cutting into the local play on feature matches.

Must Land Schmeling

The Garden has been licked plenty in its attempts to play the game the way Rickard did it. It figured to stay licked unless it could find a way to separate Schmeling from all the weinerschnitzel in Berlin. The reported sale by Fugazy is it.

According to its reputed terms, the Scott-Schmeling contract, which ran the latter out of America, is to go with the deal so, they say, do four contracts on Campolo's services and the managerial contract of Gustavo Lenevue, which ran Campolo so far south that Commander Byrd won't be able to find him before the spring freshets. These fighters, you know, can't forgive a manager for all they do to him.

Anyhow, if the transaction really turns out to be a transaction, the Garden will control four of the ranking five heavyweights, with a fair chance of lining up the fifth, Otto Van Porat. They have Sharkey, of course. Recently, they took title to Phil Scott. Now, unless the boxing commission can figure some way of putting the bowser on the thing, they are said to be about to take over Schmeling and Campolo.

Max May Balk

Of course, Schmeling may decline to be taken over. He is very unreasonable about being taken, even by experts, and so may decide to string with the reported offer of $250,000 from Atlantic City. That is a lot of money, even if you never count it; and, besides, he won't have to fight Phil Scott to get to it. Whereas, the Scott-Schmeling contract no doubt still goes in this state, regardless of who holds it. The commission has declared for Scott as Schmeling's next opponent, and he probably will be Schmeling's next opponent if they have to trundle him in there on an operating table.

This contingency never would have occurred to me if Mr. Scott himself hadn't made it possible. He has agreed to meet Mr. Van Porat here December 9.

The Garden, in any event, would find itself with quite a leverage on Schmeling if it closes a deal with Fugazy. It would mean that it held all the strings in this state and this young man perforce must come here sooner or later in an effort to do himself all the good he can.

MANY men have sought words to describe that "extra something" in Chesterfield.

It is there, undoubtedly . . . a "sparkle" of spicier aroma, an extra touch of flavor, a certain added "character," unmistakably Chesterfield's own.

No one word describes it—but only the most inexperienced smoker could fail to mark it. Between other cigarettes and Chesterfield, there is the clear-cut difference between just something to smoke and the cigarette that puts—

BUSINESS GOOD ON EAST COAST, CLAIMS FINLEY

General business conditions in the east appear good, there is an air of prosperity and no indication of discouraging situations, according to Col. S. H. Finley, who, with Mrs. Finley, returned yesterday from an eight-week trip through the east and south.

Finley toured through the south, touching Florida and other southern states. He declares that he saw no indication of the Mediterranean fruit fly in the citrus districts of Florida, the claim being made there that the pest had been eradicated.

Crops in the middle western states showed perceptibly the effect of the summer heat and drought, the returned traveler commented.

Finley, who is secretary of the Metropolitan water district, and who is deeply interested in water systems and development, had opportunity in New York of inspecting the aqueduct system there, the water being brought to the city from a point 200 miles distant. The aqueduct is similar to that which the Metropolitan district proposes building to make Colorado river water available to Southern California cities. The problems of building were similar to those that will obtain in the installation of the aqueduct here. Colonel Finley was the guest of Thaddeus Merriman, one of the nationally known engineers appointed to the consulting board of engineers of the Southern California aqueduct project. Finley made a complete inspection of the New York system with Merriman.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley left here by train, with Augusta, Me., as the extreme eastern objective. They visited their sons, Wendell, who is teaching business administration in Harvard; Knox, who is in his last year of a medical course in Yale, and Malcolm, who is studying medicine in Johns Hopkins university.

The Santa Ana travellers did a good portion of their journeying in an automobile, having purchased a new car in Michigan and driven home along the Atlantic seaboard. When they arrived home the car's speedometer registered 8500 miles.

Program—For First Concert Is Announced

Devotees of music throughout Orange county are assured a rare pleasure at the opening concert to be presented Tuesday, December 3, in the high school auditorium, by the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra, Prof. D. C. Cianfoni, director, has announced that his ensemble of 75 musicians rapidly is approaching perfection in its presentation of concert selections.

The symphony orchestra is composed of 20 violins, five cellos, two violas and wind instruments essential to the well balanced organization.

An overture by Rossini will open the concert. It is to be followed by Grieg's masterpiece, "Peer Gynt." Both selections are impressionistic of the composers' varying moods.

Guy Bevier Williams, who is said to be a worthy exponent of the Hungarian piano wizard, Liszt, will appear in the Concerto in E Flat. The composition is an inspiring interpretation of the impassioned Magyar race to which Liszt belonged.

Zhay Clark, harpist, will introduce the gaiety and melody of old Spain into the concert program by playing "Capriccio Espanole," as composed by Riminsky-Korsakoff.

Tickets soon will be placed on sale for the concert.

PEACE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS TO GOSPEL CLASS

Members of the Men's Community Bible class heard a stirring lesson on the subject of world peace at their service, Sunday morning, in the Fox-West Coast theater, when the class teacher, the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, talked on "World Peace Through Understanding."

The teacher prefaced his lesson by declaring that he believed that world peace was possible. "I believe in the Gospel of Christ and the greatness of God," the Rev. Mr. Buchanan asserted. "They are able to do all things. When the spirit of Jesus is in the hearts of mankind peace is bound to follow. Part of our task here in this class is to spread that spirit. God loves and wants us to cease hating and fighting each other.

"Napoleon said on St. Helena: 'The more I study this world, the more I am convinced of the inability of brute force to get anything done.' Our own Washington declared, in referring to war: 'My first wish is to see this plague to mankind banished from the world.' Sherman described it with the phrase: 'War is hell,' and that was reproved in the World war, when men were taught to hate each other, lives were blown out, blood shed, billions wasted and hearts broken. The war would not have taken place if the leaders of the nations had gotten together and talked it all over.

"You can't end war by prudence or by appealing to reason, saying that it will cost money, lives and business, although that will help. You can't end it by passing resolutions. Agitation that war is hell and preaching the Gospel of Christ is what will stop it. The love of God causes men to forgive and love mankind. That, in the hearts of men, will end war. It also will stop murder and thievery, all crime and sin and will result in the peace that Jesus came to bring."

Special music at the service Sunday was furnished by a women's quartet, composed of Mrs. Arthur Kemper, of Anaheim; Mrs. Jessie Johnson, Miss LaVerne Harrell and Mrs. E. H. Elsener. They sang "Come Power of God" and "All the Way."

Standings in the membership attendance drive remain unchanged, with Cashian in the lead, Kingrey second and Cook third. The regular weekly business meeting of the class will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the First Christian church.

ARMISTICE DAY REMEMBERED IN CHURCH MUSIC

A "Musical League of Nations" was featured at the Church of The Brethren Sunday night, in connection with the Armistice day worship service. Among the patriotic selections of other lands presented in the group were the prelude numbers as played at the organ by Miss Bertha Baker—the Italian national hymn, the Watch On The Rhine, and the Marseillaise. The congregation joined in community singing of the "America," after which Holland's national hymn and the "Blue Bells of Scotland" were played.

Two particularly inspirational selections were the choir's rendition of the Christian anthem, Immanuel," and a solo number, "Tenting Tonight," as given after the sermon by John Baker.

The Rev. Edgar Rothrock, pastor spoke on the sermon subject, "The Call of the World to America." He said in part:

"The whole world would like to live in America. To them our country is a land of Utopia. Were it not for our wisely enacted immigration laws we would be flooded with people from everywhere. In the days of St. Paul, citizenship in the Roman empire was prized highly even as American citizenship is now sought.

"The ebb and flow of peoples to and from Rome and her colonies undermined the Roman empire and hastened its decline and fall. Our country has determined to control the coming of foreign peoples and to protect the institutions which have made our country the envy of many nations. She has done well in this, but yet we owe to the world a debt that we ought to pay.

"The founders of our republic hoped to found a country where the individual citizen would have the privilege of living his life in freedom. President Hoover said upon his election to the highest office in the land, 'My country does not owe me anything. But I owe my country everything—for the opportunity to undertake and achieve.' More largely than any other government has ours persistently and continuously throughout the years maintained the institutions which not only protect the citizen in his just rights, but also challenge him to accomplish greater things for mankind than has yet been accomplished.

"The call of the world to America is to share these things with peoples everywhere. It may be almost a plagiarism, but we must say it again that America is the product of the Christian religion. This revolutionary faith in the principles of Jesus Christ will do for others what it has done for us. The Christian Sabbath, free schools, hospitals and a fair chance for the common laborer follow in the wake of the Christian missionary."

MEMBER CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY DISABLED WAR VETERANS

Having devoted themselves for several weeks to the work of developing a creditable showing in the Armistice day parade, in Huntington Beach, yesterday, members of Jack Fisher chapter, No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, now will turn their attention to increasing the roster of the organization, it was announced today by L. A. Riehl, commander.

Plans for the membership drive will be discussed at a meeting of the chapter at 7:30 p. m., tomorrow, in the American Legion hall. As other matters of vital importance are to come before the meeting, Commander Reihl is expecting a record attendance.

After the business has been disposed of members will be joined by the women's auxiliary of the chapter for an informal card party.

Discussing the campaign for new members, Commander Reihl said that "we want to show our national commander, William J. Murphy, that his home chapter is backing him in his efforts on behalf of all disabled men." He added that it is the hope of chapter officials to procure as a member every man in this vicinity who is eligible.

"National Commander Murphy is doing a wonderful work in the east, and especially in Washington, D. C., in the interest of disabled veterans, and will be able to accomplish more with the numerical strength of chapters increased," Commander Reihl said.

CONSTRUCTION WILL START IN NEXT 30 DAYS

The new exchange of the Associated Telephone company, Ltd., in New Westminster, will be in operation within eight months, it was announced today by C. F. Mason, senior vice president. A petition requesting the establishment of the exchange recently was granted by the state railroad commission.

Establishment of the exchange means that the present Huntington Beach system will be divided and that subscribers in the new district must pay a 10-cent toll charge in conversing with the Huntington Beach district.

The exchange will serve the section lying 500 feet north of Smeltzer road, going north to Stanton and taking in the communities of Bolsa, Midway City, Westminster, Barber City and New Westminster.

The Associated company announced today that it was exercising its option on a lot located just west of the building at the southwest corner of Westminster boulevard and Seventeenth street and would start construction work within 30 days.

Approximately 150 residents of the district held a protest meeting last August, when the railroad commission conducted a hearing in New Westminster.

Recent Biographies Are Reviewed By Mrs. Vallely

Basing her talk on the visions of Garibaldi as expressed in Burdekin's "The Rebel Passion," she told the story of Ancient Egypt's splendor in Taboni's "The Private Life of Tutankhamen," and gave a vivid picture of Palestine in "The Shepherd of Israel" by Eyles.

"The Man Who Dared to be Good" by Norwood followed and the speaker then carried her listeners to the France of Louis XI as described in "Louis XI" by Champion.

Story of Marie Antoinette

Included in this same group was a colorful account of "Marie Antoinette," France's tragic queen, who was a victim of the revolution, as told by Palache, and the story of the life of Francois Rabelais by Putman.

"The Stormy Life of Mirabeau" by Juvenal was touched upon and Mrs. Vallely pointed out that the great Frenchman's life marked the end of days of chivalry.

Dwelling on England in her first rise to greatness, Mrs. Vallely reviewed "Elizabeth" by Anthony and "Marlborough" by Chidsey, the latter being the story of the life of John Churchill, first duke of Marlborough.

Returning to the days of the importance of Italy, the speaker gave an entertaining account of "The Incredible Borgias" as told by Klaybund.

The story of one of the world's greatest musicians was told in the brief account of Beethoven which was based on "Beethoven, the Man Who Freed Music," by Schauffler.

Describes Civil War

Coming to a more recent period, Mrs. Vallely dwelt on the picture presented by the United States during and following the Civil war in her review of "Jefferson Davis," by Tate; "The Tragic Era," by Bower, "Abraham Lincoln," by Holden and "Myths After Lincoln," by Lewis.

Mrs. Vallely turned for a moment to romance and adventure in speaking of "Adventures of an Outlaw" by Rashleigh and "Adios" by the Bartletts before concluding with three novels of modern life depicting the battle of the sexes which include "Harriet Hume" by Rebecca West, "Fugitive's Return" by Glaspell and "Sincerity" by John Erskine.

Miss Lulu Minter, head of the International Artists Series committee, announced that the committee would sponsor a concert to be presented by Harry Lauder on the night of November 21 at Santa Ana high school auditorium. She pointed out that the concert is not included in the regular series which will open in December with the presentation of the English Singers.

Reports Convention

Mrs. W. L. Deimling reported on the convention of Orange County Women's clubs held October 25 in Anaheim.

Announcement was made of the Founders' day meeting which will take place November 25 and will be followed by a tea to be given in honor of charter members. At that time the Ebell history which has been compiled by Mrs. Victor Montgomery will be placed on sale.

Those planning to attend the Day Nursery dinner Thursday night were requested to be in the lounge in time to be given places at tables before 6:30 o'clock when dinner will be served.

Little Lad Celebrates Birthday with Party For Playmates

When Master Charles Maag jr. arrived two years ago to gladden the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Maag of Santa Ana canyon, he celebrated their first wedding anniversary, so since that date November 9 has been an occasion for special observance in the family circle with the greatest prominence however, accorded to the little son and his natal day.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Maag entertained the small playmates of the laddie, at a delightful party held on the shady lawn, with an animal cracker hunt and all the games which such small folk most enjoy. A little group of mothers shared the pleasure and aided in directing the games. They included Mrs. Cheathem, Mrs. John Hale, Mrs. E. H. Wetzell and Mrs. William Altmiller.

As the afternoon drew to a close a large table was arranged with pink and white candles and many flowers beneath the tall palms on the lawn, and there the children were seated to enjoy the birthday refreshments which included a pretty cake with two flickering pink candles.

Master Charles received a wealth of pretty gifts from his little guests who included Phyllis Jeanne Moore of Olive; Marillyn Wetzel, Edwina, Marilyn and Billie Maag, Santa Ana; Wilbur, Marjean and Junior Schaner of Placentia; Arthur and Stanley Van De Puttz of Atwood; Billie Altmiller of Taft, and Lucena and Mary Anne Maag of Orange.

Mrs. Maag was formerly Miss Zola Powelson of this city, and is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary Glee club with which she made the recent trip to Louisville to the national convention.

What is this new and astonishing Agmel?
Why has it tnis effect upon kidney deficiencies, high blood pressure, indigestion?
AGMEL is astonishing both in what it is and what it does. Agmel is a great health food, a valuable tonic in kidney deficiencies, high blood pressure, indigestion and glycosuria. It is an extraordinary discovery, a real gift of nature—an imported vegetable milk from Mexico. In its native country this plant sap is called "aguamiel." It comes from the famous maguey plant and there is nothing else in the world like it.
Fresh aguamiel has been used for centuries in Mexico. Now this pure sap has been concentrated for export, and the name has been shortened to Agmel. Everybody can now have Agmel. This is fortunate for those men and women just entering middle life and for those of all ages who are being warned of danger by frequent arising at night, backache, high blood pressure and other symptoms brought on by modern ways of eating and living. Imported by The Agmel Corporation, New York and Mexico, D. F.

Kidneys 100% Better
"I couldn't eat, had dizzy spells, got up many times every night. Then took Agmel faithfully for a month and everything was changed. My blood pressure was 60 degrees lower, appetite returned and kidneys were 100% better."—Mrs. J. W. Shane, Los Angeles, Cal.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Where are the old-time complexions gone? I mean the kind we read of in books of the Jane Eyre vintage. The beautiful heroine was never guilty of using powder, the use of rouge immediately placed one on the forbidden list, and lips were worn au naturel!

I have a definite suspicion that they vanished along with hoop skirts, cast-iron corsets and mutton-leg sleeves. Soon after that era styles in dress began to follow the contour of the figure and the discriminating woman found that billowy curves were definitely out, so she began to cut own weight, to eat less of the rich foods and more fruit and vegetables. Of course her face thinned down with hte rest of her body and the satiny skin, no longer underlaid by a blanket of fat, vanished.

'Tis said that it's an ill wind that blows nobody good; in this case it brought into existence a great trade in cosmetics, and I am sure that this change of complexions has added to the length of the average woman's life—how can it help but do so, when she eats sensibly and exercises to keep her body within the limits prescribed for it by the fashions she wears?

TODAY'S RECIPE

MOCK CHICKEN PATE

2 cups minced roasted rabbit or
2 cups cubed chicken
1 1-2 cups milk
2 scant teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespon butter
Salt and pepper
Rich pie crust for one crust

Have you taken a look around your grocer's lately? He has many interesting foods put up in glass to show you. One of them is prepared crab cocktail, with portions for four in each glass. Then, there is chicken..small sections of white meat..whole roasted chicken sealed in a can..even minced giblets, ready cooked for gravy and dressing. For a quick meal, in case the roasted Belgian Hare failed to survive the meal, a glass of this white chicken meat is quickly made into a most delicious open-faced chicken pie after the recipe used today.

Heat the milk to boiling point, stir in the cornstarch rubbed smooth in cold water, add the butter, salt and pepper, and stir until smooth and thickened. Put the cubed chicken or rabbit meat into this sauce and keep hot over water while you make a rich pie crust, just enough for the bottom crust only. Slip the crust into a sizzling hot oven for 5 minutes to bake it enough to prevent soaking, then put in the creamed meat and finish baking with a medium oven.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Comer Redfern, former La Habrans, now living at Pittsburg, Calif., that they are the parents of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Borach, of Yolo, are guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Abrams. They came down Thursday to help their little granddaughter, Nan, celebrate her fourth birthday. They were accompanied south by Mrs. R. Hayden, who is spending much of her time at Covina, visiting her daughter, Miss Willeta Hayden, assistant at the Masonic home there.

Mrs. M. Neeley is a guest in the A. N. Parson home.

Pauline Francis is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. John Rogers, at Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. DeVour spent the week end at Victorville with friends.

Mrs. M. Call spent the week end with her husband at Bakersfield, where he is employed.

Eighty dollars was cleared Friday evening by the Keystone class of the Methodist church from the Zander-Gump wedding put on by 40 characters.

Mrs. E. M. Tennyson, of Mountain View avenue, is remodeling her home by additional rooms.

Is Sex Appeal Commonplace?

Sometimes I Think It Is BUT Sometimes I Think It Isn't

By Velva G. Darling

Sometimes I think that sex appeal is growing so commonplace that there is no longer any punch left—even in the word. Along with this "discovery" of Freud's and the wholesale swallowing of it by the younger generation has come a thorough belief and acceptance in the theory which pops up every time a fairly pretty girl meets a fairly presentable young man—"It must be love at first sight!"—and to be smart, one must not be prudish. Today, so-called "love at first sight" is almost as common as sex appeal itself. Man no longer needs to pursue the pretty girl. She is so profoundly aware of the irresistible quality of her sex appeal that she has only the greatest sympathy and compassion—or whatever it is—for the man. He doesn't even need to ASK her for her love. She wouldn't put him to that much BOTHER!

BUT, on the other hand, it is true that all the face-lifting operations, cold creams, lotions and powder and paint will not create that fascinating charm in a woman called "sex appeal." Men, too, may be perfectly groomed, possess regular features and the highest education and still be minus that most subtle attraction. As far as I can see from the photographs of Gabriel d'Annunzio, the famous black-shirt poet and lover, he is neither a ohn Gilbert nor an O. O. McIntyre, but it does seem as though he has a monopoly on love letters from famous and beautiful women. Just sex appeal!

Sometimes I think that this quality of which "It" is made, is every bit as rare as that quality which makes success. You can SEE it, but you can's COPY it. At any rate, I have yet to see a successful person who has not a goodly quota of BOTH brain matter and charm, and was anything BUT common place! Yet on the other hand, the modern girl certainly does not resemble the old-fashioned Gibson girl in her shy requisite as she coyly fluttered her eyelashes years ago, and stepped over a couple of yards of trailing skirt—"Love me—love my DOG!" The girl today omits everything—everything but the "LOVE me!"

The WOMAN'S DAY

A smoking room for girls has been granted at Carnegie Tech, so that the co-eds now may smoke without breaking rules.

School authorities state they are not particularly happy over the situation, and would have preferred not to have to accord it, but it came as a result of a referendum among the girls themselves.

Miss Mary W. Green, dean of women, said:

"We deplore its existence, and we do not encourage smoking among the girls, but we recognize conditions as they exist."

Recognizing existing conditions is something that many institutions of learning for women have refused to do. They know that the grils smoke surreptitiously, and that there is no way of stopping it, but they prefer to close their eyes, rather than to seem to condone it.

ANTI-HYPOCRITES

Hypocrisy is rapidly becoming a national characteristic, according to Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, political leader and former dry, who resigned from the Republican National Committee to become chairman of the women's organization for national prohibition reform.

In her article in the American Review of Reviews, she says that this woman's organization is now active in all states and that these women are devoting their time toward working for a change in the prohibition law which will "replace present corruption, lawlessness and hypocrisy with sobriety and honesty."

COMPANIONS

Ishbel MacDonald, our recent guest, has turned journalist and is recording her impressions of America. She makes this interesting comparison between the British and the American women.

An American woman takes a job outside her home on the slighest provocation, she observes.

If her husband does not earn sufficient salary to hire a cook, she immediately takes a job, even though she scarcely more than pays the cook with what she makes.

And English woman, on the contrary, whose husband is only on a moderate salary, will say: "I must go and take a few cooking lessons so that we do not need to hire a cook."

The same reasoning is followed by the French woman. She is a clever manager, and instead of wondering how she can enlarge the family income, she buys carefully and cleans and mends her own clothes, to say nothing of making them.

The business woman, who has to have her own apartment taken care of, who cannot do her own mending, or attend to her own marketing and errands, and must depend upon the cleaner and the steam laundry, needs a large margin to take care of these details that used to be all in a woman's day.

SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Mary Hess had as her guests recently Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baker of Turlock.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Neff, of La Habra, were dinner guests Sunday in the home of H. L. Neff.

Mrs. R. B. Floyd returned home Thursday from Dresden, Kas., where she has been visiting her mother for several weeks.

Mrs. Jack Dyck, of Whittier, is spending a few days in the home of her sister, Mrs. L. A. Weide.

Miss Helene Hickman was a recent over night guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray. Burns in Westminster.

Miss Claudene Goodrich has been ill in her home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Knight, who have been staying in the L. A. Weide home, have gone to Laguna Beach to make their home.

Mrs. Georgie Hickman, who has been ill for several months, continues to remain about the same.

C. M. Hill, who has been in the garage business in Silver Acres for the past four years, has decided to discontinue the business as he has taken over the agency for a tow rope. His territory covers northern California, Oregon and Washington.

Mrs. Ruth Klenck and Mrs. Vada Berry entertained the Silver Acres club in the former's home Wednesday.

The regular routine business was transacted, with Mrs. Flora Baker, president, presiding. A social hour was enjoyed by the guests. In the guessing contest, Mrs. Belle Wilcox received first prize and Mrs. J. M. Perryman, second prize.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Berry.

STRANGE STORY OF SEA AT WEST COAST

"The Isle of Lost Ships," the plot of which enters about a ship stranded on an isle of lost people in the Sargasso Sea, is the current feature in the Fox-West Coast theater.

A woman alone with 52 men on a floating island—that is the highlight of the strange pirture

And to top it all off, the girl, Virginia Valli, falls in love with a man wanted in the States for the murder of his wife. He is Jason Robarts. Noah Beery also has an important part in the play.

A chorus girl inherits a boys' school in South Carolina and then the fun begins in "Sweetie," with Nancy Carroll, now playing in the Fox-Broadway theater.

It is another campus life story, but it is called the best that Paramount has done.

Jack Oakie, best little wisecracker the talking screen has yet uncovered, has his biggest part in "Sweetie" and he is one reason why Paramount expects the picture to be one of the best "gate" shows turned out of its lots in some time. Oakie sings a song in "Sweetie" called "Alma Mammy," a takeoff on the school's Alma Mater.

Aside from the feature, a Mickey Mouse cartoon, with sound; Van and Schenck, in songs, "Broadway's Not a Bad Place After All" and "Choe," and a Fox Movietone newsreel are on the program.

A family doctor's laxative is the sensible choice!

YOUR health is too important! You can't afford experiments with your delicate bowels when a coated tongue, bad breath, gas, headaches, nausea, feverishness, biliousness, lack of appetite, and no energy, warn of constipation. This applies not only to grown people; it is particularly the case where young children are concerned.

That's why a family doctor's laxative is always the safe choice! Only a doctor knows just what will cleanse the system of men, women or children without harm.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is prepared today under strict supervision from freshest herbs and other pure ingredients, and exactly according to Dr. Caldwell's original prescription.

He was a family doctor for more than forty-seven years. He specialized in the disorders of the digestive tract. He tested this prescription in thousands of cases. Men liked its quick and thorough action; the children liked its pleasant taste; old people praised it because it never gripes.

Today, millions of families rely on Dr. Caldwell's judgment in the selection of their laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is now sold in all drug stores. It is the world's largest selling laxative.

NEW MARVELS OF DENTAL SCIENCE
How the Restoration of a Few Teeth Adds to Woman's Attractiveness
AFTER years of research and experiment, Santa Ana's leading dentists succeed in banishing pain without aid of gases or dangerous drugs—REAL "PAINLESS DENTISTRY" is here at last. Not many people are aware of the remarkable progress made by the science of dentistry during recent years.. A great deal has been written about the wonderful achievements of medical and surgical science, but very little publicity has been given to the equally wonderful work of the modern dentist.

THE TINYMITES

The Tinies, still upon the ground, just sat and didn't look around. They were too busy eating to be bothered by a thing. They didn't think the great big man would e'er come back, the way he ran. That's why they didn't have a hunch what bad luck fate might bring.

Said Scouty, "Well, I guess that I have had enough, I will not try to eat another bite. I'm sure 'twould make my tummy ache. The rest of you had better quit and rest while you are feeling fit. If I can find a stream near here, a good long drink I'll take."

"A good idea." Coppy cried. And then he jumped to Scouty's side. They led the others to a stream where each one got his fill. "I'd like to swim, but, my, I doubt if I could do it. I'm tired out," said Clowny. "Let's go back and snooze. We've naught but time to kill."

So, back they went and gathered 'round the dinner bucket, on the ground. "We all can nap," said Coppy. "There is nothing to go wrong. When we 'wake in an hour or so upon our merry way we'll go. And, if we can, we'll take this little dinner pail along."

Now, all this time the big strong man up closer to the Tinies ran. He heard them say they'd take a nap. "Ah, ha, what luck," said he. "When everyone is sound asleep, right up to them I'll softly creep. I'll make them sorry that they ever took my pail from me."

He didn't wait so very long. Then on his knees he crawled along, and pounced upon the Tinies as he gave an awful shout. Before they had a chance to stand, he grabbed up two in each big hand. Wee Scouty looked real scared, and said, "What is this all about?"

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example: To go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

COWL to MONK—This hole isn't reserved for the clergy, but they may find it a bit easier. Par is four.

The 6th grade boys are playing football on the new school grounds. Our class is sewing our waste baskets with yarn.

Charles Hart.

The 3A, 4B and 4A classes are learning two songs for the Christmas program. These songs were written in Mrs. Duke's room. The names are "Santa Claus Land" and "Jolly Old Santa Claus."

James Edmonds

When we get 100 in Miss Bell's arithmetic room we get a red star. After we get three red stars we get a gold star.

Virginia Waters

McKinley School

Last spring everybody wanted to have the school bonds pass. Songs about school bonds were written to familiar tunes and they were sung at clubs, theaters and the high school. Now everybody is becoming happy, for the bonds passed and there are now workmen at McKinley taking down the trees, bars, swings, rings and basketball court in order to start the new building.

Robert Woodside.

Since they have started the new building all of the children have to play on the south side of the playground. The girls who are on the basketball team are in a pinch, for they have four games to play and the basketball court is torn down. They will have to play the other games without any more practicing.

Pauline Chapman.

Thanksgiving is very near—in fact it is near enough for decorations. In all of the McKinley school rooms there are fine big, fat, round, orange pumpkins, corn, and other things that remind us of Thanksgiving. In some rooms there are ruby apples and pretty autumn trees. While in other rooms plump Mr. Turkeys are strutting about the walls. I wonder if they are thinking about how it is going to feel to be eaten.

La Vene Parks.

All of the higher grades had moving pictures of geography last Wednesday in the lunch room. Miss Hasty showed the pictures. Those that the High 4 class saw were Russia, The Discovery of Gold in California, and California Missions.

Rogelio Dominquez.

In the art room the fifth grade class is cutting letters out of scratch paper. As soon as we learn to cut them well enough we are going to cut letters out of colored paper and make a Thanksgiving poster.

Lloyd Franke.

Mrs. Stark's primary reading classes are bringing books from home in order to start a library. Her low first class is going to make health books.

Alfred Wright.

In Miss Hasty's room the high fifth class is making maps of South America. We make them on cardboard and they are made out of flour, salt, and water mixed together. They have to be in by Friday.

Grace Berge.

We are having fun in Miss Pott's room looking up words in the dictionary. We have to look up [illegible] words every day.

Cecil Kinsey.

The high sixth class is very [illegible]. In Miss Pott's room we are [illegible] a poem for Thanksgiving.

Its name is "The Landing of the Pilgrims."

We wrote grammar sentences yesterday in Miss Safley's room. Miss Wherry corrected the papers for writing and Miss Safley for grammar so we had two grades on them.

We are making a booklet of our best penmanship in Mrs. Roger's room. The covers of the booklets are blue and our names cut out of orange paper are pasted on them. In Mrs. Rogers' room those who have good form in writing and good position to get their names on the blackboard.

Geraldine Alder.

In Miss Hatch's room we have a big easel. Next week every morning each boy or girl will get a turn to paint on the easel. We have big paint brushes to use. I shall be glad when my turn comes.

Robert Horseman.

After we have art in Miss Hatch's room she has some new records for the children to hear. Yesterday she played "The Night Song" for our class.

Hazel Forrester.

A boy in the high sixth class brought in a stuffed ruby-throated humming bird for the nature study collection. It is very interesting. It is sitting on a branch that has a little nest and some flowers on it. The bird is red on one side and green on the back.

Maurine Smith.

The McKinley report cards will be out next week, and I know that everybody hopes that his or her report card will be a good one. If you think that you are not going to get a good one, work and it may be better than you expect.

Walter Kinney.

Thursday the high third class had moving pictures in Miss Hasty's room about Japan. In the afternoon we read about the little children in Japan. The girls carry the babies around on their backs.

Jean Linsenbard.

The low fifth class is studying about cotton in Miss Hasty's room. Miss Hasty gave us a piece of cotton which had a seed inside of it. We took the seed out and put it on the desk and then we took some cotton and tried to make it into a thread. Later we had to tell her about where and how cotton grows.

Spurgeon School

Some of the boys of the lower grades have brought some new creatures for nature study. They are fish of different kinds. A queer little sea creature was brought just yesterday. He crawls over his shell to shine it up. His name is cowrie. He has two red feelers. He can hide in his shell.

—Guy Rogers jr.

In art we are making an art book to send across the ocean, for the children to see what we are doing in America.

—Carolyn Davis.

In Mrs. Wolff's room we are making pictures, to send to Guam. So far we have made two pictures. We will make two books of pictures.

—Onie Sanders.

We are all trying very hard in the low six, because the best artists will get to put a picture in the book Mrs. Wolf is making to send to some of the countries in Europe. I hope I will have one of my drawings in.

—Dorothy Ellery.

We are proud of the boys and girls of Spurgeon for they all helped to win the school savings banner. Mr. Fish will present it to us soon.

—Harriette Howell.

Night School Party

Members of the Delhi Night school planned a party for all the adult classes in Delhi and their friends. It was held recently in Fairyland hall where there are ample accommodations for games, motion pictures and dancing.

A large crowd of men, women and children assembled to be joined later in the evening by many from Logan and Franklin Night schools. Music for dancing was furnished by the boys of the Delhi orchestra. To complete an evening which was enjoyed by everyone present, light refreshments were served.

Everyone present was urged to enter the classes of the night school which are held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the Delhi schoolhouse under the direction of the adult education department of the Santa Ana schools, of which Mrs. Golden Norwood is supervisor. Such parties are to be given from time to time, honoring those attending.

Roosevelt School

Children Paint Vases

Miss Wirick's kindergarten groups have been employing their time to good advantage this past week. They have decided they would like to make something which would be useful to mother, so they have undertaken to paint vases. Some of them have turned out very well, and would grace most any living room table.

Will Give Play

The low six grades under the direction of Miss Knudson, are working on a play which they plan to present to their parents and friends Monday evening, November 18, at 7:30 o'clock. The play has been written by the class, an old fairy tale entitled "Saria Maria Castle" giving the central theme for the play. The principal characters are "Hilda," the youngest princess, played by Geraldine Gilbert, "Halvor," the hero, played by Winfred Gallienne; "Troll," Charles Swanger; "Father," Jim Gross; mother played by Barbara Varne, "Princess Yetive," played by Ann Wetherall, and "Princess Yolanda" played by Marian Brannan.

We wish to take this opportunity to invite our friends from other school districts to come and enjoy the performance.

Ball Team Victories

Roosevelt is very proud of her ball team this year. Under the direction of Miss Isabell Lindsay, the team has forged ahead to continuous victories until now the championship banner graces the halls of Roosevelt.

As a further reward for the good work done by the team, Miss Verna Wells, the principal, is to give the team a party. Miss Lindsay as director, Miss Camblin and Miss Grant as score keepers are also to be included in the treat.

Armistice Day Program

The student assembly last Friday was in the nature of an Armistice day celebration and consisted of a variety of appropriate numbers for this important occasion. Mrs. Arnold Lund was chairman of the program committee, and was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Livenspire, C. D. Chamberlin, and Norman Hicks, all low 8th grade teachers.

The first number was a song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," by the low 8th grade chorus. Madeline Winchell took the solo part most charmingly. Beatrice Granas accompanied. Another number by the group was a three-part song, "The Conqueror," by Wilson-White. Miss Esther Jean Davis directed both numbers. Richard Foster gave a brief talk on "The Meaning of the Armistice," in which he told of the events leading up to the signing of the Armistice and its great significance to the world.

Vivian Westbrook next favored the audience with two delightful piano solos, "The Venetian," by Godard and "Orientale" by Amerie. Songs of the Nations was the next number, given by C. D. Chamberlain's general language class and consisted of two songs, one sung in French and the other in German. Neva Tully first explained the meanings of the songs. A short skit was woven into one in which Ruth Pleis, Lawrence Smith and Dick Key took the parts.

Murray Patton gave an interesting talk on "Aviation Before and After the War," in which he gave a brief resume of the general progression that aviation has made and is making in world development. Dorothy Randall, accompanied by Miss Ruth Langley, rendered a fine whistling solo, "Moon Wings." Elizabeth Garlock told the "Story of Tobby," a famous war dog that enlisted in the army and was rewarded for his loyalty and bravery with 17 valuable medals. He was made a life member of the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross.

A violin solo, "Sicilion and Rigandon," by Kreisler, was beautifully played by Helen Tannenbaum. She was accompanied by her mother For an encore she played "Fair Rosemary," by Kreisler.

Girls' Glee Club Appears

The Willard Girls' Glee club had the honor of accepting an invitation to sing five numbers at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach last Sunday afternoon during their regular Sunday afternoon program from 4 to 5 o'clock. They were directed by Miss Esther Jean Davis, and Miss Ruth Langley accompanied them. The girls wore their regulation blue and white costumes and were highly complimented on their appearance and their splendid contribution to the program.

They sang the following numbers: "Come Join the Dance" by Czibulka; "When Honey Sings" by Carey; "After the Rain," by Pinsuti; "Memories" by Verdi, and "Stars Brightly Shining" by Bronte.

Boys' Chorus Makes Appearance

The Willard Boys' chorus make their first public appearance Thursday evening, November 14, when they will give several numbers at the evening meeting of the Willard P.-T. A. The boys wore regulation uniforms of white trousers and shirts and blue ties, carrying out the school colors.

These boys deserve considerable praise for their splendid work as all their practices have been before school two mornings each week. Miss Esther Jean Davis, teacher of music, will lead the boys in their work Thursday evening.

Welfare Girls Serve Red Cross

At the latest meeting of the Willard Welfare club the girls folded 180,000 Red Cross seals for the envelopes in preparation for their distribution for the Christmas sale. These are sold for the benefit of the Anti - Tuberculosis association. The week before the club girls folded nearly as many as this week. The girls are happy to have the privilege of being of such helpful service to any Santa Ana organization.

NEW YORK STOCKS

BY ELMER C. WALZER
(United Press Financial Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Renewed selling out of weakly margined accounts took place in the initial dealings on the stock exchange today, forcing down prices 1 to 3 points with trading more active and blocks of 5000 to 10,000 shares coming out on the tape.

United States Steel opened 10,000 shares at 157½ off 1, but still up 1⅜ from its low for the year, made an January 8. Transcontinental Oil opened 13,000 shares at 7, off ⅛; Curtiss Wright, 10,000 shares at 9⅜, off ⅝; and Packard 9000 shares at 12½, off ½.

Tickers were running way behind at the close and traders had great difficulty attempting to find the exact quotations on the floor.

The setback came to the market after what had appeared to be a rally. Steel had eased down to within an eighth of a point of its low and then across the ticker came the word "Steel 165½." That was an error but Steel had gone to 163½, up 6 points. Strength came in.

Then came the bear raid and steel shot down.

It went to a new low for the year at 153½. The entire market followed.

HELP THE SOLICITORS

The campaign for the Community Chest is on. Representatives are visiting the people for the next three days, and they are giving of their time, as well as their money, to help out in this worthy enterprise. Make their work as happy and cheerful as possible.

When they present the matter to you, give them that cordial welcome that will help them on their way. Whether you are able to contribute or whether you are not, show your interest in the cause and in the causes.

It really is an honor to be visited by them. It shows that they have confidence in you. By visiting you, they are affording you an opportunity to participate in the labor of the social agencies here in the city. If you cannot contribute, express your regret and give them a word of cheer. If you can possibly contribute, do it readily and in as large an amount as possible. The reception which they receive from you will aid them as they visit the next person on their list.

Let us help the solicitors.

THE STABILITY OF THE GERMAN REPUBLIC

Nothing can be more heartening to the supporters of the present government in Germany than the refusal of President von Hindenburg to endorse the proposal of the Nationalists that any cabinet member who makes an international agreement which is based upon the principle of Germany's sole war guilt shall be liable to indictment for high treason.

This was a very subtle attempt on the part of the Nationalists or Monarchists to turn the support of the people away from the present government. President von Hindenburg has been the idol of the Nationalist. But this refusal to endorse the proposal of the extremists puts him on the side of those who believe that the German Republic is here to stay. The extremists of the Left, the Communists, and the extremists of the Right, the Monarchists, have been the most violent opponents of any measure tending to stabilize the present government. The first want a Soviet control. The second look for the return of the Hohenzollerns.

The great mass of the people are behind the present government. When we hear of German insincerity, when we are told that Germany can but will not pay the indemnity assessed upon her, it should be remembered that those who have made international agreements like the Dawes Plan and the Young Plan and the Locarno proposal have always had the people behind them. The German people want to take an honorable place in the family of nations. The act of President von Hindenburg once and for all closes the door to the Hohenzollern return. And as for a bolshevik revolution it is quite as remote as such a revolution is here in the United States.

If you save five cents a day from now until Christmas you still will be broke Jan. 1.

THE SENATORIAL COALITION AND COMMUNISM

Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, made the statement in the Senate that the present coalition of Democrats and Insurgent Republicans are a greater menace to our government and institutions than the communists. This statement has been bitterly resented by the members of the Senatorial coalition. To them it seems like impugning their patriotism and their loyalty to our American institutions.

As a matter of fact, it ought not to be taken seriously at all. There was a time when it was popular to call a man who differed somewhat on matters of religious doctrine from the standards commonly held an infidel. That put the man outside the pale of decency. Tom Paine, Thomas Jefferson, William Ellery Channing were infidels after that fashion. We have since learned that to differ from prevailing religious standards does not make a man an atheist. Now it has become the fashion of certain standpatters to silence a man or to destroy his influence to call him a bolshevik or a communist. When Theodore Roosevelt organized the Progressive Party he was called a socialist, and that was supposed to end it. There are not enough communists in this country to overturn an applecart. Try to find one among all your acquaintances. Which simply means that the members of the coalition are not so dangerous after all measured by the slur of Senator Reed.

THE BELOVED METROPOLIS

According to the dispatches, there are nearly two million Jews living in New York City. Greater New York is an extremely large city. We recall when it used to be said that there were more Jews in New York City than in Jerusalem; more Irish than there were in Belfast; more Germans than there were in Berlin; and we might add more braves as members of the Indian organization called "Tammany," than there were Indians ever living east of the Mississippi river.

But some way or other, if one has ever lived in New York City, he longs to return. It is the great cosmopolitan city of our continent. As Will Rogers says, "Everybody's there except Americans."

SOME RESULTS IN THE RECENT ELECTIONS

The elections last week clarified a number of things in the country, and also gave us a few things to think about. In the first place, the election in Virginia clearly indicates that the last national election was simply an extraordinary thing. The complete rout of the opposition to the regular Democratic candidate for governor, composed as it was of those who had followed Bishop Cannon out of the Democratic party to vote for Hoover and the Republicans of Virginia, indicates that Virginia will continue to be a Democratic state, no matter what may happen.

Another overturn, national in its significance, is the Republican overturn in Indiana. Indiana was the most rampant of the states which was controlled by the Ku Klux Klan. For the last six years it has completely dominated the Republican party and the State. The story has been a sad story of corruption, leading to the indictment of many officials and the imprisonment of others for bribery and official malfeasance. Again it has been shown that no party in this country can continue in power by an appeal to religious and racial prejudice. Even honest men tire of it when it is carried to an extreme as it was in Indiana.

In Ohio, an antiquated tax system which was wholly impracticable to meet modern conditions, has at last been voted out by the people after a half dozen or more futile attempts to do so in the past. The system which was adopted when Ohio was purely an agricultural state was impossible to meet the needs of a state which has become 50 per cent industrial. Owners of stocks and bonds in Ohio will now cease to be necessary perjurers. The city of Cleveland elected a colored woman whose parents were born in slavery as a member of the Board of Education. This illustrates the growing political power of the Negro vote in many of the northern cities.

New York City retains Jimmy Walker for mayor. Norman Thomas received a very large vote as a socialist. The Republican candidate, La Guardia, has been a Republican congressman from a district largely composed of foreigners. He has sometimes been classified as a socialist. It is a bit strange to think of Tammany as being the last recourse for the conservative and wealthy voter.

Thus does democracy vindicate itself. Some of these results certainly indicate that there is still a free and untrammeled electorate in this country, and that the glorious victor of yesterday has little reason to believe that his tenure is permanent unless he behaves himself or keeps in close touch with the voters.

Britain Acclaims The American Accord

Pasadena Star-News

"War between us has been banished. Conflict between our military and naval forces cannot take place."

So spoke Premier Ramsay MacDonald in the House of Commons. He solemnly reiterated the joint statement issued by President Hoover and himself to the effect that war between the United States and Great Britain is "unthinkable."

It is significant that Premier MacDonald's first address before the Commons upon his return from his historic visit to the United States was greeted with warm applause from all political parties represented in the House. It is obvious that the memorable peace arrangements with the United States are popular among the English people of all classes and among all shades of political opinion in the British Empire.

Premier MacDonald, in his speech to the Commons, stressed vigorously his desire to make it clear to everybody that the Kellogg peace treaty is a reality in British-American relations. The picturesque Prime Minister emphasized, more than once, that all danger of war between the United States and Great Britain is past.

What marvelous advancement is this in human relations! Nothing like it ever has been known before in the history of the world. Never before, since time began, have two great nations voluntarily, and by common, humane, peace-loving impulse, been moved to come together in friendshi candor and good will, and solemnly pledge themselves to stop competing in armament; and to collaborate for a permanent basis of peace and good will and pacific adjustment of all disputes between these powers. It is a spectacle upon which God must smile with approval.

Pacific Relations Are Discussed at Conference

San Bernardino Sun

An event that deserves more attention than it has received so far is the meeting in Kyoto, Japan, of the Institute of Pacific Relations. Delegates began to arrive there October 27. The session will end November 9.

The United States, Great Britain, Canada, Japan, China, Australia and New Zealand have full delegations. Hawaii and the Philippines have subdelegations within the American group. France, Mexico, Soviet Russia, the league of nations and the international labor office have sent observers. There are prominent men and women from all these countries, many of them statesmen and former government officials.

The purpose of the institute is to discuss mutual problems of the nations facing the Pacific ocean, to increase mutual understanding among them and to promote peace. Like the Institute of Politics held in Williamstown every summer, the present institute furnishes a clearing house for ideas and an open forum for the presentation of widely different viewpoints. Its work should be of great and lasting value not only to the immediate nations concerned, but to the world at large.

As Others See Us

Riverside Daily Press

The supervisors of Orange county have received a petition for the enlargement of the Fullerton junior college district to include Brea, Olinda and Anaheim. A hearing on the matter will be held on December 17 and opposition is expected from Anaheim. A county junior college for the entire county would be the ideal arrangement, but the jealousies of the four larger cities—Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange—seem to make that desirable educational step impossible.

THE OUTSIDER

I am wholly aloof from financial affairs;
 However the market may turn
The rout of the bulls or defeat of the bears
 Are to me of no vital concern.
I never am long, and I never am short,
 I have nothing to sell or to buy,
And so I can look at a market report
 With never the bat of an eye.

The battles that rage on the maddening exchange
 Mean nothing whatever to me;
I care not a farthing how prices may range
 Or what the quotations may be.
Advances can never bring joy to my heart;
 Depressions can't give me the blues;
I have nothing to win in the stock-broking mart
 And I also have nothing to lose.

You would think that I ought to be calmly content
 To know that in case of a break
In security prices I can't lose a cent,
 But there you would make a mistake.
The reason I'm not in the thick of the fight
 And losing my much needed rest
As I scan the financial news night after night
 Is my lack of the cash to invest.

For though poets may prate of serene peace of mind
 Aloof from all struggle and strife
They merely reveal that they're mentally blind
 And do not know a lot about life.
And if I could afford it, I'd take a long chance,
 Though perhaps I'd be pushed to the wall,
For I'd rather be licked in the game of finance
 Than to have no excitement at all!

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT

If the husbandman isn't relieved by Congress he can always sell his farm for a golf course or a landing field.

GOOD CUSTOMERS

If we come to a navy agreement with Europe we shan't need to scrap our navy. We can sell it to the rum runners.

When Rivers Rise, Can Jobs Be Far Behind?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

The Lady Tourist, ordering crackers and cheese, asked cautiously, "How's business?"

"Fine," the Grocer said. "We ain't had nothing but good business since the Flood."

"Since the Flood!" she repeated weakly, with a vision of the Ark.

"Yes, ma'am," the Grocer said emphatically. "Act of God, they called it."

No more driving for me with the top down, thought the Lady Tourist, shakily.

"Anyway," the Grocer went on, "we ain't goin' to let prosperity peter out. We got a 'Bigger and Better Floods Bill' before the Legislature now.

"Of course," he went on, "a few lives were lost, and quite a number of homes destroyed. But a feller might as well be drowned as out 'er work, and a lot of houses was about ready to be foreclosed, anyway. Now everybody an' his cousin has a job, and they're puttng up new houses an' buildin' better roads. Yes, ma'am, the Flood certainly made business boom."

"What flood?" the Lady Tourist asked faintly.

"What flood?" The Grocer's face crinkled into a grin. "The Flood. The Flood we got a song about at Rotary—tune of 'Smiles'—'But the Flood that filled our state with wages—'

"Wake up, ma'm," he said kindly. "You're in Vermont."

"Calvin Coolidge—" began the Lady Tourist.

The Grocer shrugged. "He was a good President. Of course, it kinder got around the way he acted, that it was illegal to spend money in Vermont. But the Flood changed all that. Yes, ma'am, when wages is pourin' in, folks is bound to spend 'em, even in Vermont."

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

Pop was sitting in his private chair not doing anything and ma sed, Why dont you reed the paper, Willyum, your not even smoking, whats a matter with you?

I feel low, pop sed. Nuthing has been going wrong, exackly, but then to counteract that, nuthing has been going exackly rite. O well, wheres the paper, maybe I can sip a little solace from the sorrows of others, he sed.

And he started to look at the paper, saying, Hello, whats this news that greets my weary eyes? And he red it out loud, saying, The days of the clamorous rivetter seem to be numbered, and noiseless steel welding, with the aid of hydrogen blowpipes, will soon pour oil on the troubled construction werk, according to a speech delivered yestidday before the Engineers Club by Professor Aleck Smitters. Well, thats the best news so far this year, and now I know exackly what was wrong with me. Their putting up a 15 story bilding cross from my office and the rivetters have been at it for 3 weeks now and the accumulated racket was just starting to give me the canned willies. But this little news item has made a new man of me, and tomorrow Ill have my revenge, he sed.

Why, my goodness, what are you going to do? You cant do anything to rivetters, ma sed, and pop sed, O cant I? Tomorrow at their luntch hour when their all huddled together like a buntch of cowards behind their sandwitches Im going rite up to them and Im going to say, So, you mizzerble incarnated infernal machines, your time has come. So, you smochy faced bangers and pounders, your hour has struck. So, you unspeekable slammers, a little hydrogen blowpipe is going to shoot you off the face of the map where youve always belonged. So, good, Im going to say, pop sed.

Now Willyum, those men are ony doing their duty and if they had a hydrogen thing I know they'd ony be too glad to use it, now dont you go and do anything foolish, ma sed, and pop sed, Well, perhaps your rite, they are just creetures of circumstances like the rest of us, I sippose. I may not say anything, he sed.

Wich he proberly wouldent of anyways.

In the Long Ago

NOVEMBER 12, 1915

At the annual meeting of the McPherson Heights Citrus association, it was announced that L. D. Palmer, who spoke, would succeed D. Eyman Huff as manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange.

The most revered relic in the United States, the historic Liberty Bell, which was to stop in Santa Ana on its trip from Los Angeles to San Dielo, failed to do so.

Insurance rates for dwellings and contents within the city limits of Santa Ana were reduced.

Mrs. A. M. Roberts, widow of Dr. A. M. Roberts, pioneer moving picture man of Santa Ana, was in this city on business.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

"I COME HERE TO HOLLER!"

Wheeler McMillen, in his incomparably intelligent book on the basic and baffling farm problem, "Too Many Farmers," tells two stories that point provocative and profound morals.

The scene of the first story was a political meeting in North Caroline. The ever vigorous Cole Blease had spoken.

"What did you think of Coley Blease's speech?" a fellow listener asked a farmer.

"Think? Hell, I didn't come here to think. I come here to holler!"

The second story tells of a North Carolina planter's reactions to what he saw in New York and how he applied what he saw to his business.

The planter went to New York to find out for himself whether he should hold or sel his large stock of tobacco.

He saw wharf after wharf laden with tobacco.

He saw still further cargoes of tobacco unloaded from ships.

"I've seen enough tobacco right here," he said, "to run the world for three years, and more shipped in by the carload."

He prepared to take the midnight train for home and to sell his entire stock. But he had some time to spend before midnight. He visited Broadway in the meantime. He found himself caught in the welter of humanity that swarms about Times Square in the rush of the theater hour. For blocks and blocks on Broadway, Forty-second street, and Seventh avenue, he saw a solid sea of humanity.

"I'm going to hold my tobacco," he said to his companion. "Why, there are enough people right here to use up all I saw today before tomorrow night."

I retell these two stories because they cut to the root of the problem of maintaining an intelligent civilization.

As society grows more complicated and technical, it becomes increasingly necessary that we bring reason rather than emotion to the determination of our affairs.

And yet we "come to holler" more often than we come to think when critical issues of politics, religion, or education are to the fore.

And as society grows more complicated and technical, it becomes imperative that we base our opinions and actions upon a full and fair statement of all the facts involved.

And yet, how often do we decide important issues upon the basis of a narrow and personal observation, no more adequate than the planter's hurried glance at a crowded wharf and a crowded street!

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SEEING IS BELIEVING

Did you ever notice that children can be surrounded by lovely things and not see them? They are not blind, of course. They see the world about them with the physical eye but until the seeing has been translated into vision by an inner power they alone can wield, they do not see.

Now what one sees one believes. There is no doubt about that. Nor is there any doubt that we believe much that is not true because we have not seen truly. Children's eyes have to be trained to see. It is not enough that a flower grows at his feet. He must see that flower. You will have to stoop and point out the form, the color, the beauty of its growth, sniff its perfumed breath before the child can see it.

It is necessary to take the little children by the hand and show them the world. Take the child in your care to visit the animals and make certain he knows them by name and characteristic. Show him the stars and speak of their glory and mystery. Point out the rare colors of the sunset, the dawn, the fall woodlands, the water in sun and shadow. What he sees he believes and you would have him believe beauty for it is truth.

The inner self of a child must have food. The physical eye gathers beauty and form and feeling for the inner eye to recreate and store for the next days' living. It is not possible for anyone, child or adult, to live happily on what the physical eye can see. There are many hours in the day when the soul retreats to its inner fastness and searches for food that sustains and supports. If the cupboard is bare the man perishes in failure and despair. What a man sees he believes and if he see nothing? If no sercet store awaits his need?

After the first early years when a child reads the world about him aided by your trained vision he turns to books to gather there what others have seen and believed before him. Again you must stand by and point out the beauty. Read bits of fine prose and poetry and say a brief word that indicates where the bright place shines. Teach him why this world is so lovely and that one so cheap. Read poetry to him so his soul steps to the music of the spirit of beauty. Do not fear to sing it if it sings itself. Do not be timid about thundering it if there is the voice of the gods within it. Read him the great writing, the beautiful songs, for seeing is believing and a loving voice opens wide the ears and the eyes of the sleeping soul.

By the same token omit all that is unlovely. If it must come explain it. Tell the child it is ugly and why it is so far it is as necessary to believe against ugliness as it is to believe in truth and beauty. Usually beauty is so positive that it crowds out the ugliness and leaves it no space. Dwell on truth and beauty.

Teach a child to see with his inner eye for what he truly sees that he believes. And what a man believes, that he is.

Hoover Pleads For Peace Preparedness In Address

SAYS NAVAL CUT CANNOT BE TOO LOW

STRESSES GOOD WILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(UP)—America's traditional demand for freedom of the seas found new emphasis today in the capital's reverberations to President Hoover's bold proposal that food ships be free from all interference by blockade in time of war.

Linked with this far reaching proposal in his Armistice day address to the American Legion last night in Washington auditorium, the chief executive outlined the administration's positive policy of "preparedness for peace." Such a policy, he declared, is as important to every nation as preparedness for defense.

As to naval reduction, President Hoover declared it cannot go too low to please the United States.

The address, delivered under the auspices of the American Legion, was broadcast over a nation-wide radio chain.

"I would place all vessels laden solely with food supplies on the same footing as hospital ships," President Hoover declared. "The time has come when we should remove starvation of women and children from the weapons of warfare."

The suggestion strikes to the core of the age old problem of the freedom of the seas, for it would abrogate the right of any power to enforce a sea blockade against the civilian population of an enemy nation.

The blockade has been traditionally sustained by British foreign and naval policy since Drake carried the Union Jack to domination of the seas by his victory over the Spanish armada in 1588.

The president especially disavowed any intention of injecting the question into the forthcoming London naval conference. This followed a like statement by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in London Saturday. However, diplomatic observers inclined to the view today that the president's proposal must lead soon to at least informal exchanges between the principal powers on the whole subject of the war time law of the sea.

"I know that any wide departure from accepted ideas requires long and searching examination," President Hoover said. "No idea can be perfected except on the anvil of debate. This is not a proposition for the forthcoming naval conference, as that session is for a definite purpose, and this proposal will not be injected into it."

The suggestion was born, he said, of "poignant personal experence."

Its adoption "would constitute a most important contribution to the rights of all parties, whether neutrals or belligerents and would greatly tend toward lessening the pressure for naval strength."

Nevada May Seek Dam Injunction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(UP) — Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, indicated today his state may seek cancellation by injunction of any contracts signed between the interior department and California interests for Boulder dam power unless Nevada demands are met.

Representatives of Nevada are insisting upon a provision in the contract that the state may withdraw smaller amounts of power than the 18 originally specified by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur and also that she be permitted to sell power outside the state.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO INSURE PEACEUL VOTE

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Stirred by further bloodshed in political riots at Vera Cruz, Leon, Guanajuato and Merida, Yucatan, the federal government prepared today to enforce by military precautions peaceful voting at the polls in Mexico's presidential election next Sunday.

Within 24 hours after Sunday's violent riot in Mexico City, reports were received of the wounding of 13 persons in clashes outside the capital.

Three followers of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, administration candidate for the presidency, were reported wounded in a pistol fight with supporters of the anti-reelectionist candidate, Jose Vasconcelos, in a cafe at Vera Cruz.

Official advices to the department of the interior said clashes had occurred between the Vasconcelistas and Oriz Rubio followers in Leon, Guanajuato and Merida, Yucatan. Five were wounded in each clash, the advices said.

The government instructions to the military included an order to troops of the federal district, comprising the capital and suburbs, to remain in their garrisons from now until after the election.

General Eulogio Ortiz, commanding the valley of Mexico, divided the district into military sectors and established patrols for each adjacent town. Companies will be held in readiness for transport in trucks to scenes of any disorders Sunday. General Ortiz warned the soldiers that they must remain impartial in the election, under pain of severe punishment.

While these preparations were under way, Dr. Manuel Puig Casauranc, chief of the federal district civil government, said that in accordance with the law, no troops or police could be dispatched to any polling place before the voting began. The law, he said, permits the sending of troops only after disturbances have started.

Acting Secretary of the Interior Felipe Canales announced after a conference with President Emilio Portes Gil that governors of all states would be asked to attempt the disarmament of every person except police and military.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN GETS UNDERWAY EARLY TODAY

ELEVEN KILLED IN STORM OFF ENGLISH COAST

Ships and Barges In Distress and Crew of 29 Reported Rescued

LONDON, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Gales and swift rain swept the south and west coasts of England early today after an all night storm of great intensity had battered vessels on the channel and caused many thousands of dollars of damage in coastal and inland cities.

There were 11 dead in the storm and the toll of casualties mounted steadily.

Many ships and barges were in distress or ashore along the south coast, including the Italian steamship Nimbo. The crew of 29 men was rescued from the Nimbo only after a rocket apparatus had been used to get lines aboard. A lifeboat that put out from Newhaven was unable to approach the 3870 ton ship because of the high seas.

Hundreds were marooned in their homes by floods, particularly in Wales where the Rhondda valley suffered heavy damage. The storm was severe throughout the British isles.

The towns of Porth, with 30,000 population, and Trehafod reported the flood waters from the Rhondda valley was 10 feet deep and damaging ships and houses. The storm continued early today, increasing the danger to the towns and marooned residents.

The Dee, Severn and Wye rivers, as well as the Rhondda, flooded large areas of farm land, drowning many head of livestock. All Cumberland service was disrupted in many sections, all airplane service was halted last night and communication lines were damaged.

The wind, which reached a velocity of 85 miles in other sections, tossed and battered ships on the channel throughout the night. The Belgian government steamship Jan Breydel, with 72 passengers aboard, was forced to anchor near Dunkirk because of rudder trouble. It was lashed by waves 30 feet high all night. Thirty ships were in shelter off Ramsgate, unable to ride the hurricane seas of the channel.

HUGE REWARDS OFFERED FOR TRAIN ROBBERS

Search for Bandits Extended Into Three States By Postal Authorities

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Search for the men who wrecked the West Coast Limited of the Southern Pacific and then robbed its passengers near Saugus Sunday night had spread to three states today.

The hunt centered here although Arizona and Nevada authorities were called upon to keep a close lookout for the road agent who endangered 100 lives to gain $300 in loot.

The search was quickened today when the post office department added $5,000 reward to that already announced by the Southern Pacific. The Southern Pacific announced it would pay $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of each participant in the train holdup.

The post office department indicated in posting its reward that one man carried out the wrecking and robbing plot. Other authorities have said that from one to four men took part in it.

The local sheriff's office claimed an excellent description of the bandit who went through the coaches taking valuables from passengers at the point of a gun.

Through a coat he evidently discarded in his flight toward Saugus they said they had discovered his name and they promised an early arrest.

His description was broadcast through the three states but officers were of the opinion he would be found in Los Angeles.

Near the topcoat which trailers located was a pair of gloves, commonly worn by trainmen. The finding of the gloves strengthened the belief that a disgruntled employee was associated with the act of vandalism.

The opinion was based originally on the expert manner in which he weakened the rails so that they gave way when the West Coast limited attempted to pass over.

Engineer Richard C. Ball, scalded by steam from the engine boiler as he was pinned in the wreckage when the engine, baggage car and smoker plunged off the rails and into a ditch, was reported recovering today. He was the only person injured.

EXPLOSIVES FOUND UNDER MOVIE STAGE

Further search of studio sets nearby revealed 50 pounds of powder, some fuses and other electric detonators.

Police were called by the watchman and were of the opinion the bomb was placed about two months ago. It was believed that the bombers had been frightened away before completing their work.

Officials of the studio were to be questioned today in an effort to learn if there had been any trouble at the studio.

First Report Will Be Made On Wednesday

Meeting Tomorrow Will Be With Kiwanis Club at Inn at 12 o'Clock

THE annual Community Chest drive swung off on the wings of the wind today and leaders are looking forward to a fine report at the first official meeting with the Kiwanis club tomorrow noon at St. Ann's Inn. The reports will be made by divisions, with the totals listed on a large blackboard, to show the progress that has been made during the first day and a half of the four-day campaign.

"Be a good neighbor" is the slogan of the drive for funds with which the work of the nine member agencies will be conducted during the ensuing year, and Chest leaders are asking that the citizens of Santa Ana observe that in two ways—first by contributing as generously as possible for the assistance of those less fortunate than the donors, and second, by making the task of the solicitors as easy as possible by treating them like good neighbors when they call.

E. B. DeGroot, executive secretary of the Los Angeles council of the Boy Scouts of America, is to be the speaker tomorrow at the joint meeting with the Kiwanis club, and the Chest workers are expecting a worth while message from this leader who is an active member of the Chest in Los Angeles. The noon meeting will be brief, it was announced today by R. R. Miller, secretary-manager of the Santa Ana Chest, with the workers to be dismissed at 1:20. The meeting is to commence at 12 o'clock.

The industrial division of the Chest workers was organized in a meeting at Chest headquarters, 510 North Broadway, at 11 o'clock today, when the various team members met and were given their prospect cards and instructions. Harry D. Riley, chairman of the industrial division, presided at the take off meeting of his group.

The personnel of the industrial division follows:

Richfield Oil company, Mr. Cary; B. J. MacMullen company, J. W. McCain; Careful Laundry, Mrs. Anna Tavis; O. H. Egge company, O. H. Egge; Standard Oil company, Mr. Sprinkle; Shell Oil company, L. G. MAN HELD IN EUREKA ON KIDNAPING COUNT

Wilbur Mason, 21, formerly of Garden Grove, today was being held in Eureka Calif., on a charge of kidnaping a 14-year-old Garden Grove girl, for whom the sheriff's office here has been searching throughout Southern California for several weeks, Herman Zabel, of the sheriff's force announced this morning.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan was to leave here this afternoon for Eureka to return the man and the girl to Orange county.

Following the first announcement that the girl was missing from her home, a trip was made by relatives of the girl to Imperial county on a tip that the couple might be found there. Since that time, according to Zabel, a quiet investigation has been going on, which resulted in the man's arrest by Eureka authorities last night.

COMMUNITY CHEST APPEAL

In addition to that body of public-spirited and unselfish men and women who have volunteered for service and now are soliciting subscriptions to the Community Chest fund, one other enlistment is essential to the success of the campaign, viz. the CONSCIENCE OF SANTA ANA.

The youth of our community constitutes our most precious asset; the relief of our unfortunate is our duty and obligation; the welfare and relief agencies concerned are worthily and economically administered, and the budget fixed is less per capita than that contributed in past years by the average Pacific Coast community.

The ABILITY of this community to contribute the sum asked is universally conceded. Success is merely a matter of CONSCIENTIOUS as contrasted with "get-by" subscriptions. It is most earnestly urged that the silent monitor be a partner in the Community Chest subscription this week.

W. A. TAYLOR,
President, Santa Ana Community Chest.

Pantages In Four-Hour Visit To Home

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Alexander Pantages, the multi-millionaire showman, was permitted to leave his county jail cell yesterday for a second visit to the bedside of his wife.

Pantages, sentenced to serve from one to 50 years in state's prison on a conviction of attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, was in the family home for four hours.

Lloyd Pantages, a son, said that his mother was much cheered by the visit. Mrs. Pantages has been ill since her manslaughter conviction in the automobile crash death of Juro Rokumoto. She was paroled recently.

BOOTLEG RING UNCOVERED BY FEDERAL MEN

Information Alleged to Involve Names of Nationally Known People

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1929, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(UP)—information alleged to involve a number of nationally prominent men and women in large liquor transactions was before the justice department today, the United Press learned authoritatively.

The case closely interlocks with the government's New York indictment against Count Polignac, head of the Go-Bart company and representative of a foreign champagne company, on a charge of conspiracy to violate the dry law and of alleged smuggling of liquor.

It was also understood details in the case had been sent to the White House.

The case involves the operations of an alleged bootleg ring, its customers, and the activities of federal officers.

The justice department has received from the prohibition bureau data that a prominent New York business man had a bootleg ring smuggle 245 cases of liquor from abroad to his suburban estate. Later the man, after dry agents learned of his cache, surrendered the liquor and it is now stored at the army base in New York.

MRS. FALL TO FIGHT VERDICT OF JURORS

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 12.—(UP)—Mrs. Albert B. Fall, wife of the former secretary of interior, said today she is determined to make a relentless fight to upset the conviction of her husband of bribery charges, which she stoutly maintains were brought against him "by his enemies."

She pointed to the story told her by Daniel Weisbach, a member of the jury that convicted Fall, that he was "bullied" into his vote through the efforts of Thomas E. Norris, jury foreman, as a substantiating factor that her husband is innocent.

Mrs. Fall said Weisbach told her he finally decided to vote for conviction because he was worried about his wife, who was an expectant mother. She said Wiesbach came to her and asked "forgiveness for the terrible mistake I have made."

Heavy Wind From Desert Scatters Sand Over Roads

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 12.—(UP)—A heavy wind blew in from the desert today, causing minor damage in this vicinity and scattering sand over the country side.

Radio aerials and hanging signs were blown down here while trees were damaged in some instances. The highway commission reported that all roads were open although sand was spreading on some.

Redlands and Ontario were other cities to report the windstorm.

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE CLIPPED OFF

BIG ISSUE DROPS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(UP)—All efforts to stay continuation of the reaction on the stock exchange proved unavailing today. Prices crashed to new low levels for the year and several billion dollars were clipped from values.

United States Steel fluctuated over a broad range, came near its low for the year and was bid up sensationally; but the rally failed to hold and the issue came down faster than it had advanced.

Steel was carried to 163½ from a low of 157¼. It only stayed at that point momentarily and then sank point after point until it broke through its old low of the year of 167⅛. From there the descent was precipitous, and the whole market was thrown into confusion.

Tickers were running three-quarters of an hour late.

At 11:30 steel was at 153½, according to quotations carried on the bond tickers. At that price it was off 6 points or about $48,000,000 in market valuation.

Other prices at 11:30 included General Electric 185½ off 7½ and a new low for the year; Union Pacific 201 off 14; Westinghouse Electric 110 off 8¾; American and Foreign Power 55 off 6.

Dealings were again very active. In the first half hour sales totaled 1,556,900 shares, more than double the same period of yesterday. At noon the total reached 4,234,000 shares, compared with 1,644,100 shares for the same period yesterday.

Shortly after noon stock tickers were trailing 52 minutes behind actualy quotations and curb tickers were more than a half hour late.

Bond trading was heavy, sales to noon totaling $11,324,000 against $7,603,000 in the first two hours yesterday.

In event he recovers sufficiently Edelson may leave here Friday morning and fly to Chicago in time for the game.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

When you cease giving undue attention to the impression you hope you are making upon other people, affectation will disappear from your speech and manners and the charm of your real self will re-assert itself. The glorious thing about it is that you will be so much happier.

There is a subconscious sense of slavery resultant upon the all-too-prevalent habit of dwelling upon other people's opinion of you and upon their appreciation of what you are going through.

Forget it. Face your problems simply and naturally, and quietly do your best without wearing your heart on your sleeve. There is so much for you to do that you must not pause to peep.

AMBULANCE ON WAY TO WRECK SCENE CRASHES

Nine persons were reported injured in five traffic accidents in Orange county over Armistice day. With one exception, none of those injured is believed to be in a serious condition.

A Mexican, Tom Barone, 25, of 2425 South Avenue 18, Los Angeles, almost bled to death from a severe cut in his neck before he could be rushed to the Orange County hospital from near La Habra, where the car in which he was riding collided with another machine.

The man with whom he was riding, Cruz Garcia, 29, of 449 Salvana street, Los Angeles, was arrested by State Traffic Officers Barnhill and Sawyer and is being held in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. A county hospital ambulance, rushing to remove Barone to the hospital, was involved in a crash en route to La Habra.

Two Girls Hurt

The Garcia machine was reported to have collided with a machine driven by D. F. Haines, of La Habra. In Haines' car were Marjorie and Dorothy Widick, both of whom were reported hurt. They were not brought to the hospital, however.

The ambulance drived by Frank Merrill, of the Orange County hospital, crashed into a car driven by F. A. Martin, of 220 Otis building here, on the way to the scene of the accident, on Placentia boulevard near the county fair grounds. No one was reported hurt in the accident.

Merrill reported at the sheriff's office that one car which he said was to blame for the accident, failed to heed the siren or the red light on the ambulance. After the crash, Merrill reported, he gave chase to the car which he believed responsible for the wreck and, overtaking the machine, obtained the driver's name and address.

Hospital authorities said today that Barone's condition was serious but that he would live. Loss of blood caused the serious condition, it was reported, the man suffering from a severed artery in his neck.

Frank Parker, of 944 1-2 Oxford street, Los Angeles, was treated in the Santa Ana Valley hospital last night for cuts and bruises received when he was run down by an automobile driven by A. B. Rankin, of 3544 Thirty-second street, San Diego, at a point on the state highway three miles south of Tustin.

Was Changing Tire

A report of the accident was on file at the state traffic office today, having been made by D. D. Adams, state officer. Parker was changing a tire at the side of the road when the Rankin machine struck him while attempting to go around another machine, Adams reported.

E. E. Campbell, 43, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, driving his car on Chapman avenue, Sunday, collided with a machine driven by E. W. Briggs, of route No. 2, Anaheim, according to a report made at the office of the state traffic department today. Briggs was slightly injured in the accident.

Mrs. Lois Dubb, 29, of 3441 Hunter street, Los Angeles, and her 4-year-old son, Ronald, were treated in the Orange County hospital, yesterday, for injuries received in an automobile accident near Orange.

The boy was cut on the left cheek and Mrs. Dubb suffered injuries to her arms, it was reported.

Elizabeth Staes, 21, of 1520 East Eighty-seventh place, Los Angeles, was cut about the face in an automobile accident in Orange yesterday. She was taken to the Orange County hospital.

Carl Sewell, of 3447 Forty-fourth place, San Diego, was given medical treatment in the Orange County hospital yesterday for an injured knee, received when he fell off his motorcycle on the highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

AUTOIST VICTIM OF DARING HOLDUP MEN

Two men, who appeared to be foreigners, robbed Lee C. Hughs, 20, of 904 North Olive street, Anaheim, of $4.50 last night, and then forced their victim to drive them to Fullerton, according to a story Hughs told officers.

Hughs claimed that as he was driving his car in an alley, two men appeared and ordered him to give them his money.

After the robbery, Hughs said, they made him drive to Fullerton, where the bandits alighted and boarded another car.

BICYCLE CRAZE BACK IN FAVOR OF PARISIENNE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Bicycling has come back into favor with a bang among fashionable women and the Bois de Boulogne these days recalls the Victorian scene when the world in general and women in particular went cycling crazy.

The bicycle, according to those who ought to know; turned the first wheel as it were on the road towards feminine emancipation and therefore it is appropriate that the women should turn again and resurrect the machine which everyone thought had passed for ever from popularity.

A certain American film star—Mary Pickford—is responsible for the bicycle's revival. Mary has been spending a few months' vacation in Paris recently and one day she was caught by a photographer in the early hours of the morning bicycling around the Bois de Boulogne. The few passers-by stared in curiosity but did not recognize the film idol. That was for the knowing photographer.

The picture of the smiling star awheel in the fashionable Bois appeared in all the Paris newspapers and gave an odd thrill to feminine France, evoking memories of the times when the road to Auteuil and Longchamp was a happy highway where bicycles and barouches—with the inevitable plum-pudding dog plodding alongside—mingled in leisured speed. Then the smell of petrol, the roar of auto motors were unknown and undreamed of.

Health Crusade

Largely, too, the new health crusade in France has given an impetus to the bicycle mode for women. This crusade has seen the creation of innumerable health and naturist centers. But many women, not interested in these centers, yet wanted to follow the new cuilt in a milder form. Tired of automobiles and the clash and din of the streets and roads, they have taken to the bicycle as a means of health and pleasure which everyone had forgoten.

Apparently the craze will not be a passing fancy. The big cycle manufacturers in France are working at full pressure turning out women's bicycles and it is predicted that the time may come when France will rival the northern, particularly the Scandinavian countries, for the number of bicycles per head of population.

Which explains why the manufacturers here feel intensely grateful to the cinema star who decided to go awheel in the early mornings amongst the leafy glades of the quiet Bois.

A Sheep, a Frog a Duck, a Skunk, to market went one day, and not one of that Fair Crowd had the means wherewith to pay. The Sheep he had four quarters, the Frog a green back had; the Duck a bill, but the only scent the poor Skunk had was bad.

JURY REPORTS CRASH DEATH WAS ACCIDENT

R. E. McKinney, 25, of Santa Ana, who was almost instantly killed, Sunday night, when the motorcycle he was riding, crashed headon into an automobile driven by Sylvester Sanches, 16, 1062 Marietta street, Los Angeles, one mile south of Buena Park, came to his death in an accidental manner, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury, which held an inquest over the body this morning in the Seale Undertaking parlors, in Fullerton.

McKinney was riding on the motorcycle with Roscoe Cooke, of 2015 South Ross street, Santa Ana, at the time. Cooke suffered a broken knee cap.

According to the report of the accident, as made by state traffic officers, the motorcycle was being operated in a reckless manner and without lights when the accident took place. At the same time, the officers declared, the car driven by Sanchez, and containing several members of his family, was on the wrong side of the road and was cutting in on another machine at the time.

Dominano Sanchez, 29, and Gregorio Sanchez, 10, were hurt in the accident. They are in the Orange County hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises. A baby was thrown out of the car and escaped injury.

A sister of the dead man identified the body today at the inquest. Funeral services are to be announced when word is received from McKinney's mother, who is in Oregon.

HESEMAN MAY HEAD NEWPORT YACHTING CLUB

In anticipation of the annual election of officers of the Newport Harbor Yacht club to be held in the clubhouse in East Newport on Saturday night, December 7, the nominating committee met late last week and made a selection of names to present formally on that occasion.

Of special interest to all who have appreciated the services of Leon Heseman, of Riverside, as secretary over a period of several years, will come the news that he has been selected as the official nominee for the position of commodore to succeed D. F. Axelson, incumbent. Alfred E. Rogers was named as vice commodore, while Axelson will automatically take the position of rear commodore. W. C. Evans was the chosen nominee for the treasureship, while a list of eight directors was proposed, from which the members will choose four, those receiving the most votes to be placed in office.

The eight names submitted were C. E. Huffman, Frank S. Hutton, W. H. Rohl, George B. Shattuck, E. B. Shideler, G. L. Stimson, James M. Webster and L. R. Wilson. These men represent various cities and communities in the Southland, for the Newport club draws its membership from Los Angeles and Riverside counties as well as from Orange county. George B. Shattuck is the single Santa Ana man represented on the proposed list of officers.

ELEVEN KILLED IN STORMS OFF ENGLISH COAST

calls throughout the night, the Dungeness lifeboat crew being caught in great danger while aiding another boat. It was aided by other lifeboats.

The Southern Railway steamship Canterbury crashed into a harbor embankment entering Dover and the passengers were thrown into a panic when the lights went out.

A troops train was derailed at Headcorn, Kent, and several other trains were derailed, one north of Porth. Passengers from Cardiff and Swansea were marooned when floods surrounded the station. Several air liners were forced to make emergency landings.

The giant dirigible R-101, moored at Cardington, faced a gale of 83 miles an hour. The entire crew was summoned aboard the ship and it rode the storm splendidly, the air ministry announced. Officials said the dirigible performance was outstanding in airship history.

The dangerous situation at Porth was caused by collapse of a wall along the Rhondda river, permitting the water to rush into the low sections of the town. The main street was flooded and houses, shops and the post office were partly under water. Hundreds of persons were marooned in the upper stories of their homes, most of them in their bedrooms where they were asleep when the storm started.

Scores of houses at Trehafod, a mile distant, were partly under water and the rain continued.

The gale increased in force in London between 2 a. m. and 3 a. m. and was severe at dawn. Despite the storm crowds continued to visit the cenotaph and leave flowers in memory of the war dead until late in the night.

Murderer Fires Tents, Wagons At Fair In Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 12.—(UP)—Police today were searching for a man believed to have shot and killed an unidentified member of the Abner K. Kline shows at the Arizona state fair grounds yesterday and then fired the tents and wagons of the show.

Firemen called to extinguish the blaze found the body with a bullet hole through the head. No gun could be found in the ashes, leading police to believe the man had been murdered. The body was so badly burned that identification was impossible.

ticability of the ideas he recalled that the Belgian relief commission, which he headed himself for more than three years, delivered more than 2000 shiploads of food through two rings of blockade continuously through the full duration of the war.

Reviewing the events which led to the calling of the London conference, the chief executive declared that the United States was ready to reduce her navy in proportion to any other power.

"Having said that," he continued, "it remains for the others to say how low they will go. It cannot be too low for us."

Recalling the "high purpose for which we entered the war," Mr. Hoover outlined "the new vision of diplomacy which is dawning upon the world."

"We desire to see all humanity relieved of the hideous blight of war and of the cruelties and injustices that lead to war," he said, adding the outlook for peace is brighter today than for half a century, but the world still lives in a state of "armed peace."

"The men under arms, including active reserves, in the world are almost 30,000,000 in number, or nearly 10,000,000 more than before the war.

"Aircraft and other instruments of destruction are far more potent war."

The great task of statesmanship today, the president asserted, is to achieve peace through organized effort, without sacrifice of national independence or those broad principles of international justice which are the foundation stones of civilization itself.

"This road requires preparedness for defense; it, equally requires preparedness for peace."

Mr. Hoover said the state department should be strengthened and supported as a great arm of government "dedicated to the organization of peace."

Excerpts from his address follow:

"We have need to define the rules of conduct of nations and to formulate an authoritative system of international law."

"We have need, under proper reservations, to support the world court."

"We are interested in all methods that can be devised to assure the settlement of all controversies between nations."

"It has been my cherished hope to organize positively the foreign relations of the United States on this high foundation and to do it in reality, not simply in diplomatic phrases."

BOOTLEG RING UNCOVERED BY FEDERAL MEN

data that a prominent moving picture star, a former diplomat, and several nationally prominent women, were the "best customers" of the bootleg ring had been turned over to United States District Attorney Tuttle at New York.

Tuttle is expected to decide, after court action on the Count Polignac case, whether conspiracy indictments will be sought against the customers of the ring.

Federal agents are working also to determine whether the steamship company which transported liquor—1100 gallons smuggled in as dinner ware and 85 cases as earthenware—should be prosecuted.

Meantime an investigation has started to learn whether prohibition or custom agents connived with the bootleg ring. It was learned federal officers believe they were acting as under cover sleuths in tracing the shipments.

At least one of the customers of the ring, it was learned, furnished trucks to the liquor smugglers so the whiskey and rare cordials could be transported from his estate to a federal store depot when his purchases were detected.

Carbon copies of orders taken from prominent customers of the rum ring have been seized by the government and held pending determination of the case.

Names of persons known to millions of newspaper readers were on the order sheets.

MAN NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH AS HOME BURNS

A. B. McDonald, 60, of Seventh and Acacia streets, Huntington Beach, narrowly escaped burning to death at 1 o'clock this morning, when he awoke to discover his house a mass of flames.

McDonald leaped out a second story window and broke his right leg. When firemen and officers arrived and pushed McDonald's car from the garage they discovered the man in his machine.

In the kitchen of the home officers said they discovered six fivegollon kegs of wine, which were removed to the police station. McDonald was brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Despite a stiff wind, firemen were able to prevent adjoining property from burning.

The McDonald home was reduced to ashes. It was a large frame structure and McDonald was the sole occupant. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Tells Dyspeptics What to Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce excessive stomach acidity and consequent indigestion. By omitting from daily meals those foods that experience proves do not agree and limiting the diet to certain tasteless unappetizing foods, stomach troubles may in many instances, be slowly overcome. Nine times in ten, however, indigestion, gas, etc., are due to excessive acidity and the premature souring of food in the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by freeing it of this extra acid and then sufferers can eat the foods they like best and as much as they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after every meal a little Bisurated Magnesia, which can be had at any good drug store in either powder or tablet form. Bisurated Magnesia instantly neutralizes stomach acids, stops food fermentation and meals digest as naturally and painlessly as in the stomach of a healthy child. Stomach comfort means a lot and most folks like good things to eat. Enjoy them both by making Bisurated Magnesia your daily after-eating protection.—Adv.

MOOSE LODGE WILL CONDUCT MEMBER DRIVE

Santa Ana lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose tomorrow night will open a membership campaign in which it is expected to add several hundred new members to the local lodge. Members have secured the services of J. F. McCracken, supervisor, to conduct their campaign. He has had 14 years' experience in membership campaigns and instituting new lodges for the order and is considered one of the most successful men in the organization department of the Moose. He is also active in a number of other fraternal organizations.

Wednesday evening, November 27 the lodge will initiate a large class of candidates, with special entertainment and a banquet after the meeting. The degree staff and drill team from San Pedro will have charge of the initiation, and there will be delegations present from Long Beach, Anaheim, San Bernardino, Pomona, Whittier and Los Angeles.

James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the president's cabinet, was founder of the Moose and is director general of the order. The order maintains the world's largest vocational school for widows and orphans of members. Since it was established in 1913 over twelve millions of dollars have been spent in building "Mooseheart," where 1700 children and 300 mothers are accommodated at present with several hundred having already been graduated from the school. "Moosehaven," located near Jacksonville, Fla., is the home for aged and infirm members of the order.

The local lodge pays sick and death benefits and has other special benefits for its members. During the approaching campaign a special dispensation has been granted to the lodge from the supreme lodge to reduce the regular initiation fee. Campaign headquarters will be maintained at 310 Bush street and at the Moose hall.

TICKETS FOR 'LA TRAVITA,' TO BE PRESENTED HERE ON NOVEMBER 26, GO ON SALE

Sale of tickets for Santa Ana's premiere presentation of Verdi's famous grand opera, "La Traviata," scheduled for presentation Tuesday night, November 26, in the Fox Spurgeon theater by the Orange County Grand Opera company, opened this morning in the Santa Ana Book store.

A popular scale of prices, ranging from $1 to $2.50, has been set for this event, thus making enjoyment of real grand opera here possible for all at rates hitherto unavailable even in the large cities, where grand opera is a much-anticipated annual treat.

Noting the eagerness with which reservations have been coming in from all parts of the county the last two weeks, those in charge of tickets for the operatic performance urge that the public not postpone securing tickets for this event as soon as possible, to avoid last-minute disappointment.

Rehearsals of the entire score of "Traviata" are being held at regular and frequent intervals in Los Angeles by the entire cast of the opera company, preparatory to this brilliant entertainment which music lovers here anticipate will be one of the most momentous events in Santa Ana musical progress.

Several Santa Ana, persons who have been so fortunate as to have been allowed to attend recent rehearsals of "Traviata" in Los Angeles, do not hesitate to speak in glowing terms of the noted artists composing the cast, also the capable directors in charge, Guido H. Caselotti, founder and director of the company; D. C. Cianfoni, officiating as musical director, and the large chorus of 50 singers, some of whom have been chosen from Orange county's own talented artists.

It is interesting to note that music for "La Traviata" was entirely composed by Verdi, king of Italian operatic composers, within a months' time, being written at the height of his creative activity. It first was presented in eVnice, on March 6, 1953. Its New York premiere occurred three years later, on Dec. 3, 1856.

Recent years have brought many notable productions of this famous opera, which is one of the most universally favored in all operatic repertoire.

The most famous singers, both of the past generation and the present day, including Patti, Melba, Tetrazzini, Farrar, Gluck, Sembrich, Hempel, Caruso and McCormac, have been proud to fill leading roles in "La Traviata."

The celebrated Adelina Patti's operatic debut was made in "Traviata," as well as Mme. Tetrazzini's first appearance both in New York and London.

Vocally speaking, the leading role of Violetta, to be filled here on November 26 by Mme. Maria Caselotti, is an admirable one for display of marvelous colortura. It is likewise a role demanding the highest degree of emotional warmth and dramatic instinct, qualities for which Mme. Caselotti already has won enviable renown, both in Europe and eastern musical centers.

More and More COLDS treated externally

A GENERATION ago when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, more and more colds are treated this modern way, and the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks, because it checks colds without risk of upsetting delicate little stomachs. Of course it is equally good for adults. Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

To keep pace with the ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds, the famous Vick slogan has again been changed, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Women Have Something to Say!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has ridiculed into oblivion that ancient prejudice which excluded women from a voice in council. Today, in millions of homes, the delicious flavor of LUCKY STRIKE fills the room as the family group respects the opinion of its women folk.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognised by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

COLLEGE COSTS WILL BE TOLD BY COMMITTEE

Pointing out that committees are expected to present reports on the probable cost of a junior college for the south half of the county and to suggest a curriculum, H. A. Lake, chairman of the committee on education of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, today urged full attendance at the meeting of the committee to be held in the music room in the Santa Ana high school, at 7:30 p. m., Thursday.

Boards of education of high schools and [illegible] of the county, the board of supervisors and educators generally have been invited to attend the session. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The committee appointed at a previous meeting to suggest a curriculum, has visited the Chaffey, Riverside and San Bernardino junior colleges and has secured curriculum information upon which to base the report to be submitted Thursday night.

The subcommittee on possible costs of instituting and maintaining a junior college in the south half of the county also has been making investigations and its report is expected to give valuable information on costs.

Representatives of the various school bodies of the county have been called into the meeting so that those directing school operations may get better acquainted with some of the details.

NOTICE TO CITIZENS

Living along or near the new Bus routes

While we have not taken off any territory formerly covered by the Pacific Electric, we have added two miles of new streets by making loop trips out of both the West Second and East Washington lines. On the West Second line, we are now covering Ross street from Fourth to Sixth, Sixth to Bristol, Bristol to Eighth, Eighth to Artesia, and Artesia to Fourth. We then return to the business center via Artesia, Second, Parton and Fourth. On the East Washington line, we are covering Logan street and Fruit street to Minter. Under our permit from the city, a line that is operated for 90 days and proves to be losing money, can be taken off. This is done that operations over unprofitable territory may not cripple or destroy the entire service.

We urge you who live on or near the new lines to use the busses at once so we may know whether the new streets can be covered with profit and become permanent lines. This is to your advantage. Your property is of more value both from a sale or rental standpoint, if you can say that a bus runs near you from 32 to 50 times each day. If you will learn the bus hours and get the bus habit, you will find it a great convenience. From a strictly business viewpoint, it would be a good investment to buy a few bus tokens each month and give them away if you could not use them. Not to help the bus operator but to help keep the busses running near you instead of having them run in some other part of the city.

WIFE BEATER GETS COUNTY JAIL TERM

Beating up his wife failed to prove such a pleasant pastime for Harry Rutherford, of 513 East Chartres street, Anaheim, who today was in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court charged with being drunk and assault and battery.

He was sentenced to serve 90 days on the assault charge and 30 days on the drunk charge after he had entered a plea of guilty to both counts.

Rutherford was arrested by State Traffic Officers Adams and Yoder when the officers passed near Chapman avenue and Haster street, where the beating is said to have occurred.

They arrested Rutherford then and his wife yesterday signed a complaint against him. She was not in court this morning.

SELECTING BRIDAL LINENS

In choosing from the bewildering range of patterns and colors which make the new damask so interesting this season, the autumn bride should visualize the ensemble effect of china, silver, glass and linen, advises the November American Home.

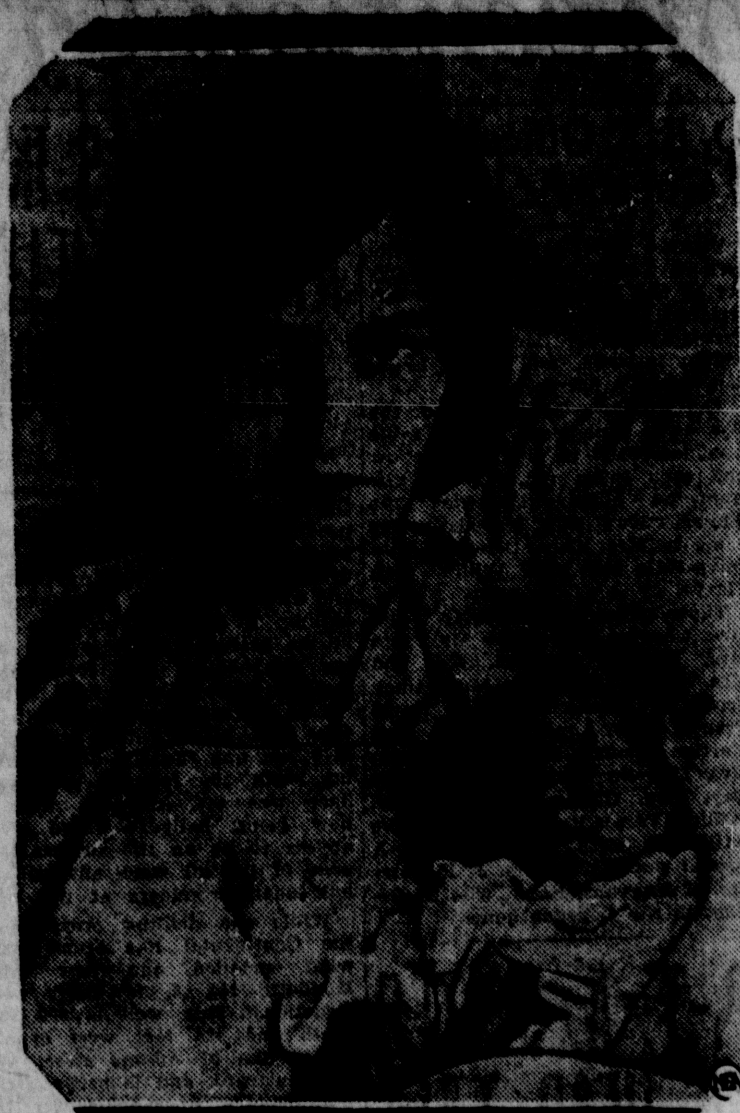
The bride who furnishes her dining room in the pine, maple, or cherry of early pioneer days will delight in the "Good Ship Mayflower" pattern on her tablecloth.

The home with the more ceremonious furnishings of a later era calls for such patterns as the Indian Scroll or the distinctive motifs of Chippendale or the Adam brothers to complement its mahogany.

For the modernistic room, a cloth reflecting this vivid influence from its well-styled and interesting geometric pattern may serve as the background for the radical notes in the twentieth century glass and china.

FIRST AIR BABY

It wasn't an air male, as might be supposed, but a 7 1-2 pound daughter who was born to Mrs. Margaret Evans in an airplane flying 1200 feet above Miami, Fla. The mother and the baby "airess" are picture above after the first aerial birth on record. In the "flying maternity hospital"—a large cabin plane—were nurses, a doctor, relatives of the mother, and two pilots. An airy name is being sought for the child.



TUSTIN

Guests in the V. L. Humeston home are H. B. Humeston, of San Bernardino, and mother-in-law, Mrs. S. T. Stanley.

Mr. Deaver, who has been ill in the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Ritner, of South B street, has been removed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where he is reported to be doing very nicely.

Recent guests of Mrs. Alice Albee Sunday were E. S. Rohr and Mr. and Mrs. Huston, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nielson, of First street, are mourning the loss of their nine-year-old son, who died at an Anaheim hospital yesterday morning. The child had been ill since Saturday.

An accident occurred Saturday evening at the corner of Pacific and First streets, when a coupe, driven by Mrs. Beras, of West Main street, collided with a touring car driven by Edwin Eisenhau, of Santa Ana. The Ford was struck just as the driver attempted to make a left hand turn from First street onto Pacific avenue. No one was reported hurt, but both cars were damaged.

REDECORATING POINTERS

Are you redecorating some of your rooms this fall? Choose wall coverings or papers with backgrounds of buff yellow, or salmon pink to warm rooms with northern exposures, and warm gray, yellow-green, or blue for southern.

Paint the woodwork white or the same color as the walls; the latter scheme, by eliminating a network of wood trim lines, helps to give a feeling of spaciousness and restfulness to a small room. If the ceiling is low, it should be the same color as the walls, or just a shade lighter; this is a great help in giving the effect of height.—From the November American Home.

PHYSICAL TEST OF PRE-SCHOOL KIDDIES URGED

By J. F. McLAUGHLIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 11.—Long periods of sickness, when school children fall behind in their grades, will be largely eliminated if a plan being tried by the state department of public health proves successful.

Physical examination of pre-school children is the idea which the state department is developing. Nearly 13,000 California children, who entered school for the first time this fall, were given the examination.

Dr. W. M. Dickie, head of the state department, outlined the plan at the recent governor's council meeting.

"The provision of physical examinations for children who are about to enter school for the first time is productive of most beneficial results," he said.

"The state is spending vast sums of money for the education of its children. Those who are unable to attendschool because of poor physical condition constitute an economic waste involving the loss of large sums of money to the state.

"The correction of physical defects before entering school enables children to attend classes without interruption and enables them to carry on their school work successfully. Future losses to the state through possible indigency because of physical disability are thus prevented.

"A more immediate gain is the prevention of wastage of large amounts of school money. It is through the maintenance of high daily attendance and through uninterrupted attendance that school funds are greatly conserved."

Members of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the state department of public health, in co-operation with the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, conducted the examinations this fall.

Most of the children appearing before the bureau lived in rural districts of the state, where organized facilities for child care are not available. A total of 48 counties was covered by the bureau.

Examinations were conducted by competent physicians, many of whom donated their services. These doctors noted the condition of the heart, lungs, eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth and the weight and posture of the children.

Decayed teeth was the most common fault found among the children. The next most common defect encountered was diseased nose and throat. A large number of children were found to be under weight and faulty posture was common.

INQUEST TODAY INTO DEATH OF EFFIE WILSON

Inquest into the death of Effie Wilson, 46, of 1539 Fifth street, Santa Monica, who was killed Sunday morning when the automobile in which she was riding with several other persons plunged over the embankment at the overhead bridge near Galivan, will be held late this afternoon in the Divel Funeral parlors in San Clemente, Coroner Charles D. Brown announced.

The woman was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. Elizabeth Ashley, all of Los Angeles. Smith was driving the machine and was the only one not injured. Mrs. Smith received serious injuries. She was taken to Los Angeles, after receiving medical attention in the San Clemente hospital.

In its plunge of 40 feet, the car missed the end of the bridge only by inches, it was said. Smith reported that the curve leading to the bridge was sharper than he expected and that he couldn't make it.

Officers Seeking San Diego Child

Sheriff's officers and city police today were asked to search for Perry Woods, 14-year-old San Diego girl, who is missing from her home and who is believed to have headed this way in an old car. The girl is described as having red hair, weighs 125 pounds and is five feet, four inches in height. She was wearing a green skirt and cream colored shoes when last seen, it was reported.

Kitty Quill, who used to supply King Edward with flowers and was permitted to use the Royal Arms on her basket, died recently at Eastbourne, England, aged 68.

Courtesy Causes Laguna Visitor To Erect Residence

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 12.—Two examples of the advertising value of courtesy came to light this week.

A woman who spent five weeks in this community this summer told the state librarian of the courteous treatment and the interest shown in her work by Mrs. Herbert Case, librarian here. The visitor is now at the College of the Pacific at Stockton. The state librarian sent the letter to Miss Margaret Livingston, Orange county library head.

The other example is that of a visitor who wanted to rent a house. He inquired at a real estate office, was informed that that particular office did not handle rentals, but was personally conducted to one which specialized in this work. The visitor was so favorably impressed by this neighborly attitude and helpfulness that he returned to this city, purchased a valuable residential lot and has a large house in course of construction.

TWO WELLS IN ATWOOD FIELD FLOWING SOON

ATWOOD, Nov. 12.—Efforts are being made by the Continental Oil company to put two wells on production, Lypps No. 1 and Winann No. 3. The latter was drilled to a depth of 4546 feet and after a week of pumping and bailing, a cement plug was put in the bottom and it is now being swabbed at 3500 feet. Fearing the same trouble with Lypps No. 1, it was plugged at depth of 4570 feet after being drilled to 487[illegible] feet and the 6 5-8 inch casing, with [illegible]00 feet of perforated liner was set, and the well is now being bailed. These wells appear to be on the southeastern edge of the oil zone, and will be but small producers at the best.

While the drilling program of the Continental has been somewhat curtailed, one new well, Mondotte No. 2, is under construction. This well is 350 feet south and 425 feet west of the center line of Adams street and the boulevard, and is between the Continental's Ross-Schlachter No. 1 which is drilling at 3606 feet and Mondotte No. 1, said to be the best producer south of the Santa Fe tracks. Just across the street from Mondotte No. 1 the Arrowhead Oil company's Zuckerman No. 1 is drilling at 4065 feet with 380 feet of oil sand.

Just west of these wells, the Superior Oil company is running the oil string in Guarantee No. 2. This well has been redrilled from 3900 feet down to 4500 feet in the hope of improving the production.

The Superior's two western test wells, Griffith No. 1 and Bennett No. [illegible] are drilling ahead at 3700 feet and 3100 feet respectively, and showings are said to look good. The Superior wildcat well, Davis No. 1, on Dowling road is up and will soon be ready to spud in.

The Jimsco well north of the boulevard is drilling in boulders at 600 feet and has had hard drilling most of the way.

The house was beautifully decorated in autumn flowers and the bride's attendants, all schoolmates, carried out the autumn motif, being attired in various shades of brown, from the goldren brown of autumn leaves to the deep russet brown of favorite autumn flowers.

The Rev. Mr. Watkins of the Newport Beach church performed the ceremony, the bridal couple standing under a large white wedding bell and in front of an altar banked with ferns and chrysanthemums. The bride's father gave her in marriage and dainty Marie Starck was the ring bearer.

The bride's attendants were Hazel Meurs, Margaret Hoefner, Frances Gordon, Virginia Wurdinger, Edith Gage, Dorothy Cottle, Etta Belle Patterson, Josephine Starck, Ruby Shafer, Thelma Gehres, Hester Sanborn, Virginia Rugg. Tate McMilland was best man.

After a short honeymoon the young couple will reside in Puente.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Nov. 12.—Dick Fuller, of the Costa Mesa pharmacy, had as guest in his home Sunday, a brother, William Fuller, whom he had not seen for 10 years.

M. C. Prinslow and wife, of Orange avenue at Twentieth street, spent Saturday in Long Beach at the annual Dakota day picnic in Bixby park.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Andersen, of Brush, Colo., are in Costa Mesa for a time in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Turner on Eighteenth street. The Turners were formerly of Brush, as also were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Fawcett and Fred Fawcett. Mr. Turner is cashier of the bank here now and the Fawcetts with a third partner operate the Model Drug store.

The Rev. A. F. Hasse has called a meeting of the official board and the heads of all departments to a meeting in the social hall of the Community church for Wednesday evening. A pot luck supper will be served before the business meeting gets into session.

An affair of much importance to Boy Scout troop No. 6 and to the public in general is a good used clothes sale to be held in the Ross building on Newport boulevard all day Saturday. The Scout Mothers, with Mrs. Grow S. Brown as chairman and Mrs. Leroy Anderson in charge of the sale, are sponsoring the affair.

The Royal Humane Society is being urged to present a medal for bravery to eighteen-year-old Queenie Smith, of Tottenham, England, who, garbed only in her nightdress, dashed into a blazing stable and saved her pony, which she reared from colthood.

DELEGATES OF THREE STATES HERE IN FALL

ORANGE, Nov. 12.—Girl Reserves from three states, California, Arizona and New Mexico, will meet next fall in Orange for the annual convention of the organization city at this year's convention in Phoenix.

Three California cities competed for the event, Orange, Covina and Huntington Park. On the first ballot, Orange and Covina were tied, this city winning on the second ballot.

Miss Avis Middleton, advisor of the High School Girls' league, and the two delegates from the Orange union high school, Miss Gertrude Eggers and Miss Althea Lembke, were instrumental in securing the meet for this city. Miss Eggers is the president of the local league.

The Orange Community Chamber of Commerce supplied the delegates with attractive orange ribbon tags on which were printed, "Orange for the 1930 Convention." The chamber has agreed to help finance the convention when the time arrives and over civic organizations, it is expected, will aid in extending the hospitality of the community to the young visitors.

The usual number of delegates attending the Girl Reserve conventions is about 300, the event being the most important of those scheduled for the year in Girl Reserve circles.

Activities of the organizations include welfare work, that being done by the Orange girls including both work at the county hospital and at the county health camp.

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Those fighting Irish from Notre Dame, inspired by success all during this season, come into Chicago next Saturday determined to continue on their way toward a national title.

They play Southern California, a team which was good enough to beat Stanford but which lost to California, and the Irish are of the belief that the Pacific coast team will fall before them just as other opponents have all season.

Notre Dame will rely chiefly for victory on unlimited reserve power and a backfield which numbers at least eight men who would be counted as regulars on other teams.

Have Great Record

The Irish have beaten Indiana, Navy, Wisconsin, Carnegie Tech, Georgia Tech and Drake and these victories have given them confidence enough to believe they can beat any team.

Southern California has a good team. It was good enough to trample all opponents until it met California and it even numbers among its successes a victory over that Stanford team which in early season was considered one of the best on the Pacific coast.

With one exception, the Southern California squad is in good shape. "Rocky" Kemp came out of the Nevada game with a broken leg last week and that injury deprives the Trojans of one of its best reserve quarterbacks. However, March Duffield, the regular quarterback, already has demonstrated his staying powers and he probably will show endurance enough to stay in for the entire game Saturday.

Rockne Ailing

Notre Dame, with a squad in good shape, may be without the services of Coach Knute Rockne, who is suffering from an infected leg. Rockne still is confined to his home, seeing only his closest friends. His physicians say there is a chance of his coming to Chicago.

The game itself promises to be a battle between a great Notre Dame backfield and a fighting Southern California line. The Westerners will average more than 200 pounds to the man in the line. On the other hand, the Irish backfield has proven itself equal to every occasion and its sheer speed may wreck the Western defensive hopes.

Notre Dame numbers such good men in its backfield as Carideo, Savoldi, Elder and Mullin among others. The Westerners believe they can match this outfit with Duffield, Saunders, Hill and Musick.

Musick, Durkee, Ward On Trojan Traveling Squad

will be able to play against the Irish.

The following players were scheduled to make the trip:

Tackles—Hall, Setiz, Hoff, Ward, Anthony, Bond.

Centers—Dye, Williamson, Neidhard.

Quarterbacks—Saunders, Duffield, Shaver, Chambers.

Fullbacks—Musick, Hill, Moses, Brown.

CARDINAL STAR AND BRIDE

Manager Dan Cupid of the Matrimonial league signed a long-term contract with Taylor Douthit, star centerfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals and here are the newlyweds. Mrs. Douthit was formerly Miss Anne Jane Shelton of Kansas City, a graduate of the University of Kansas. They spent their honeymoon in Havana, Cuba, returning to California on the maiden voyage of the Panama Pacific liner, Pennsylvania.

PUNTS AND PASSES

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 12.—Members of the Stanford varsity have returned in more or less good condition from their trek to Seattle, although minor injuries may hamper the squad for a few days. The rough sand field up north left plenty of bruises and raw spots on the Stanford men, but no serious injuries were received. Captain Muller, Driscoll and Dawson, who were only able to play part of the game in Seattle, are expected to be in first class shape for the "Big Game" with California November 23.

OAKLAND, Nov. 12. — Jubilant over their victory over Santa Clara, Sunday, the St. Mary's varsity settled down to a few days' practice prior to leaving for Los Angeles to play U. C. L. A., next Saturday at the Coliseum. St. Mary's, which has not had its goal line crossed this season, and which has a tie with California—the conference leader, is likely to roll up a huge score against the Southerners.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12. — Coach "Nibs" Price is not allowing the California varsity to get the swelled head this week, with a tough game in sight when Washington sends her Huskies down here Saturday. Price has repeatedly warned his charges that Washington is coming with but one idea in mind—to beat California—and that school's showing against Stanford last week stopped all talk of the Northerners being a "set-up." Although California is undefeated, and a favorite to win, Price is taking care that over-confidence shall not be the cause of a defeat.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 12.—Regular practice for the University of Oregon grid machine until Friday has been distracted by Coach John McEwan. A light session Friday will wind up the Webfoot's training for the Oregon State classic Saturday. Stadelman, veteran center, will be the only regular out of the game. He suffered a broken ankle in the Idaho game.

DEAL BETWEEN GARDEN, RIVAL PROMOTER NEAR

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—One of those consolidations of interests, by which economy is served while combining the best features of both, is said to be under way today between the Madison Square Garden corporation and Humbert J. Fugazy.

The best features of Mr. Fugazy are few and inclined to be a little funny, but one of them is a duly recognized contract on Max Schmeling and another a four-way option on Victorio Campolo and, with the aid of these, Mr. Fugazy has been able to prostrate the heavyweight situation while doing himself no personal good all day long.

If he sells out to the Garden—and some say the deal already has been closed for $75,000—the former will take monopolistic charge of New York boxing for the first time since Rickard's death, and from the Garden's standpoint, the gesture can't come too soon, what with the way Chicago and other points have been cutting into the local play on feature matches.

Must Land Schmeling

The Garden has been licked plenty in its attempts to play the game the way Rickard did it. It figured to stay licked unless it could find a way to separate Schmeling from all the weinerschnitzel in Berlin. The reported sale by Fugazy is it.

According to its reputed terms, the Scott-Schmeling contract, which ran the latter out of America, is to go with the deal so, they say, do four contracts on Campolo's services and the managerial contract of Gustavo Lenevue, which ran Campolo so far south that Commander Byrd won't be able to find him before the spring freshets. These fighters, you know, can't forgive a manager for all they do to him.

Anyhow, if the transaction really turns out to be a transaction, the Garden will control four of the ranking five heavyweights, with a fair chance of lining up the fifth, Otto Van Porat. They have Sharkey, of course. Recently, they took title to Phil Scott. Now, unless the boxing commission can figure some way of putting the bowser on the thing, they are said to be about to take over Schmeling and Campolo.

Max May Balk

Of course, Schmeling may decline to be taken over. He is very unreasonable about being taken, even by experts, and so may decide to string with the reported offer of $250,000 from Atlantic City. That is a lot of money, even if you never count it; and, besides, he won't have to fight Phil Scott to get to it. Whereas, the Scott-Schmeling contract no doubt still goes in this state, regardless of who holds it. The commission has declared for Scott as Schmeling's next opponent, and he probably will be Schmeling's next opponent if they have to trundle him in there on an operating table.

This contingency never would have occurred to me if Mr. Scott himself hadn't made it possible. He has agreed to meet Mr. Van Porat here December 9.

The Garden, in any event, would find itself with quite a leverage on Schmeling if it closes a deal with Fugazy. It would mean that it held all the strings in this state and this young man perforce must come here sooner or later in an effort to do himself all the good he can.

MANY men have sought words to describe that "extra something" in Chesterfield.

It is there, undoubtedly... a "sparkle" of spicier aroma, an extra touch of flavor, a certain added "character," unmistakably Chesterfield's own.

No one word describes it—but only the most inexperienced smoker could fail to mark it. Between other cigarettes and Chesterfield, there is the clear-cut difference between just something to smoke and the cigarette that puts—

BUSINESS GOOD ON EAST COAST, CLAIMS FINLEY

General business conditions in the east appear good, there is an air of prosperity and no indication of discouraging situations, according to Col. S. H. Finley, who, with Mrs. Finley, returned yesterday from an eight-week trip through the east and south.

Finley toured through the south, touching Florida and other southern states. He declares that he saw no indication of the Mediterranean fruit fly in the citrus districts of Florida, the claim being made there that the pest had been eradicated.

Crops in the middle western states showed perceptibly the effect of the summer heat and drought, the returned traveler commented.

Finley, who is secretary of the Metropolitan water district, and who is deeply interested in water systems and development, had opportunity in New York of inspecting the aqueduct system there, the water being brought to the city from a point 200 miles distant. The aqueduct is similar to that which the Metropolitan district proposes building to make Colorado river water available to Southern California cities. The problems of building were similar to those that will obtain in the installation of the aqueduct here. Colonel Finley was the guest of Thaddeus Merriman, one of the nationally known engineers appointed to the consulting board of engineers of the Southern California aqueduct project. Finley made a complete inspection of the New York system with Merriman.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley left here by train, with Augusta, Me., as the extreme eastern objective. They visited their sons, Wendell, who is teaching business administration in Harvard; Knox, who is in his last year of a medical course in Yale, and Malcolm, who is studying medicine in Johns Hopkins university.

The Santa Ana travellers did a good portion of their journeying in an automobile, having purchased a new car in Michigan and driven home along the Atlantic seaboard. When they arrived home the car's speedometer registered 8500 miles.

Program—For First Concert Is Announced

Devotees of music throughout Orange county are assured a rare pleasure at the opening concert to be presented Tuesday, December 3, in the high school auditorium, by the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra. Prof. D. C. Cianfoni, director, has announced that his ensemble of 75 musicians rapidly is approaching perfection in its presentation of concert selections.

The symphony orchestra is composed of 20 violins, five cellos, two violas and wind instruments essential to the well balanced organization.

An overture by Rossini will open the concert. It is to be followed by Grieg's masterpiece, "Peer Gynt." Both selections are impressionistic of the composers' varying moods.

Guy Bevier Williams, who is said to be a worthy exponent of the Hungarian piano wizard, Liszt, will appear in the Concerto in E Flat. The composition is an inspiring interpretation of the impassioned Magyar race to which Liszt belonged.

Zhay Clark, harpist, will introduce the gaiety and melody of old Spain into the concert program by playing "Capriccio Espanole," as composed by Riminsky-Korsakoff.

Tickets soon will be placed on sale for the concert.

PEACE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS TO GOSPEL CLASS

Members of the Men's Community Bible class heard a stirring lesson on the subject of world peace at their service, Sunday morning, in the Fox-West Coast theater, when the class teacher, the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, talked on "World Peace Through Understanding."

The teacher prefaced his lesson by declaring that he believed that world peace was possible. "I believe in the Gospel of Christ and the greatness of God," the Rev. Mr. Buchanan asserted. "They are able to do all things. When the spirit of Jesus is in the hearts of mankind peace is bound to follow. Part of our task here in this class is to spread that spirit. God loves and wants us to cease hating and fighting each other.

"Napoleon said on St. Helena: 'The more I study this world, the more I am convinced of the inability of brute force to get anything done.' Our own Washington declared, in referring to war: 'My first wish is to see this plague to mankind banished from the world.' Sherman described it with the phrase: 'War is hell,' and that was reproved in the World war, when men were taught to hate each other, lives were blown out, blood shed, billions wasted and hearts broken. The war would not have taken place if the leaders of the nations had gotten together and talked it all over.

"You can't end war by prudence or by appealing to reason, saying that it will cost money, lives and business, although that will help. You can't end it by passing resolutions. Agitation that war is hell and preaching the Gospel of Christ is what will stop it. The love of God causes men to forgive and love mankind. That, in the hearts of men, will end war. It also will stop murder and thievery, all crime and sin and will result in the peace that Jesus came to bring."

Special music at the service Sunday was furnished by a women's quartet, composed of Mrs. Arthur Kemper, of Anaheim; Mrs. Jessie Johnson, Miss LaVerne Harrell and Mrs. E. H. Elsener. They sang "Come Power of God" and "All the Way."

Standings in the membership attendance drive remain unchanged, with Cashian in the lead, Kingrey second and Cook third. The regular weekly business meeting of the class will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the First Christian church.

ARMISTICE DAY REMEMBERED IN CHURCH MUSIC

A "Musical League of Nations" was featured at the Church of The Brethren Sunday night, in connection with the Armistice day worship service. Among the patriotic selections of other lands presented in the group were the prelude numbers as played at the organ by Miss Bertha Baker—the Italian national hymn, the Watch On The Rhine, and the Marseillaise. The congregation joined in community singing of the "America," after which Holland's national hymn and the "Blue Bells of Scotland" were played.

Two particularly inspirational selections were the choir's rendition of the Christian anthem, Immanuel," and a solo number, "Tenting Tonight," as given after the sermon by John Baker.

The Rev. Edgar Rothrock, pastor spoke on the sermon subject, "The Call of the World to America." He said in part:

"The whole world would like to live in America. To them our country is a land of Utopia. Were it not for our wisely enacted immigration laws we would be flooded with people from everywhere. In the days of St. Paul, citizenship in the Roman empire was prized highly even as American citizenship is now sought.

"The ebb and flow of peoples to and from Rome and her colonies undermined the Roman empire and hastened its decline and fall. Our country has determined to control the coming of foreign peoples and to protect the institutions which have made our country the envy of many nations. She has done well in this, but yet we owe to the world a debt that we ought to pay.

"The founders of our republic hoped to found a country where the individual citizen would have the privilege of living his life in freedom. President Hoover said upon his election to the highest office in the land, 'My country does not owe me anything. But I owe my country everything—for the opportunity to undertake and achieve.' More largely than any other government has ours persistently and continuously throughout the years maintained the institutions which not only protect the citizen in his just rights, but also challenge him to accomplish greater things for mankind than has yet been accomplished.

"The call of the world to America is to share these things with peoples everywhere. It may be almost a plagiarism, but we must say it again that America is the product of the Christian religion. This revolutionary faith in the principles of Jesus Christ will do for others what it has done for us. The Christian Sabbath, free schools, hospitals and a fair chance for the common laborer follow in the wake of the Christian missionary."

GIANT PLANE CARRIES 169

Cranston, Principal H. J. Nelson and Mrs. Neal Beisel, president of the fourth district P.-T. A. Mrs. Roy Horton will introduce the speaker.

Mrs. Virgil F. Clem, Mrs. W. G. Knox and Mrs Fred Triplett will give the "Who, What, When, Where and How of the P.-T. A."

The tables and banquet hall will be decorated in the school colors, green and white, with touches of pastel yellow. Mrs. S. J. Mustol is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Proctor and her executive board will receive the guests with Mrs. I. W. MacFarlane and Mrs. W. G. Knox assisting. Mrs. W. W. Gardner will be toastmistress during the program hour.

MEMBER CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY DISABLED WAR VETERANS

Having devoted themselves for several weeks to the work of developing a creditable showing in the Armistice day parade, in Huntington Beach, yesterday, members of Jack Fisher chapter, No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, now will turn their attention to increasing the roster of the organization, it was announced today by L. A. Riehl, commander.

Plans for the membership drive will be discussed at a meeting of the chapter at 7:30 p. m., tomorrow, in the American Legion hall. As other matters of vital importance are to come before the meeting, Commander Reihl is expecting a record attendance.

After the business has been disposed of members will be joined by the women's auxiliary of the chapter for an informal card party.

Discussing the campaign for new members, Commander Reihl said that "we want to show our national commander, William J. Murphy, that his home chapter is backing him in his efforts on behalf of all disabled men." He added that it is the hope of chapter officials to procure as a member every man in this vicinity who is eligible.

"National Commander Murphy is doing a wonderful work in the east, and especially in Washington, D. C., in the interest of disabled veterans, and will be able to accomplish more with the numerical strength of chapters increased," Commander Reihl said.

CONSTRUCTION WILL START IN NEXT 30 DAYS

The new exchange of the Associated Telephone company, Ltd., in New Westminster, will be in operation within eight months, it was announced today by C. F. Mason, senior vice president. A petition requesting the establishment of the exchange recently was granted by the state railroad commission.

Establishment of the exchange means that the present Huntington Beach system will be divided and that subscribers in the new district must pay a 10-cent toll charge in conversing with the Huntington Beach district.

The exchange will serve the section lying 500 feet north of Smeltzer road, going north to Stanton and taking in the communities of Bolsa, Midway City, Westminster, Barber City and New Westminster.

The Associated company announced today that it was exercising its option on a lot located just west of the building at the southwest corner of Westminster boulevard and Seventeenth street and would start construction work within 30 days.

Approximately 150 residents of the district held a protest meeting last August, when the railroad commission conducted a hearing in New Westminster.

Celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding which occurred in San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cochems of 310 West [illegible] street were hosts Saturday night to nearly a hundred guests who gathered at their home and then adjourned to the Modern Woodman hall for a delightful evening of dancing.

Preceding the dance, a delicious supper was served at the hall. Then numbers were passed among the guests and were used later in the evening in choosing winners for the awarding of several attractive prizes. Those to be presented with gifts were Mrs. H. Lemon of Los Angeles, Mrs. Gilbert Harrell, Mrs. William Cox of Los Angeles, Gilbert Harrell and Mrs. E. Fairchild of Oceanside.

The enjoyable dance program included many old fashioned selections arranged by members of the orchestra who were J. W. Mitchell, Lew Stevens and Mrs. Pearl Parker.

The wedding of 25 years ago was re-enacted beneath a white and silver arch, with Mr. and Mrs. John Fairchild acting as best man and maid of honor and little Miss Eva Estelle Eggleton taking the part of flower girl. Brief talks congratulating the two were given by Ned Hall of Riverside, M. Husting of Escondido, Edward Cochems of this city and Major Oden of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochems have made their home in Santa Ana for the past 15 years and they are well known here. They are the parents of seven children, Mrs. R. M. Recent Biographies Are Reviewed By Mrs. Vallely

Basing her talk on the visions of Garibaldi as expressed in Burdekin's "The Rebel Passion," she told the story of Ancient Egypt's splendor in Taboni's "The Private Life of Tutankhamen," and gave a vivid picture of Palestine in "The Shepherd of Israel" by Eyles.

"The Man Who Dared to be Good" by Norwood followed and the speaker then carried her listeners to the France of Louis XI as described in "Louis XI" by Champion.

Story of Marie Antoinette

Included in this same group was a colorful account of "Marie Antoinette," France's tragic queen, who was a victim of the revolution, as told by Palache, and the story of the life of Francois Rabelais by Putman.

"The Stormy Life of Mirabeau" by Juvenal was touched upon and Mrs. Vallely pointed out that the great Frenchman's life marked the end of days of chivalry.

Dwelling on England in her first rise to greatness, Mrs. Vallely reviewed "Elizabeth" by Anthony and "Marlborough" by Chidsey, the latter being the story of the life of John Churchill, first duke of Marlborough.

Returning to the days of the importance of Italy, the speaker gave an entertaining account of "The Incredible Borgias" as told by Klaybund.

The story of one of the world's greatest musicians was told in the brief account of Beethoven which was based on "Beethoven, the Man Who Freed Music," by Schauffler.

Describes Civil War

Coming to a more recent period, Mrs. Vallely dwelt on the picture presented by the United States during and following the Civil war in her review of "Jefferson Davis," by Tate; "The Tragic Era," by Bower, "Abraham Lincoln," by Holden and "Myths After Lincoln," by Lewis.

Mrs. Vallely turned for a moment to romance and adventure in speaking of "Adventures of an Outlaw" by Rashleigh and "Adios" by the Bartletts before concluding with three novels of modern life depicting the battle of the sexes which include "Harriet Hume" by Rebecca West, "Fugitive's Return" by Glaspell and "Sincerity" by John Erskine.

Miss Lulu Minter, head of the International Artists Series committee, announced that the committee would sponsor a concert to be presented by Harry Lauder on the night of November 21 at Santa Ana high school auditorium. She pointed out that the concert is not included in the regular series which will open in December with the presentation of the English Singers.

Reports Convention

Mrs. W. L. Deimling reported on the convention of Orange County Women's clubs held October 25 in Anaheim.

Announcement was made of the Founders' day meeting which will take place November 25 and will be followed by a tea to be given in honor of charter members. At that time the Ebell history which has been compiled by Mrs. Victor Montgomery will be placed on sale.

Those planning to attend the Day Nursery dinner Thursday night were requested to be in the lounge in time to be given places at tables before 6:30 o'clock when dinner will be served.

Little Lad Celebrates Birthday with Party For Playmates

When Master Charles Maag jr. arrived two years ago to gladden the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Maag of Santa Ana canyon, he celebrated their first wedding anniversary, so since that date November 9 has been an occasion for special observance in the family circle with the greatest prominence however, accorded to the little son and his natal day.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Maag entertained the small playmates of the laddie, at a delightful party held on the shady lawn, with an animal cracker hunt and all the games which such small folk most enjoy. A little group of mothers shared the pleasure and aided in directing the games. They included Mrs. Cheathem, Mrs. John Hale, Mrs. E. H. Wetzell and Mrs. William Altmiller.

As the afternoon drew to a close a large table was arranged with pink and white candles and many flowers beneath the tall palms on the lawn, and there the children were seated to enjoy the birthday refreshments which included a pretty cake with two flickering pink candles.

Master Charles received a wealth of pretty gifts from his little guests who included Phyllis Jeanne Moore of Olive; Marillyn Wetzel, Edwina, Marilyn and Billie Maag, Santa Ana; Wilbur, Marjean and Junior Schaner of Placentia; Arthur and Stanley Van De Puttz of Atwood; Billie Altmiller of Taft, and Lucena and Mary Anne Maag of Orange.

Mrs. Maag was formerly Miss Zola Powelson of this city, and is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary Glee club with which she made the recent trip to Louisville to the national convention.

A recent wedding of interest was that of Miss Irene Cordes, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cordes, of 218 West South street, Anaheim, and Conan Grey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Grey of Alhambra, the Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, of the Anaheim Zion Lutheran church, reading the service at the Cordes home.

An improvised altar was arranged in the living room and was banked by gold and white dahlias. Tall candles were placed on each side of the altar over which was suspended a large white wedding bell. Candles were used in lighting the rooms for the ceremony which took place at 4 o'clock. Preceding the service Mrs. A. E. Dutsi sang "I Love You Truly." Mrs. H. G. Schmelzer accompanying her and also playing Lohengrin's wedding march as the processional.

The bride entered with her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn Cordes, as maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Schaefer as bridesmaid. The bride wore a frock of blue transparent velvet and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Both Miss Cordes and Miss Schaefer wore frocks in autumn shades and carried bouquets of pale yellow flowers. John Grey served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony dinner was served at the Mission Inn at Fullerton. The bride was graduated from the Anaheim union high school and the Orange County Business college at Santa Ana.

The groom is in the federal service at Fresno where the young people will make their home after a brief honeymoon.

What is this new and astonishing Agmel?
Why has it tnis effect upon kidney deficiencies, high blood pressure, indigestion?
AGMEL is astonishing both in what it is and what it does. Agmel is a great health food, a valuable tonic in kidney deficiencies, high blood pressure, indigestion and glycosuria. It is an extraordinary discovery, a real gift of nature —an imported vegetable milk from Mexico. In its native country this plant sap is called "aguamiel." It comes from the famous maguey plant and there is nothing else in the world like it.
Fresh aguamiel has been used for centuries in Mexico. Now this pure sap has been concentrated for export, and the name has been shortened to Agmel. Everybody can now have Agmel. This is fortunate for those men and women just entering middle life and for those of all ages who are being warned of danger by frequent arising at night, backache, high blood pressure and other symptoms brought on by modern ways of eating and living. Imported by The Agmel Corporation, New York and Mexico, D. F.
Kidneys 100% Better
"I couldn't eat, had dizzy spells, got up many times every night. Then took Agmel faithfully for a month and everything was changed. My blood pressure was 60 degrees lower, appetite returned and kidneys were 100% better."—Mrs. J. W. Shane, Los Angeles, Cal.

The MIXING BOWL

by ANN MEREDITH

Where are the old-time complexions gone? I mean the kind we read of in books of the Jane Eyre vintage. The beautiful heroine was never guilty of using powder, the use of rouge immediately placed one on the forbidden list, and lips were worn au naturel!

I have a definite suspicion that they vanished along with hoop skirts, cast-iron corsets and mutton-leg sleeves. Soon after that era styles in dress began to follow the contour of the figure and the discriminating woman found that billowy curves were definitely out, so she began to cut own weight, to eat less of the rich foods and more fruit and vegetables. Of course her face thinned down with hte rest of her body and the satiny skin, no longer underlaid by a blanket of fat, vanished.

'Tis said that it's an ill wind that blows nobody good; in this case it brought into existence a great trade in cosmetics, and I am sure that this change of complexions has added to the length of the average woman's life—how can it help but do so, when she eats sensibly and exercises to keep her body within the limits prescribed for it by the fashions she wears?

TODAY'S RECIPE

MOCK CHICKEN PATE

2 cups minced roasted rabbit or
2 cups cubed chicken
1 1-2 cups milk
2 scant teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespon butter
Salt and pepper
Rich pie crust for one crust

Have you taken a look around your grocer's lately? He has many interesting foods put up in glass to show you. One of them is prepared crab cocktail, with portions for four in each glass. Then, there is chicken..small sections of white meat..whole roasted chicken sealed in a can..even minced giblets, ready cooked for gravy and dressing. For a quick meal, in case the roasted Belgian Hare failed to survive the meal, a glass of this white chicken meat is quickly made into a most delicious open-faced chicken pie after the recipe used today.

Heat the milk to boiling point, stir in the cornstarch rubbed smooth in cold water, add the butter, salt and pepper, and stir until smooth and thickened. Put the cubed chicken or rabbit meat into this sauce and keep hot over water while you make a rich pie crust, just enough for the bottom crust only. Slip the crust into a sizzling hot oven for 5 minutes to bake it enough to prevent soaking, then put in the creamed meat and finish baking with a medium oven.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Ben. Nimmo, of Orange, has been spending several days in the T. H. Cooley home.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Comer Redfern, former La Habrans, now living at Pittsburg, Calif., that they are the parents of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Borach, of Yolo, are guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Abrams. They came down Thursday to help their little granddaughter, Nan, celebrate her fourth birthday. They were accompanied south by Mrs. R. Hayden, who is spending much of her time at Covina, visiting her daughter, Miss Willeta Hayden, assistant at the Masonic home there.

Mrs. M. Neeley is a guest in the A. N. Parson home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. DeVour spent the week end at Victorville with friends.

Mrs. M. Call spent the week end with her husband at Bakersfield, where he is employed.

Eighty dollars was cleared Friday evening by the Keystone class of the Methodist church from the Zander-Gump wedding put on by 40 characters.

Is Sex Appeal Commonplace?

Sometimes I Think It Is BUT Sometimes I Think It Isn't

By Velva G. Darling

Sometimes I think that sex appeal is growing so commonplace that there is no longer any punch left—even in the word. Along with this "discovery" of Freud's and the wholesale swallowing of it by the younger generation has come a thorough belief and acceptance in the theory which pops up every time a fairly pretty girl meets a fairly presentable young man—"It must be love at first sight!"—and to be smart, one must not be prudish. Today, so-called "love at first sight" is almost as common as sex appeal itself. Man no longer needs to pursue the pretty girl. She is so profoundly aware of the irresistible quality of her sex appeal that she has only the greatest sympathy and compassion—or whatever it is—for the man. He doesn't even need to ASK her for her love. She wouldn't put him to that much BOTHER!

BUT, on the other hand, it is true that all the face-lifting operations, cold creams, lotions and powder and paint will not create that fascinating charm in a woman called "sex appeal." Men, too, may be perfectly groomed, possess regular features and the highest education and still be minus that most subtle attraction. As far as I can see from the photographs of Gabriel d'Annunzio, the famous black-shirt poet and lover, he is neither a ohn Gilbert nor an O. O. McIntyre, but it does seem as though he has a monopoly on love letters from famous and beautiful women. Just sex appeal!

Sometimes I think that this quality of which "It" is made, is every bit as rare as that quality which makes success. You can SEE it, but you can's COPY it. At any rate, I have yet to see a successful person who has not a goodly quota of BOTH brain matter and charm, and was anything BUT common place! Yet on the other hand, the modern girl certainly does not resemble the old-fashioned Gibson girl in her shy requisite as she coyly fluttered her eyelashes years ago, and stepped over a couple of yards of trailing skirt—"Love me—love my DOG!" The girl today omits everything—everything but the "LOVE me!"

The WOMAN'S DAY

A smoking room for girls has been granted at Carnegie Tech, so that the co-eds now may smoke without breaking rules.

School authorities state they are not particularly happy over the situation, and would have preferred not to have to accord it, but it came as a result of a referendum among the girls themselves.

Miss Mary W. Green, dean of women, said:

"We deplore its existence, and we do not encourage smoking among the girls, but we recognize conditions as they exist."

Recognizing existing conditions is something that many institutions of learning for women have refused to do. They know that the grils smoke surreptitiously, and that there is no way of stopping it, but they prefer to close their eyes, rather than to seem to condone it.

ANTI-HYPOCRITES

Hypocrisy is rapidly becoming a national characteristic, according to Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, political leader and former dry, who resigned from the Republican National Committee to become chairman of the women's organization for national prohibition reform.

In her article in the American Review of Reviews, she says that this woman's organization is now active in all states and that these women are devoting their time toward working for a change in the prohibition law which will "replace present corruption, lawlessness and hypocrisy with sobriety and honesty."

COMPANIONS

Ishbel MacDonald, our recent guest, has turned journalist and is recording her impressions of America. She makes this interesting comparison between the British and the American women.

An American woman takes a job outside her home on the slighest provocation, she observes. If her husband does not earn sufficient salary to hire a cook, she immediately takes a job, even though she scarcely more than pays the cook with what she makes.

And English woman, on the contrary, whose husband is only on a moderate salary, will say: "I must go and take a few cooking lessons so that we do not need to hire a cook."

The same reasoning is followed by the French woman. She is a clever manager, and instead of wondering how she can enlarge the family income, she buys carefully and cleans and mends her own clothes, to say nothing of making them.

The business woman, who has to have her own apartment taken care of, who cannot do her own mending, or attend to her own marketing and errands, and must depend upon the cleaner and the steam laundry, needs a large margin to take care of these details that used to be all in a woman's day.

SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Mary Hess had as her guests recently Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baker of Turlock.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Neff, of La Habra, were dinner guests Sunday in the home of H. L. Neff.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Klenck and son, George, visited friends in Los Angeles recently.

Mrs. Charlie Patterson and son, Merwin, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, of South Gate, to Ventura to spend a few days visiting relatives.

D. W. Pemberton, S. D. Pemberton and J. H. Pemberton enjoyed a trip to Nine Palm Springs Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Lalonde, of Los Angeles, visited Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Baker.

Mrs. R. B. Floyd returned home Thursday from Dresden, Kas., where she has been visiting her mother for several weeks.

Mrs. W. W. Berry, Mrs. L. A. Weide and Mrs. V. Knight attended the funeral of Mrs. Williams in Santa Ana Tuesday.

Mrs. Jack Dyck, of Whittier, is spending a few days in the home of her sister, Mrs. L. A. Weide.

Miss Helene Hickman was a recent over night guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray. Burns in Westminster.

Miss Claudene Goodrich has been ill in her home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Knight, who have been staying in the L. A. Weide home, have gone to Laguna Beach to make their home.

Mrs. Georgie Hickman, who has been ill for several months, continues to remain about the same.

C. M. Hill, who has been in the garage business in Silver Acres for the past four years, has decided to discontinue the business as he has taken over the agency for a tow rope. His territory covers northern California, Oregon and Washington.

Mrs. Ruth Klenck and Mrs. Vada Berry entertained the Silver Acres club in the former's home Wednesday.

The regular routine business was transacted, with Mrs. Flora Baker, president, presiding. A social hour was enjoyed by the guests. In the guessing contest, Mrs. Belle Wilcox received first prize and Mrs. J. M. Perryman, second prize.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Berry.

STRANGE STORY OF SEA AT WEST COAST

"The Isle of Lost Ships," the plot of which enters about a ship stranded on an isle of lost people in the Sargasso Sea, is the current feature in the Fox-West Coast theater.

A woman alone with 52 men on a floating island—that is the highlight of the strange pirture

And to top it all off, the girl, Virginia Valli, falls in love with a man wanted in the States for the murder of his wife. He is Jason Robarts. Noah Beery also has an important part in the play.

A chorus girl inherits a boys' school in South Carolina and then the fun begins in "Sweetie," with Nancy Carroll, now playing in the Fox-Broadway theater.

It is another campus life story, but it is called the best that Paramount has done.

Jack Oakie, best little wisecracker the talking screen has yet uncovered, has his biggest part in "Sweetie" and he is one reason why Paramount expects the picture to be one of the best "gate" shows turned out of its lots in some time. Oakie sings a song in "Sweetie" called "Alma Mammy," a takeoff on the school's Alma Mater.

Aside from the feature, a Mickey Mouse cartoon, with sound; Van and Schenck, in songs, "Broadway's Not a Bad Place After All" and "Choe," and a Fox Movietone newsreel are on the program.

A family doctor's laxative is the sensible choice!

YOUR health is too important! You can't afford experiments with your delicate bowels when a coated tongue, bad breath, gas, headaches, nausea, feverishness, biliousness, lack of appetite, and no energy, warn of constipation. This applies not only to grown people; it is particularly the case where young children are concerned.

That's why a family doctor's laxative is always the safe choice! Only a doctor knows just what will cleanse the system of men, women or children without harm.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is prepared today under strict supervision from freshest herbs and other pure ingredients, and exactly according to Dr. Caldwell's original prescription.

He was a family doctor for more than forty-seven years. He specialized in the disorders of the digestive tract. He tested this prescription in thousands of cases. Men liked its quick and thorough action; the children liked its pleasant taste; old people praised it because it never gripes.

Today, millions of families rely on Dr. Caldwell's judgment in the selection of their laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is now sold in all drug stores. It is the world's largest selling laxative.

The TINYMITES

Story by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
©1929, BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

The Tinies, still upon the ground, just sat and didn't look around. They were too busy eating to be bothered by a thing. They didn't think the great big man would e'er come back, the way he ran. That's why they didn't have a hunch what bad luck fate might bring.

Said Scouty, "Well, I guess that I have had enough, I will not try to eat another bite. I'm sure 'twould make my tummy ache. The rest of you had better quit and rest while you are feeling fit. If I can find a stream near here, a good long drink I'll take."

"A good idea." Coppy cried. And then he jumped to Scouty's side. They led the others to a stream where each one got his fill. "I'd like to swim, but, my, I doubt if I could do it. I'm tired out," said Clowny. "Let's go back and snooze. We've naught but time to kill."

So, back they went and gathered 'round the dinner bucket, on the ground. "We all can nap," said Coppy. "There is nothing to go wrong. When we 'wake in an hour or so upon our merry way we'll go. And, if we can, we'll take this little dinner pail along."

Now, all this time the big strong man up closer to the Tinies ran. He heard them say they'd take a nap. "Ah, ha, what luck," said he. "When everyone is sound asleep, right up to them I'll softly creep. I'll make them sorry that they ever took my pail from me."

He didn't wait so very long. Then on his knees he crawled along, and pounced upon the Tinies as he gave an awful shout. Before they had a chance to stand, he grabbed up two in each big hand. Wee Scouty looked real scared, and said, "What is this all about?"

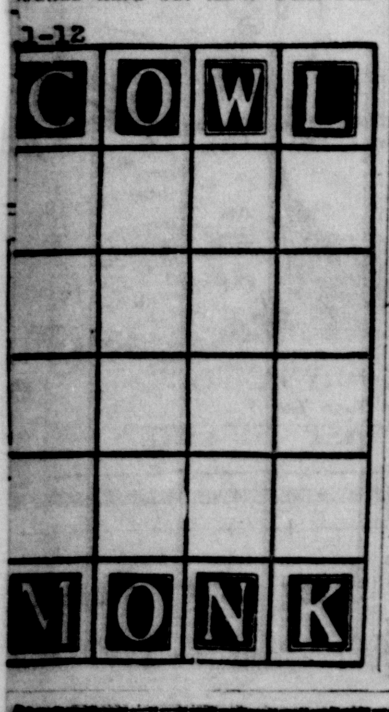
RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example: To go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.



COWL to MONK—This hole isn't reserved for the clergy, but they may find it a bit easier. Par is four.

We are very fortunate in having the Laguna Art exhibit in our school. We are enjoying it very much. We are going to write a poem about the picture we like best in Miss Lazare's room.

Charles Hart.

The 3A, 4B and 4A classes are learning two songs for the Christmas program. These songs were written in Mrs. Duke's room. The names are "Santa Claus Land" and "Jolly Old Santa Claus."

James Edmonds

When we get 100 in Miss Bell's arithmetic room we get a red star. After we get three red stars we get a gold star.

Virginia Waters

McKinley School

Last spring everybody wanted to have the school bonds pass. Songs about school bonds were written to familiar tunes and they were sung at clubs, theaters and the high school. Now everybody is becoming happy, for the bonds passed and there are now workmen at McKinley taking down the trees, bars, swings, rings and basketball court in order to start the new building.

Robert Woodside.

Since they have started the new building all of the children have to play on the south side of the playground. The girls who are on the basketball team are in a pinch, for they have four games to play and the basketball court is torn down. They will have to play the other games without any more practicing.

Pauline Chapman.

Thanksgiving is very near—in fact it is near enough for decorations. In all of the McKinley school rooms there are fine big, fat, round, orange pumpkins, corn, and other things that remind us of Thanksgiving. In some rooms there are ruby apples and pretty autumn trees. While in other rooms plump Mr. Turkeys are strutting about the walls. I wonder if they are thinking about how it is going to feel to be eaten.

La Vene Parks.

All of the higher grades had moving pictures of geography last Wednesday in the lunch room. Miss Hasty showed the pictures. Those that the High 4 class saw were Russia, The Discovery of Gold in California, and California Missions.

Rogelio Dominquez.

In the art room the fifth grade class is cutting letters out of scratch paper. As soon as we learn to cut them well enough we are going to cut letters out of colored paper and make a Thanksgiving poster.

Lloyd Franke.

Mrs. Stark's primary reading classes are bringing books from home in order to start a library. Her low first class is going to make health books.

Alfred Wright.

In Miss Hasty's room the high fifth class is making maps of South America. We make them on cardboard and they are made out of flour, salt, and water mixed together. They have to be in by [illegible].

Grace Berge.

[illegible] are having fun in Miss [illegible] room looking up words in [illegible]. We have to look [illegible] every day.

Gail Kinsey.

[illegible] sixth class is very [illegible] Miss Bell's room we are [illegible] a poem for Thanksgiving. Its name is "The Landing of the Pilgrims."

We wrote grammar sentences yesterday in Miss Safley's room. Miss Wherry corrected the papers for writing and Miss Safley for grammar so we had two grades on them.

We are making a booklet of our best penmanship in Mrs. Roger's room. The covers of the booklets are blue and our names cut out of orange paper are pasted on them. In Mrs. Rogers' room those who have good form in writing and good position to get their names on the blackboard.

Geraldine Alder.

In Miss Hatch's room we have a big easel. Next week every morning each boy or girl will get a turn to paint on the easel. We have big paint brushes to use. I shall be glad when my turn comes.

Robert Horseman.

After we have art in Miss Hatch's room she has some new records for the children to hear. Yesterday she played "The Night Song" for our class.

Hazel Forrester.

A boy in the high sixth class brought in a stuffed ruby-throated humming bird for the nature study collection. It is very interesting. It is sitting on a branch that has a little nest and some flowers on it. The bird is red on one side and green on the back.

Maurine Smith.

The McKinley report cards will be out next week, and I know that everybody hopes that his or her report card will be a good one. If you think that you are not going to get a good one, work and it may be better than you expect.

Walter Kinney.

Thursday the high third class had moving pictures in Miss Hasty's room about Japan. In the afternoon we read about the little children in Japan. The girls carry the babies around on their backs.

Jean Linsenbard.

The low fifth class is studying about cotton in Miss Hasty's room. Miss Hasty gave us a piece of cotton which had a seed inside of it. We took the seed out and put it on the desk and then we took some cotton and tried to make it into a thread. Later we had to tell her about where and how cotton grows.

Spurgeon School

Some of the boys of the lower grades have brought some new creatures for nature study. They are fish of different kinds. A queer little sea creature was brought just yesterday. He crawls over his shell to shine it up. His name is cowrie. He has two red feelers. He can hide in his shell.

—Guy Rogers jr.

In art we are making an art book to send across the ocean, for the children to see what we are doing in America.

—Carolyn Davis.

In Mrs. Wolff's room we are making pictures, to send to Guam. So far we have made two pictures. We will make two books of pictures.

—Onie Sanders.

We are all trying very hard in the low six, because the best artists will get to put a picture in the book Mrs. Wolf is making to send to some of the countries in Europe. I hope I will have one of my drawings in.

—Dorothy Ellery.

We are proud of the boys and girls of Spurgeon for they all helped to win the school savings banner. Mr. Fish will present it to us soon.

—Harriette Howell.

Night School Party

Members of the Delhi Night school planned a party for all the adult classes in Delhi and their friends. It was held recently in Fairyland hall where there are ample accommodations for games, motion pictures and dancing.

A large crowd of men, women and children assembled to be joined later in the evening by many from Logan and Franklin Night schools. Music for dancing was furnished by the boys of the Delhi orchestra. To complete an evening which was enjoyed by everyone present, light refreshments were served.

Everyone present was urged to enter the classes of the night school which are held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the Delhi schoolhouse under the direction of the adult education department of the Santa Ana schools, of which Mrs. Golden Norwood is supervisor. Such parties are to be given from time to time, honoring those attending.

Roosevelt School

Children Paint Vases

Miss Wirick's kindergarten groups have been employing their time to good advantage this past week. They have decided they would like to make something which would be useful to mother, so they have undertaken to paint vases. Some of them have turned out very well, and would grace most any living room table.

Will Give Play

The low six grades under the direction of Miss Knudson, are working on a play which they plan to present to their parents and friends Monday evening, November 18, at 7:30 o'clock. The play has been written by the class, an old fairy tale entitled "Saria Maria Castle" giving the central theme for the play. The principal characters are "Hilda," the youngest princess, played by Geraldine Gilbert, "Halvor," the hero, played by Winfred Gallienne; "Troll," Charles Swanner; "Father," Jim Gross; mother played by Barbara Varne, "Princess Yetive," played by Ann Wetherall, and "Princess Yolanda" played by Marian Brannan.

We wish to take this opportunity to invite our friends from other school districts to come and enjoy the performance.

Ball Team Victories

Roosevelt is very proud of her ball team this year. Under the direction of Miss Isabell Lindsay, the team has forged ahead to continuous victories until now the championship banner graces the halls of Roosevelt.

As a further reward for the good work done by the team, Miss Verna Wells, the principal, is to give the team a party. Miss Lindsay as director, Miss Camblin and Miss Grant as score keepers are also to be included in the treat.

Frances Willard

Armistice Day Program

The student assembly last Friday was in the nature of an Armistice day celebration and consisted of a variety of appropriate numbers for this important occasion. Mrs. Arnold Lund was chairman of the program committee, and was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Livenspire, C. D. Chamberlin, and Norman Hicks, all low 8th grade teachers.

The first number was a song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," by the low 8th grade chorus. Madeline Winchell took the solo part most charmingly. Beatrice Granas accompanied. Another number by the group was a three-part song, "The Conqueror," by Wilson-White. Miss Esther Jean Davis directed both numbers. Richard Foster gave a brief talk on "The Meaning of the Armistice," in which he told of the events leading up to the signing of the Armistice and its great significance to the world.

Vivian Westbrook next favored the audience with two delightful piano solos, "The Venetian," by Godard and "Orientale" by Amerie. Songs of the Nations was the next number, given by C. D. Chamberlain's general language class and consisted of two songs, one sung in French and the other in German. Neva Tully first explained the meanings of the songs. A short skit was woven into one in which Ruth Pleis, Lawrence Smith and Dick Key took the parts.

Murray Patton gave an interesting talk on "Aviation Before and After the War," in which he gave a brief resume of the general progression that aviation has made and is making in world development. Dorothy Randall, accompanied by Miss Ruth Langley, rendered a fine whistling solo, "Moon Wings." Elizabeth Garlock told the "Story of Tobby," a famous war dog that enlisted in the army and was rewarded for his loyalty and bravery with 17 valuable medals. He was made a life member of the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross.

A violin solo, "Sicilion and Rigandon," by Kreisler, was beautifully played by Helen Tannenbaum. She was accompanied by her mother For an encore she played "Fair Rosemary," by Kreisler.

Girls' Glee Club Appears

The Willard Girls' Glee club had the honor of accepting an invitation to sing five numbers at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach last Sunday afternoon during their regular Sunday afternoon program from 4 to 5 o'clock. They were directed by Miss Esther Jean Davis, and Miss Ruth Langley accompanied them. The girls wore their regulation blue and white costumes and were highly complimented on their appearance and their splendid contribution to the program.

They sang the following numbers: "Come Join the Dance" by Czibulka; "When Honey Sings" by Carey; "After the Rain," by Pinsuti; "Memories" by Verdi, and "Stars Brightly Shining" by Bronte.

Boys' Chorus Makes Appearance

The Willard Boys' chorus make their first public appearance Thursday evening, November 14, when they will give several numbers at the evening meeting of the Willard P.-T. A. The boys wore regulation uniforms of white trousers and shirts and blue ties, carrying out the school colors.

These boys deserve considerable praise for their splendid work as all their practices have been before school two mornings each week. Miss Esther Jean Davis, teacher of music, will lead the boys in their work Thursday evening.

Welfare Girls Serve Red Cross

At the latest meeting of the Willard Welfare club the girls folded 180,000 Red Cross seals for the envelopes in preparation for their distribution for the Christmas sale. These are sold for the benefit of the Anti - Tuberculosis association. The week before the club girls folded nearly as many as this week. The girls are happy to have the privilege of being of such helpful service to any Santa Ana organization.

NEW YORK STOCKS

BY ELMER C. WALZER
(United Press Financial Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Renewed selling out of weakly margined accounts took place in the initial dealings on the stock exchange today, forcing down prices 1 to 3 points with trading more active and blocks of 5000 to 10,000 shares coming out on the tape.

United States Steel opened 10,000 shares at 157½ off 1, but still up 1⅜ from its low for the year, made an January 8. Transcontinental Oil opened 13,000 shares at 7, off ⅛; Curtiss Wright, 10,000 shares at 9⅝, off ⅝; and Packard 9000 shares at 12½, off ½.

Tickers were running way behind at the close and traders had great difficulty attempting to find the exact quotations on the floor.

The setback came to the market after what had appeared to be a rally. Steel had eased down to within an eighth of a point of its low and then across the ticker came the word "Steel 165½." That was an error but Steel had gone to 163½, up 6 points. Strength came in.

Then came the bear raid and steel shot down.

It went to a new low for the year at 153½. The entire market followed.

Valencia market slightly lower on 288s and smaller—about steady on balance. Lemon market lower account increased offerings.

HELP THE SOLICITORS

The campaign for the Community Chest is on. Representatives are visiting the people for the next three days, and they are giving of their time, as well as their money, to help out in this worthy enterprise. Make their work as happy and cheerful as possible.

When they present the matter to you, give them that cordial welcome that will help them on their way. Whether you are able to contribute or whether you are not, show your interest in the cause and in the causes.

It really is an honor to be visited by them. It shows that they have confidence in you. By visiting you, they are affording you an opportunity to participate in the labor of the social agencies here in the city. If you cannot contribute, express your regret and give them a word of cheer. If you can possibly contribute, do it readily and in as large an amount as possible. The reception which they receive from you will aid them as they visit the next person on their list.

Let us help the solicitors.

THE STABILITY OF THE GERMAN REPUBLIC

Nothing can be more heartening to the supporters of the present government in Germany than the refusal of President von Hindenburg to endorse the proposal of the Nationalists that any cabinet member who makes an international agreement which is based upon the principle of Germany's sole war guilt shall be liable to indictment for high treason.

This was a very subtle attempt on the part of the Nationalists or Monarchists to turn the support of the people away from the present government. President von Hindenburg has been the idol of the Nationalist. But this refusal to endorse the proposal of the extremists puts him on the side of those who believe that the German Republic is here to stay. The extremists of the Left, the Communists, and the extremists of the Right, the Monarchists, have been the most violent opponents of any measure tending to stabilize the present government. The first want a Soviet control. The second look for the return of the Hohenzollerns.

The great mass of the people are behind the present government. When we hear of German insincerity, when we are told that Germany can but will not pay the indemnity assessed upon her, it should be remembered that those who have made international agreements like the Dawes Plan and the Young Plan and the Locarno proposal have always had the people behind them. The German people want to take an honorable place in the family of nations. The act of President von Hindenburg once and for all closes the door to the Hohenzollern return. And as for a bolshevik revolution it is quite as remote as such a revolution is here in the United States.

If you save five cents a day from now until Christmas you still will be broke Jan. 1.

THE SENATORIAL COALITION AND COMMUNISM

Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, made the statement in the Senate that the present coalition of Democrats and Insurgent Republicans are a greater menace to our government and institutions than the communists. This statement has been bitterly resented by the members of the Senatorial coalition. To them it seems like impugning their patriotism and their loyalty to our American institutions.

As a matter of fact, it ought not to be taken seriously at all. There was a time when it was popular to call a man who differed somewhat on matters of religious doctrine from the standards commonly held an infidel. That put the man outside the pale of decency. Tom Paine, Thomas Jefferson, William Ellery Channing were infidels after that fashion. We have since learned that to differ from prevailing religious standards does not make a man an atheist. Now it has become the fashion of certain standpatters to silence a man or to destroy his influence to call him a bolshevik or a communist. When Theodore Roosevelt organized the Progressive Party he was called a socialist, and that was supposed to end it. There are not enough communists in this country to overturn an applecart. Try to find one among all your acquaintances. Which simply means that the members of the coalition are not so dangerous after all measured by the slur of Senator Reed.

THE BELOVED METROPOLIS

According to the dispatches, there are nearly two million Jews living in New York City. Greater New York is an extremely large city. We recall when it used to be said that there were more Jews in New York City than in Jerusalem; more Irish than there were in Belfast; more Germans than there were in Berlin; and we might add more braves as members of the Indian organization called "Tammany," than there were Indians ever living east of the Mississippi river.

But some way or other, if one has ever lived in New York City, he longs to return. It is the great cosmopolitan city of our continent. As Will Rogers says, "Everybody's there except [illegible]."

SOME RESULTS IN THE RECENT ELECTIONS

The elections last week clarified a number of things in the country, and also gave us a few things to think about. In the first place, the election in Virginia clearly indicates that the last national election was simply an extraordinary thing. The complete rout of the opposition to the regular Democratic candidate for governor, composed as it was of those who had followed Bishop Cannon out of the Democratic party to vote for Hoover and the Republicans of Virginia, indicates that Virginia will continue to be a Democratic state, no matter what may happen.

Another overturn, national in its significance, is the Republican overturn in Indiana. Indiana was the most rampant of the states which was controlled by the Ku Klux Klan. For the last six years it has completely dominated the Republican party and the State. The story has been a sad story of corruption, leading to the indictment of many officials and the imprisonment of others for bribery and official malfeasance. Again it has been shown that no party in this country can continue in power by an appeal to religious and racial prejudice. Even honest men tire of it when it is carried to an extreme as it was in Indiana.

In Ohio, an antiquated tax system which was wholly impracticable to meet modern conditions, has at last been voted out by the people after a half dozen or more futile attempts to do so in the past. The system which was adopted when Ohio was purely an agricultural state was impossible to meet the needs of a state which has become 50 per cent industrial. Owners of stocks and bonds in Ohio will now cease to be necessary perjurers. The city of Cleveland elected a colored woman whose parents were born in slavery as a member of the Board of Education. This illustrates the growing political power of the Negro vote in many of the northern cities.

New York City retains Jimmy Walker for mayor. Norman Thomas received a very large vote as a socialist. The Republican candidate, La Guardia, has been a Republican congressman from a district largely composed of foreigners. He has sometimes been classified as a socialist. It is a bit strange to think of Tammany as being the last recourse for the conservative and wealthy voter.

Thus does democracy vindicate itself. Some of these results certainly indicate that there is still a free and untrammeled electorate in this country, and that the glorious victor of yesterday has little reason to believe that his tenure is permanent unless he behaves himself or keeps in close touch with the voters.

Britain Acclaims The American Accord

Pasadena Star-News

"War between us has been banished. Conflict between our military and naval forces cannot take place."

So spoke Premier Ramsay MacDonald in the House of Commons. He solemnly reiterated the joint statement issued by President Hoover and himself to the effect that war between the United States and Great Britain is "unthinkable."

It is significant that Premier MacDonald's first address before the Commons upon his return from his historic visit to the United States was greeted with warm applause from all political parties represented in the House. It is obvious that the memorable peace arrangements with the United States are popular among the English people of all classes and among all shades of political opinion in the British Empire.

Premier MacDonald, in his speech to the Commons, stressed vigorously his desire to make it clear to everybody that the Kellogg peace treaty is a reality in British-American relations. The picturesque Prime Minister emphasized, more than once, that all danger of war between the United States and Great Britain is past.

What marvelous advancement is this in human relations! Nothing like it ever has been known before in the history of the world. Never before, since time began, have two great nations voluntarily, and by common, humane, peace-loving impulse, been moved to come together in friendship candor and good will, and solemnly pledge themselves to stop competing in armament; and to collaborate for a permanent basis of peace and good will and pacific adjustment of all disputes between these powers. It is a spectacle upon which God must smile with approval.

Pacific Relations Are Discussed at Conference

San Bernardino Sun

An event that deserves more attention than it has received so far is the meeting in Kyoto, Japan, of the Institute of Pacific Relations. Delegates began to arrive there October 27. The session will end November 9.

The United States, Great Britain, Canada, Japan, China, Australia and New Zealand have full delegations. Hawaii and the Philippines have subdelegations within the American group. France, Mexico, Soviet Russia, the league of nations and the international labor office have sent observers. There are prominent men and women from all these countries, many of them statesmen and former government officials.

The purpose of the institute is to discuss mutual problems of the nations facing the Pacific ocean, to increase mutual understanding among them and to promote peace. Like the institute of Politics held in Williamstown every summer, the present institute furnishes a clearing house for ideas and an open forum for the presentation of widely different viewpoints. Its work should be of great and lasting value not only to the immediate nations concerned, but to the world at large.

The supervisors of Orange county have received a petition for the enlargement of the Fullerton junior college district to include Brea, Olinda and Anaheim. A hearing on the matter will be held on December 17 and opposition is expected from Anaheim. A county junior college for the entire county would be the ideal arrangement, but the jealousies of the four larger cities—Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange—seem to make that desirable educational step impossible.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE OUTSIDER

I am wholly aloof from financial affairs;
  However the market may turn
The rout of the bulls or defeat of the bears
  Are to me of no vital concern.
I never am long, and I never am short,
  I have nothing to sell or to buy,
And so I can look at a market report
  With never the bat of an eye.

The battles that rage on the maddening exchange
  Mean nothing whatever to me;
I care not a farthing how prices may range
  Or what the quotations may be.
Advances can never bring joy to my heart;
  Depressions can't give me the blues;
I have nothing to win in the stock-broking mart
  And I also have nothing to lose.

You would think that I ought to be calmly content
  To know that in case of a break
In security prices I can't lose a cent,
  But there you would make a mistake.
The reason I'm not in the thick of the fight
  And losing my much needed rest
As I scan the financial news night after night
  Is my lack of the cash to invest.

For though poets may prate of serene peace of mind
  Aloof from all struggle and strife
They merely reveal that they're mentally blind
  And do not know a lot about life.
And if I could afford it, I'd take a long chance,
  Though perhaps I'd be pushed to the wall,
For I'd rather be licked in the game of finance
  Than to have no excitement at all!

When Rivers Rise, Can Jobs Be Far Behind?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

The Lady Tourist, ordering crackers and cheese, asked cautiously, "How's business?"

"Fine," the Grocer said. "We ain't had nothing but good business since the Flood."

"Since the Flood!" she repeated weakly, with a vision of the Ark.

"Yes, ma'am," the Grocer said emphatically. "Act of God, they called it."

No more driving for me with the top down, thought the Lady Tourist, shakily.

"Anyway," the Grocer went on, "we ain't goin' to let prosperity peter out. We got a 'Bigger and Better Floods Bill' before the Legislature now.

"Of course," he went on, "a few lives were lost, and quite a number of homes destroyed. But a feller might as well be drowned as out 'er work, and a lot of houses was about ready to be foreclosed, anyway. Now everybody an' his cousin has a job, and they're puttng up new houses an' buildin' better roads. Yes, ma'am, the Flood certainly made business boom."

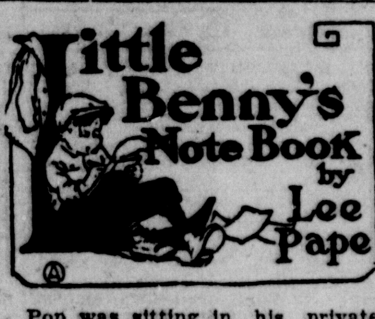
"What flood?" the Lady Tourist asked faintly.

"What flood?" The Grocer's face crinkled into a grin. "The Flood. The Flood we got a song about at Rotary—tune of 'Smiles'—'But the Flood that filled our state with wages—'

"Wake up, ma'm," he said kindly. "You're in Vermont."

"Calvin Coolidge—" began the Lady Tourist.

The Grocer shrugged. "He was a good President. Of course, it kinder got around the way he acted, that it was illegal to spend money in Vermont. But the Flood changed all that. Yes, ma'am, when wages is pourin' in, folks is bound to spend 'em, even in Vermont."



Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

Pop was sitting in his private chair not doing anything and ma sed, Why dont you reed the paper, Willyum, your not even smoking, whats a matter with you?

I feel low, pop sed. Nuthing has been going wrong, exackly, but then to counteract that, nuthing has been going exackly rite. O well, wheres the paper, maybe I can sip a little solace from the sorrows of others, he sed.

And he started to look at the paper, saying, Hello, whats this news that greets my weary eyes? And he red it out loud, saying, The days of the clamorous rivetter seem to be numbered, and noiseless steel welding, with the aid of hydrogen blowpipes, will soon pour oil on the troubled construction werk, according to a speech delivered yestidday before the Engineers Club by Professor Aleck Smitters. Well, thats the best news so far this year, and now I know exackly what was wrong with me. Their putting up a 15 story bilding cross from my office and the rivetters have been at it for 3 weeks now and the accumulated racket was just starting to give me the canned willies. But this little news item has made a new man of me, and tomorrow Ill have my revenge, he sed.

Why, my goodness, what are you going to do? You cant do anything to rivetters, ma sed, and pop sed, O cant I? Tomorrow at their luntch hour when their all huddled together like a buntch of cowards behind their sandwitches Im going rite up to them and Im going to say, So, you mizzerble incarnated infernal machines, your time has come. So, you smochy faced bangers and pounders, your hour has struck. So, you unspeekable slammers, a little hydrogen blowpipe is going to shoot you off the face of the map where youve always belonged. So, good, Im going to say, pop sed.

Now Willyum, those men are ony doing their duty and if they had a hydrogen thing I know they'd ony be too glad to use it, now dont you go and do anything foolish, ma sed, and pop sed, Well, perhaps your rite, they are just creetures of circumstances like the rest of us, I sippose. I may not say anything, he sed.

Wich he proberly wouldent of anyways.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

NOVEMBER 12, 1915

At the annual meeting of the McPherson Heights Citrus association, it was announced that L. D. Palmer, who spoke, would succeed D. Eyman Huff as manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange.

The most revered relic in the United States, the historic Liberty Bell, which was to stop in Santa Ana on its trip from Los Angeles to San Dielo, failed to do so.

Insurance rates for dwellings and contents within the city limits of Santa Ana were reduced.

Ten sacks of beans were stolen from William O'Brien's barn on Fairview avenue.

Mrs. A. M. Roberts, widow of Dr. A. M. Roberts, pioneer moving picture man of Santa Ana, was in this city on business.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

"I COME HERE TO HOLLER!"

Wheeler McMillen, in his incomparably intelligent book on the basic and baffling farm problem, "Too Many Farmers," tells two stories that point provocative and profound morals.

The scene of the first story was a political meeting in North Caroline. The ever vigorous Cole Blease had spoken.

"What did you think of Coley Blease's speech?" a fellow listener asked a farmer.

"Think? Hell, I didn't come here to think. I come here to holler!"

The second story tells of a North Carolina planter's reactions to what he saw in New York and how he applied what he saw to his business.

The planter went to New York to find out for himself whether he should hold or sel his large stock of tobacco.

He saw wharf after wharf laden with tobacco.

He saw still further cargoes of tobacco unloaded from ships.

"I've seen enough tobacco right here," he said, "to run the world for three years, and more shipped in by the carload."

He prepared to take the midnight train for home and to sell his entire stock. But he had some time to spend before midnight. He visited Broadway in the meantime. He found himself caught in the welter of humanity that swarms about Times Square in the rush of the theater hour. For blocks and blocks on Broadway, Forty-second street, and Seventh avenue, he saw a solid sea of humanity.

"I'm going to hold my tobacco," he said to his companion. "Why, there are enough people right here to use up all I saw today before tomorrow night."

I retell these two stories because they cut to the root of the problem of maintaining an intelligent civilization.

As society grows more complicated and technical, it becomes increasingly necessary that we bring reason rather than emotion to the determination of our affairs.

And yet we "come to holler" more often than we come to think when critical issues of politics, religion, or education are to the fore.

And as society grows more complicated and technical, it becomes imperative that we base our opinions and actions upon a full and fair statement of all the facts involved.

And yet, how often do we decide important issues upon the basis of a narrow and personal observation, no more adequate than the planter's hurried glance at a crowded wharf and a crowded street!

OUR CHILDREN

SEEING IS BELIEVING

Did you ever notice that children can be surrounded by lovely things and not see them? They are not blind, of course. They see the world about them with the physical eye but until the seeing has been translated into vision by an inner power they alone can wield, they do not see.

Now what one sees one believes. There is no doubt about that. Nor is there any doubt that we believe much that is not true because we have not seen truly. Children's eyes have to be trained to see. It is not enough that a flower grows at his feet. He must see that flower. You will have to stoop and point out the form, the color, the beauty of its growth, sniff its perfumed breath before the child can see it.

It is necessary to take the little children by the hand and show them the world. Take the child in your care to visit the animals and make certain he knows them by name and characteristic. Show him the stars and speak of their glory and mystery. Point out the rare colors of the sunset, the dawn, the fall woodlands, the water in sun and shadow. What he sees he believes and you would have him believe beauty for it is truth.

The inner self of a child must have food. The physical eye gathers beauty and form and feeling for the inner eye to recreate and store for the next days' living. It is not possible for anyone, child or adult, to live happily on what the physical eye can see. There are many hours in the day when the soul retreats to its inner fastness and searches for food that sustains and supports. If the cupboard is bare the man perishes in failure and despair. What a man sees he believes and if he see nothing? If no sercet store awaits his need?

After the first early years when a child reads the world about him aided by your trained vision he turns to books to gather there what others have seen and believed before him. Again you must stand by and point out the beauty. Read bits of fine prose and poetry and say a brief word that indicates where the bright place shines. Teach him why this world is so lovely and that one so cheap. Read poetry to him so his soul steps to the music of the spirit of beauty. Do not fear to sing it if it sings itself. Do not be timid about thundering it if there is the voice of the gods within it. Read him the great writing, the beautiful songs, for seeing is believing and a loving voice opens wide the ears and the eyes of the sleeping soul.

By the same token omit all that is unlovely. If it must come explain it. Tell the child it is ugly and why it is so far it is as necessary to believe against ugliness as it is to believe in truth and beauty. Usually beauty is so positive that it crowds out the ugliness and leaves it no space. Dwell on truth and beauty.

Teach a child to see with his inner eye for what he truly sees that he believes. And what a man believes, that he is.
